Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY in the matter of the enrollment of WILLARD E. HUTCHINS as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation:

Case continued from March 6 to March 22, 1902, by agreement between the representative of the Cherokee Nation and attorney for the applicant.

Mr. J. M. LaHay, Attorney for Applicant present;
Mr. W. W. Hastings, Cherokee Representative, present.

N. J. CRAWFORD, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of applicant:

MR. LAHAY:

Q State your name? A N. J. Crawford.

Q Where do you live, Mr. Crawford? A Siloam Springs, State of Arkansas.

Q Where did you live during the year 1891? A I was in the Cherokee Nation; I think at the Orphan Institute at that date.

Q Are you acquainted with one W. E. Hutchins, the applicant in this case? A Yes, sir; I have had a slight acquaintance with Mr.
Hutchins for several years.

Q What is your business or profession, what was it in 1891?

A I was at that time a Missionary Agent in the Cherokee Nation.

Q As such you had right to perform solemnize the rites of marriage?

A Yes, sir.

Q I wish you would state whether or not you solemnized the rites of marriage between Mr. Hutchins here and his wife, Nellie Smith?

A Miss Nellie Smith boarded at my house and I have a very distinct recollection of the girl and I am quite sure that I performed her marriage ceremony with a gentleman by the name of Hutchins; I am not sure about the initials, I take this gentleman to be the man.

Q Do you know where that ceremony was performed? A Yes, sir, it was performed in the town of Claremore.

Q Do you remember at the time that he presented himself for marriage anything in regard to his license of marriage? A I want to state to the Court, I have had a good deal of head trouble and my recollection reaching back is very defective; I could call up my none of the circumstances attending the marriage until I met Mr.
Hutchins but I now think I remember very definitely, think that I met him on the road and that he told me his business and I think in some way I don't remember just how I called in question the legality of the proceeding and I think that I remember very definitely that he then and there made an exhibit of a license from the State of Arkansas together with a license from the Cherokee Nation and I told him previously he must have before I would perform the ceremony. I know I was hesitating about turning back and I remember definitely that he presented papers, I don't remember that I handled the papers, but in some way he convinced me it was the proper papers because I was then and there forced to go back and marry him.

MR. HASTINGS:

Q You don't know by whom any of these papers were signed?

A No, sir.

Q You had forgotten the circumstances until he recalled it?

A Yes, but I am quite sure that I can remember. I do not remember the time of day or the day of the month, I don't remember thing about that, but in all my years among the Cherokee people I used every precaution to be positive and not perform a marriage ceremony illegally.

Q That is not a question whether it was legal or illegal, he could have been married according to the laws of the United States.

A My meaning is both according to the Cherokee ~~law~~ laws and United States law; my understanding was he had to marry under a license of the Cherokee law. If I had married anyone under the United States law I don't remember it.

Q You don't remember about the United States license? A No, sir; until I was asked about it, if I ~~was~~ certified to I don't remember it.

Q You certified to quite a number? A Yes; and if I ever failed to certify to one I don't know it.

Commission: The attorney for the applicant and representative of the Cherokee Nation present submit the case. The same is deemed completed and will be reported to the Commission for final decision based upon the evidence now of record.

---ooo000ooo---

I, J. O. Rossen, do hereby certify upon my official oath as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes that I correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings had this day in the above case, and that the ~~above~~ foregoing is a true and complete transcript of my stenographic notes thereof.

DEPARTMENT OF THE COMMISSIONER,

Muskogee, Indian Territory, June 30, 1902.

I, the undersigned, a stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, do hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a true and correct copy of the original entered in evidence in the matter of the application of Willard E. Hutchins. D 662.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application of Willard E. Hutchins for enrollment as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

D E C I S I O N .

The record in this case shows that on October 22, 1900, Willard E. Hutchins appeared before the Commission at Claremore, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment of himself, among others, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. The other parties to the application are differently classified, and are not embraced in this decision. Further proceedings were had in the matter of said application at Claremore, Indian Territory, on November 12, 1900, and at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on March 22, 1902, and again on October 1, 1902.

The evidence shows that Willard E. Hutchins was married, under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation, in 1891, to Nettie Smith, a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation. His marriage license and certificate appear to be lost, and there does not appear to be any public record of such marriage, but the fact of his marriage under Cherokee laws is satisfactorily established by the evidence in the case. The said Willard E. Hutchins is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

The evidence further shows that the said Willard E. Hutchins has lived with his wife in the Cherokee Nation continuously from the date of his marriage to her, up to and including September 1, 1902.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Willard E. Hutchins should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress, approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Fort Gibson, I.T., August 30, 1900.

In the matter of the application of George Waters Cleland for the enrollment of himself as a Cherokee by blood and his wife as a Cherokee by intermarriage; being sworn and examined by Commissioner Breckenridge, he testified as follows:

- Q What is your full name? A George Waters Cleland.

Q Who is it you want to have enrolled? A I want to enroll myself.
Q And others of your family? A My wife, the balance of my family are all of age, they are here.
Q You apply for yourself as a Cherokee by blood? A Yes, sir.
Q You apply for your wife as a Cherokee by blood? A No, sir, by adoption.
Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A I have been here 13 years.
Q How long have you lived in Coowescoowee.
A Lived there all that length of time.
Q Were you admitted to citizenship by the Cherokee Commission or Council? A By the Cherokee Council on.
Q Have you a certificate? A I think I have the papers here.
(Applicant presents a certificate of admission to Cherokee citizenship signed by J. T. Adair, Chairman of the Commission, attested by Henry Riffert, Clerk of the Commission, and approved and endorsed by D. W. Bushyhead, Principal Chief of the Nation, and under the great seal of the Nation, showing that on the 15th day of April, 1887, certain persons were admitted to citizenship and among them appears the name of George W. Cleland, age at the time 55 years.) Is that your name, Mr. Cleland? A Yes, sir.

The applicant applies for the admission of himself and his wife, for himself as a Cherokee by blood, and for his wife as a Cherokee by adoption. He is shown by the certificate of admission cited in the testimony to have been admitted to Cherokee citizenship by the Cherokee Commission on citizenship April 15, 1887. He has lived in the Cherokee Nation from that time until now, and he is identified on the roll of 1896 as a native Cherokee. He will now be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee by blood. His wife was married to him before his admission to Cherokee citizenship, they have never been remarried in accordance with Cherokee law. She wasn't admitted by act of Council at the time he was, or at any other time. She is identified on the roll of 1896 as a Cherokee by adoption and as his wife. This gives the Commission jurisdiction over her case. In order to further consider the question whether his wife is entitled to enrollment under the circumstances stated, the application for her will be placed upon a doubtful card. The decision of the Commission when reached will be communicated to the applicant at his post office address, and it will be forwarded to the Secretary of the Interior for his final approval.

Bruce G. Jones, being duly sworn, says that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings and testimony in the above case, and the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Mary W. Cleland as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

|| || || || || || || ||

DECISION.

--101--

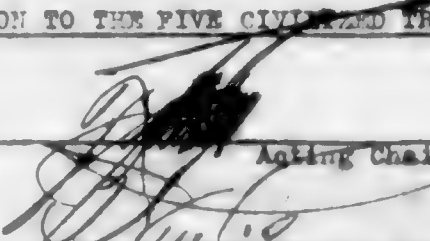

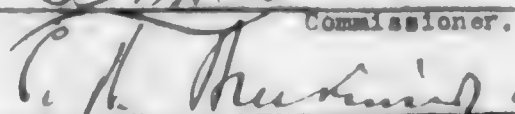

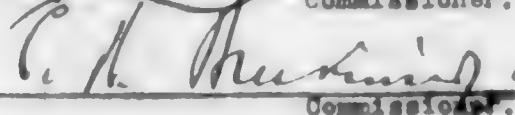

The record in this case shows that on August 30, 1900, George Waters Cleland appeared before the Commission at Fort Gibson, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment of his wife, Mary W. Cleland, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings were had in the matter of said application at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on February 21, 1902, and again on October 8, 1902. The application also included George Waters Cleland, but as he is differently classified, he is not embraced in this decision.

The evidence shows that the said Mary W. Cleland was lawfully married on November 16, 1854, to one Doctor George Cleland, who was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation on April 15, 1887. The Cherokee Supreme Court, in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson, held that a white woman, married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship, acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. The said Mary W. Cleland is identified on the Cherokee Census Roll of 1896.

The evidence further shows that the said Mary W. Cleland has lived with her said husband in the Cherokee Nation continuously since 1887, up to and including September 1, 1902.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Mary W. Cleland should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSIONER TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.
Muskogee, I. T., January 7, 1907.

In the matter of the application of Mary W. Cleland as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

Mary W. Cleland, being first duly sworn by Frances R. Lane, a Notary Public for the Western District of Indian Territory, testified as follows:

By the Commissioner:

Q What is your name? A Mary W. Cleland.

Q How old are you? A Seventy-four.

Q Your postoffice address? A Wagoner, I. T.

Q Do you claim citizenship in the Cherokee nation by intermarriage? A I do.

Q Through whom do you claim such citizenship? A Through my husband, George W. Cleland.

Q When were you married to George W. Cleland? A In 1854.

Q Have you any documentary evidence of that marriage?

A I come down here 3 or 4 years ago and brought an affidavit from the only surviving witness of my marriage, and also a letter from the clerk of the court. The clerk of the court that they had at that time was dead, and this clerk wrote that the register of the marriage was destroyed during the war. The church was taken for a Federal hospital and the records were burned. This affidavit must be on record here somewhere.

Q Where were you married? A Marietta, Georgia.

Q Was that marriage under the laws of the state of Georgia?

A It was a legal marriage. I was married by an Episcopal minister, and a license was taken from the clerk of the court.

Q That license is not in your possession at this time?

A It was not; nobody was married at that time under a license. The marriage was registered in the church and the records were destroyed.

Q When did you remove to the Cherokee nation? A I think we came here in 1888. I am not quite positive. I have been here 19 years next May.

Q Upon your removal to the Cherokee nation did you remarry in accordance with the Cherokee laws? A No sir, it was not demanded at all. If it had been I should have remarried.

Q At this time you have no documentary evidence? No papers whatever covering your marriage in Georgia? A I have not, but I think they ought to be here.

Q What I mean is the certificate issued by the minister?

Q How could I have when the certificate was destroyed at the church, and the church was afterwards burned. The records were all destroyed. We sent on and got evidence of the only witness living of our marriage.

Q At this time there are no living witnesses at all?

A There is only one and that is my brother who is living near me and is blind. It is 3 or 4 years since I came down here and gave in this evidence, and I thought it was in the hands of the officials here.

Q Is your husband living at this time? A Yes, he is living. He can come down here if necessary, but he is in very feeble health.

Q. Have you and your husband resided continuously in the Cherokee nation since you came here in 1888? A. Yes, we always have. He came on in 1887 and I followed him in a few months afterwards as soon as he was located.

Q. Were you ever married prior to your marriage to him?

A. No sir.

Q. Was Mr. Claland ever married prior to the time he married you? A. Never was.

The applicant, Mary V. Claland, is identified on Cherokee Field Card No. 10027, and on the 1896 roll, Coowescoowee District, opposite No. 184.

Frances R. Lane upon oath states that as stenographer to the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes she reported the testimony in the above entitled cause and that the foregoing is an accurate transcript of her stenographic notes thereof.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSIONER TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Mary W. Cleland as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

D E C I S I O N

THE RECORDS OF THIS OFFICE SHOW: That at Fort Gibson, Indian Territory, August 30, 1900, application was received by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, for the enrollment of Mary W. Cleland as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Muskogee, Indian Territory, October 8, 1902, and January 7, 1907. The records further show that on December 10, 1902, the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes rendered its decision herein, granting the application for the enrollment of said Mary W. Cleland as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

THE EVIDENCE IN THIS CASE SHOWS: That the applicant herein, Mary W. Cleland, is a white woman, and neither claims nor possesses any right to enrollment as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation other than such right as she may have acquired by virtue of her marriage, in the state of Georgia, in the year 1854, to George W. Cleland, a Cherokee by blood; that the said George W. Cleland was not, at the time of said marriage, a recognized citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and did not become such until his admission to citizenship therein by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation April 15, 1887. Said applicant did not, therefore, marry a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation prior to November 1, 1875. Neither the said Mary W. Cleland nor her husband, George W. Cleland, can be identified on the Cherokee authenticated tribal roll of 1880.

IT IS, THEREFORE, ORDERED AND ADJUDGED: That the decision of the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes rendered December 10, 1902, granting the application for the enrollment of Mary W. Cleland as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, be rescinded, set aside and held for naught, and that in accordance with the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, dated November 8, 1906, in the cases of Daniel Red Bird, et al., vs. the United States, Nos. 125, 126, 127 and 128, the said applicant, Mary W. Cleland, is not entitled, under the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 25, 1906 (34 Stat. 495), to enrollment as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, and her application for enrollment as such is accordingly denied.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
OFFICE OF INDIAN AFFAIRS,
WASHINGTON. February 23, 1907.

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

I have the honor to transmit herewith a communication from the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes, dated February 4, 1907, enclosing the record in the matter of the application for the enrollment of Mary W. Cleland as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, including the decision of the Commissioner, dated February 4, 1907, denying the application.

The record shows that application was duly made to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes on August 30, 1900, for the enrollment of the applicant as an intermarried citizen of the Cherokee Nation. The record further shows that she was married to one George Cleland in Marietta, Georgia, under the laws of that state, November 16, 1854. On the showing made she was duly enrolled by the Commission in a decision rendered December 10, 1902. She is a white woman and neither claims or possesses any right to enrollment other than such as she acquired by reason of her marriage to George Cleland in Georgia. He was a Cherokee by blood but was not at that time a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation and did not become such until he was admitted to citizenship by the Adair Commission April 15, 1867. She did not therefore marry a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation prior to November 1, 1878.

The Office is of the opinion that under the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of Daniel Red Bird et al. vs. the United States, the decision of the Commissioner in rescinding, setting aside and holding for naught the decision of the Commission, dated December 10, 1902, and denying the application for the enrollment of Mary W. Cleland as an intermarried citizen of the Cherokee Nation, is correct and it is recommended that it be affirmed.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Mattie A. Davis as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

|| || || || || || || || ||

DECISION.

---o:--

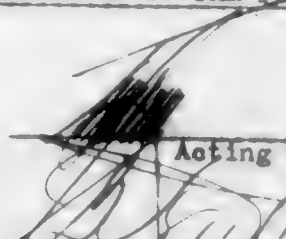

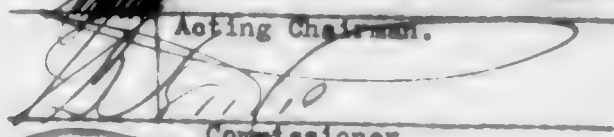

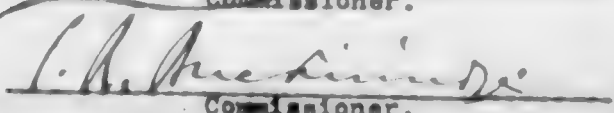

The record in this case shows that on September 25, 1900, Joseph W. Davis appeared before the Commission at Vinita, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment, among others, of his wife, Mattie A. Davis, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings were had in the matter of said application at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on October 8, 1902. The other parties to the application are differently classified, and are not embraced in this decision.

The evidence shows that the said Mattie A. Davis was lawfully married on July 23, 1871, to Joseph W. Davis, who was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation on December 16, 1887, as shown by an examination of the records of the Cherokee Nation in possession of the Commission. The Cherokee Supreme Court, in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson, held that a white woman, married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship, acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. The said Mattie A. Davis is identified on the Cherokee Census Roll of 1896 as the wife of the said Joseph W. Davis.

The evidence further shows that the said Mattie A. Davis has lived with her husband in the Cherokee Nation since 1892 continuously, up to and including September 1, 1902.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Mattie A. Davis should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSIONER TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Mattie A. Davis as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

D E C I S I O N

THE RECORDS OF THIS OFFICE SHOW: That at Vinita, Indian Territory, September 25, 1900, application was received by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, for the enrollment of Mattie A. Davis, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Muskogee, Indian Territory, October 8, 1902, and January 2, 1907. The records further show that on December 10, 1902, the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes rendered its decision herein, granting said applicant the right to enrollment as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

THE EVIDENCE IN THIS CASE SHOWS: That the applicant herein, Mattie A. Davis, is a white woman, and neither claims nor possesses any right to enrollment as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation other than such right as she may have acquired by virtue of her marriage to one Joseph W. Davis, in the year 1871; that the said Joseph W. Davis was not a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation at the time of said marriage, and did not become a citizen of said Nation until his admission to citizenship therein by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, in the year 1887. Said applicant did not, therefore, marry a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation prior to November 1, 1875. Said applicant can not be identified on the Cherokee authenticated tribal roll of 1880.

IT IS, THEREFORE, ORDERED AND ADJUDGED: That the decision rendered by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, December 10, 1902, granting the application for the enrollment of Mattie A. Davis as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, be rescinded, set aside and held for naught; and that in accordance with the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, dated November 5, 1906, in the cases of Daniel Red Bird, et al. vs. the United States, Nos. 125, 126, 127 and 128, the said applicant, Mattie A. Davis, is not entitled under the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stat. 496), to enrollment as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, and her application for enrollment as such is accordingly denied.

November 6, 1906, the United States Supreme Court held that white persons who intermarried with Cherokee citizens according to Cherokee law prior to November 1, 1875, are entitled to enrollment and allotments of land as citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

You are, therefore, directed to appear before the Commissioner at Muskogee, Indian Territory, at 9 o'clock A. M., on Wednesday, January 2, 1907, and give testimony as above indicated.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
OFFICE OF INDIAN AFFAIRS,
WASHINGTON.

February 21, 1907.

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

The record herein shows that application was made to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes August 20, 1900, for the enrollment of Margaret R. Mulkey as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, and on October 27, 1902, the Commission rendered its decision granting the application. The evidence is that the applicant is a white woman and was married to William R. Mulkey in the State of Texas, October 26, 1859, under a license issued by the authorities of that state. Mulkey was born in the State of Tennessee, resided in the Cherokee Nation for some years and then went to the State of Texas where he was residing when he was married to the applicant. They returned to the Cherokee Nation and Mr. Mulkey was admitted to citizenship by the Adair Commission on Citizenship, March 20, 1887. She did not therefore marry a citizen of the Cherokee Nation prior to November 1, 1875. Neither her name or that of her husband is found on the tribal roll of 1880. The Office is of the opinion that the decision of the Commissioner rescinding, setting aside and holding for naught the decision of the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes of October 27, 1902, and denying the application of Margaret R. Mulkey for enrollment as an intermarried citizen of the Cherokee Nation is correct under the decision of the United States Supreme Court in the case of Daniel Red Bird et al vs. the United States, and it is recommended that it be affirmed.

Very respectfully,

C. F. Larrabee,

Acting Commissioner.

Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskogee, Indian Territory.

Sir:

On February 21, 1907 (Land 13129, 13130, 13133), the Indian Office transmitted your reports dated February 4 and 5, 1907, inclosing the records in the matter of the application for enrollment as citizens by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation of

Mattie A. Davis,
Margaret R. Mulkey,
Susan J. Wickett.

In these cases you rendered decisions reversing the decisions of the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes dated, respectively, October 27, 1902, November 20, 1902, and December 10, 1902, and denying the applications for the enrollment of these persons, in view of the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of Daniel Red Bird et al. vs. the United States.

The Indian Office recommends that your decisions in these cases be approved. Copies of its letters are inclosed.

The Department considers your decisions correct, and they are hereby affirmed.

It does not appear that the applicants in the above decisions were placed upon a roll of citizens of the Cherokee Nation under the decision of the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes dated November 20, 1902, and it being presumed that such action has not been taken, no authority will be granted for the cancellation of said names from the rolls. However, if said persons have been duly placed upon the rolls the matter should be brought promptly to the attention of the Department.

The papers in the case and a carbon copy hereof have been sent to the Indian Office.

Respectfully,

Muskogee, I. T., March 13, 1902.

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY AND PROCEEDINGS in the matter of the application of Willis Davis for the enrollment of himself as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation.

The applicant was notified by registered letter February 25, 1902, that his application for the enrollment of himself as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation would be taken up for final consideration by the Commission at its offices in Muskogee, I. T., on the 13th day of March, 1902. The applicant this day, to-wit: the 13th day of March, 1902, appears in person.

The Cherokee Nation, by its representative, makes satisfactory proof of service on the said Willis Davis, that it would, by its representative, on the 13th day of March, 1902, at the offices of the Commission, in Muskogee, I. T., introduce testimony tending to disprove the right of the said Willis Davis to be enrolled as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation.

WILLIS DAVIS, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:

BY COMMISSION OF MR. DAVIS: What is your name? A. Willis Davis.
Q. How old are you? A. I was fifty years old on the 25th day of this past December.
Q. You are an applicant before the Commission for enrollment as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A. Yes sir.

The following document was filed with the Commission under the provision of Act of Congress approved June 10, 1896, by Willis Davis, applicant in this case:

Application for Citizenship.

To the Honorable Daves Commission,
Vinita, Indian Territory.

The undersigned, Willis Davis, your petitioner, makes this his application for admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory, as a Cherokee Indian by blood, in accordance with all the treaties, constitutions and laws of the Cherokee Nation and precedents established and of record, and respectfully submits the following statement of facts for the ground of his claim, to-wit:

That he is the son of one Minerva Davis and the grand-son of one Samuel Martin, who, your petitioner firmly believes, was a Cherokee Indian by blood and duly acknowledged member of the Cherokee Tribe of Indians, and from whom he derives his Cherokee blood entitling him to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory; that the name of the said ancestor should be found to appear on the census rolls taken and made of the Cherokees East of the Mississippi River in the year 1835. And your petitioner respectfully awaits the time his application for admission, together with the proof in support thereof, shall be truly heard and passed upon.

That the age of your petitioner is forty-seven years, and that his post office address is Braggs, I. T.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand at Tahlequah, I. T., this 3rd day of September, A. D. 1896.

Willis Davis.

Subscribed and sworn to before me at Tahlequah, I. T. this 3rd day of September, A. D. 1896.

My commission expires January 16, 1899. M. D. Gheraley,
Notary Public, Northern District
I. T.

(REAL)

It appears from the record of the Commission, made in accordance with the Act of Congress approved June 10, 1896, Docket A, page 453, Cherokee number 2786, that Allisen Davis and others filed an application for admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation under the provisions of the said Act, on the 5th day of September, 1896; that the answer of the Cherokee Nation was filed thereon and the application denied by the Commission at Vinita, Indian Territory, on the 9th day of November, 1896. The record in this case fails to show that any appeal was taken by the applicant from the decision rendered by the Commission.

BY COMMISSION: Do you desire to make any further statement relative to your application? A. No sir.

Q. You submit the case to the Commission for final decision?
A. Yes sir.

The applicant and the representative of the Cherokee Nation present submit the case and same is deemed completed and will be reported to the Commission for final decision based upon the evidence now of record.

I, Wm. Hutchinson, do hereby certify that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, I correctly recorded the proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of the stenographic notes thereof.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Willis Davis as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION.

The record in this case shows that on December 10, 1900, Willis Davis appeared before the Commission at Tahlequah, Indian Territory, and made personal application for enrollment as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on March 13, 1902, and on October 6, 1902.

The applicant states that he was married about the year 1878, to Lucy Pettit, a Cherokee citizen by blood; that they lived together about six or seven years, when they separated; and that he procured a divorce from her on the grounds of adultery. The applicant is identified on the 1890 Authenticated Tribal Roll of the Cherokee Nation, and on the Cherokee Census Roll of 1896. The evidence shows that the applicant has lived with one Polly Davis for about nine years next before the date of the application herein; that he has never been married to the said Polly Davis, and he states that she is a Cherokee citizen by blood. The said Polly Davis is identified on the 1896 Census Roll of the Cherokee Nation, as a Cherokee by blood.

The evidence further shows that the applicant has resided continuously in the Cherokee Nation forty-six years next before the application herein, and has not remarried since his divorce from his wife, Lucy, up to and including September 1, 1902.

From the records of the Commission it appears that the applicant, Willis Davis, filed his original petition, under the Act of Congress, June 10, 1896, (29 Stats., 321) with the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, for admission as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation, which was denied by the Commission and no appeal taken therefrom.

It is the opinion of this Commission that the applicant's right to enrollment as an intermarried Cherokee is not prejudiced by the denial of his application for admission as a citizen by blood, under the provisions of the said Act of June 10, 1896, (29 Stats., 321), and that the said Willis Davis should, therefore, be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED AND ADJUDGED That in accordance with the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, dated November 9, 1906, in the cases of Daniel Red Bird et al. vs. the United States, Nos. 125, 126, 127 and 128, said applicants are not entitled, under the provisions of Section 21 of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), to enrollment as citizens by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, and their applications for enrollment as such are accordingly denied.

Sirs:

On January 19, 1907, the Office transmitted the decision of the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes relative to applications for the enrollment of Frank Howard, et al, as citizens by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. The decision includes the applications of seventy-two persons found by the Commissioner to be not entitled to enrollment under the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of Daniel Red Bird, et al, against the United States.

It appears from the record in the case that the names of all of the applicants are found on the authenticated 1880 roll of citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and the Office in transmitting the record did not consider this phase of the case. On January 31, the Department was requested to return the record in the case for further consideration by the Office. It was returned with Department letter of February 8, 1907, L.T.D. 1390.

With reference to the names of these applicants being on the 1880 roll Mr. Dixby says:

THE RECORDS FURTHER SHOW: That the names of said persons appear upon the Cherokee authenticated roll of 1880; that they possess no right to enrollment as citizens of the Cherokee Nation other than by intermarriage and that no one of said persons claims to have been married to a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation prior to November 1, 1878.

As the applicants were not married to citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation in accordance with the laws, usages and customs of the tribes prior to November 1, 1878, they are not entitled to enrollment, unless it be by virtue of their names being on the 1880 roll. By the provisions of Section 21 of the Act of June 28, 1898 (30 Stat.L., 495), the roll of Cherokee citizens of 1880, not including freedmen, is confirmed, and the Commission is directed to enroll all persons whose names are found on that roll and their descendants born since the date of the roll. It is then provided that other rolls shall be examined and that the names of all persons found on the other rolls not placed thereon by fraud or without authority of law shall be enrolled.

The only question in the case seems to be whether a confirmation of this roll by Congress entitles a person whose name appears on said roll to enrollment as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation who would not otherwise be entitled to such enrollment.

The Supreme Court in the case of Hefire vs. the United States (144 U. S., 457), said:

(Syllabus)

The fact that a marriage license has been issued carries with it a presumption that all statutory prerequisites thereto have been complied with, and one who claims to the contrary must affirmatively show the fact.

The evidence shows that the deceased sought, in his lifetime, to become a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, took all the steps he supposed necessary therefor, considered himself a citizen, and that the Cherokee Nation in his life-time recognized him as a citizen and still asserts his citizenship. Held, that, under those circumstances, it must be adjudged that he was a citizen by adoption, and consequently that the jurisdiction over the offence charged is, by the laws of the United States and treaties with the Cherokee Nation, vested in the courts of that Nation.

In the case of Daniel Red Bird, et al, vs. the United States the Supreme Court said:

The roll of 1880, made by the Cherokees, was a census roll, and its confirmation was not intended to create any rights which citizens of the Cherokee Nation had not before enjoyed, but merely to furnish the basis for making up the roll of citizens. Section 21 was in reality a statement that no previous act of Congress was intended to confirm any other roll of the Cherokee Nation.

Section 31 of the Act of July 1, 1902, says that no person whose name does not appear on the roll made by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes "shall be entitled to in any manner participate in the distribution of the common property of the Cherokee tribe, and those whose names appear thereon shall participate in the manner set forth in this act." In other words, the roll must be made up of citizens who under laws of the Cherokee Nation were entitled to participation in the distribution of the common property of the Cherokee tribes.

The concluding words of section 21, "with such intermarried white persons as may be entitled to citizenship under Cherokee laws," emphatically indicate that Congress had the Indian citizen in mind in all that went before and limited enrollment of white persons to such as might be entitled to citizenship under Cherokee laws.

From the foregoing quotations it is evident that the Supreme Court makes a distinction between citizens having political rights only and those having all rights, including the right to share in the distribution of the land and other property of the Cherokee nation. This being true, it is evident that Congress did not intend that any person should be given the right to share in the property of the Cherokee Nation simply because his name was on some roll of that nation that had been confirmed by Congressional action unless it is there as a full citizen and not as a citizen with political rights only.

The Office is of the opinion that the persons whose names appear in the record enclosed are not entitled to enrollment as citizens by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, and the approval of the Commissioner's adverse decision is recommended.

Very respectfully,

C. F. Larrabee,
Acting Commissioner.

Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes,

Sir:

On February 14, 1907 (Land 12493), the Indian Office transmitted your report dated January 10, 1907, in the matter of the applications for the enrollment of Frank Howard and seventy-two others as citizens by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, together with your decision, adverse to said applicants.

The Indian Office concurs in your recommendation. A copy of its letter is inclosed.

It appears that the names of said persons appear upon the Cherokee authenticated roll of 1850 and that they possess no right to enrollment as citizens of the Cherokee Nation other than by intermarriage, and that no one of said persons claims to have been married to a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation prior to November 1, 1875.

In view of the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States dated November 5, 1906 in the case of Racial Red Bird et al. vs. the United States, it is considered that your deci-

Talbert, nee Crittenton, on the 16th day of February 1888, but produces no satisfactory proof as to his marriage; he states that the license which was issued to him authorizing his marriage has been destroyed, and that he is unable to secure a certified copy thereof. Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Tahlequah, I T., December 14, 1900.

In the matter of the application of Jesse Talbert for enrollment as a Cherokee citizen; being sworn and examined by Commissioner Breckinridge he testified as follows:

- Q What is your name? A Jesse Talbert.
Q You made application here once before for enrollment? A Yes sir, at Claremore.
Q What is the name of your wife? A Mary A. Crittenden was her name.
Q Were you ever married before you married her? A No sir.
Q Was she ever married before she married you? A No sir.
Q When was it you say you married her? A 1888.

HEAD BECK, being sworn and examined by Commissioner Breckinridge testified as follows:

- Q Give your name again there? A Head Beck.
Q How old are you? A 67.
Q Your post-office? A Kansas.
Q You have lived in the Cherokee Nation all your life I believe you stated? A Yes sir.
Q You used to be deputy clerk of Goingsnake district? A Yes sir.
Q Did you ever issue a marriage license to Mr. Talbert here?
A I did.
Q Did that license have anything to do with a big flood you ever had once down there about your house? A I don't think they did.
Q Was it ever destroyed in that flood? A I don't think they was, as well as I remember now; I don't want to testify to something that I ain't positive of.
Q You remember issuing him a license according to Cherokee law?
A Yes sir.
Q Did he have the necessary signers? A Yes sir, he complied with the requirements of the law.
Q And paid the fee required by law? A Yes sir.
Q Did you make a report of that to the Chief Clerk? A Yes sir.
Q You don't know about that license ever being destroyed, or anything of that sort, in your possession? A They wasn't destroyed; well now, there is a kind of catch there; after his license was issued I done my duty according to the requirements of the law, and after that he come to me and told me that he would rather have ten dollars than to have his license, and I paid him my individual money, not the money of the clerk if the clerk done his duty; I paid him 10 dollars of my individual money, and I don't remember whether he give me back the license or what become of them, I couldn't say positive; but as for Mr. Talbert's fix in regard to his marriage license, in the getting he fulfilled the requirements of the law, and I issued the marriage license.
Q And you gave him the ten dollars? A I give him ten dollars of my individual money.
Q How are you going to get that money back? A Well, sir, it went like the balance of my property in the flood, unless he is gentleman enough to give it back to me.
Q And he gave you the license? A I think so.
Q And you gave him the ten dollars for the license? A That's my memory.
Q It isn't your giving him credit of the ten dollars, but you actually paid him ten dollars? A I paid him ten dollars in green back bills.
Q If you should go to the clerk and cancel all that proceedings, you would get that ten dollars back? A Yes, but I didn't do that.

Q Did you just stand out that ten dollars? A Yes sir.

Q What inducement had you to make him a present of ten dollars? A Well, he said he would rather have ten dollars than the license and I gave him ten dollars.

Q What good was that license after you got it back? A Nothing at all.

Q You just made him a present of that ten dollars? A I reckon so. I can't explain it any other way.

Q Are you in the habit of doing business that way? A No sir, not altogether.

Q Is he kin to you? A No sir.

Q Is he an old friend of yours? A Yes sir.

Q Did you have any particular affection for him and his family? A No, only just good neighbors.

Q Any reason why you should make him a present of ten dollars more than any other man? A None.

Q Had he been married before he brought that license back to you? A Not that I know of.

Q Was there any certificate of a preacher on that license? A I don't remember, but I guess there was because I wouldn't have made an official report to the other clerk's office without it, and I did report one into the principal clerk's office.

Q Did he give any particular reason for rather having the ten dollars than the license? A If he did I don't remember it; it has been so long ago.

Q He just on general principal seemed to prefer the ten dollars than the license? A It seems so, yes sir.

APPLICANT RECALLED:

Q Now Mr. Talbert it looks as if you repented of paying out ten dollars for that license and that you concluded to get back that ten dollars and give back your license, but the deputy clerk says he had sent his report in and it had gone to the principal clerk's office, and you had better go to the executive office here and see if that license was ever reported to the proper officials.

Com'r: The applicant presents an official certificate from the executive secretary of the Cheokee Nation under date of December 13 1900, to the effect that he examined the marriage record of Going-snake district, and he fails to find any record relating to marriage between Jesse Talbert and Mary Crittenden; this is filed herewith.

WITNESS, HEAD BECK, RECALLED:

By Com'r Breckinridge:

Q Did this man Talbert say anything to you about your not having complied with the law in regard to the license? A They said they had been to the Clerk's office and they wasn't on record here at the Treasurer's Department I believe is the way I understood it, and I went and saw the principal clerk afterwards and he told me that all the marriage licenses had been recorded properly; I got after him about a report I had made.

Q But they hadn't been up to that time? A Hadn't been up to that time I reckon.

Q Did he demand that ten dollars of you because the law hadn't been complied with, or did he just demand that you give him ten dollars? A I couldn't say, it has been so long ago I don't remember.

APPLICANT RECALLED:

By Com'r Breckinridge:

Q Mr. Talbert, how about that, did you get that ten dollars from the deputy clerk? A Yes sir.

Q How did you happen to get that ten dollars? A I found out there wasn't any record, and he said he would go to Mr. Garrett, he was the clerk of the district, and he goes to Mr. Garrett and he said he would issue me a new license and marry me over, and I had two children and I wouldn't do it; and I goes to Head and I tells him he ought to go to Bob and get him to put him on record; and he wanted my license and I wouldn't give them back, and he says here is ten dollars and I taken the ten dollars and went on about my business.

Q You kept the license yourself? A Yes sir.

Q What became of them? A I got them burned up.

Q Who was it you found had not conformed to the law, the deputy clerk or the chief clerk? A I don't know; I never did talk to Wright about the case.

Q Where was it you found out they hadn't conformed to the law?

A I wasn't the only one, but other men that got license and they said it was the record; and I went to this man here, he was the only man that I talked to about it, except Mr. Garrett, he was clerk at that time of the district; I had two children then and I wouldn't get married over.

Q And they acknowledged that they were not properly recorded?

A Yes sir.

Q And then you demanded your ten dollars? A No sir, I didn't demand it, he just gave it to me.

Q And you received it? A I received it, yes.

Q They gave it to you to close out the fact of their not having put it of record? A He handed me 10 dollars, and says let me have that license, and I says I wont do it; I want to keep them.

Q How long was it after you were married until you found out they hadn't recorded your license? A It was probably three years; I had two children. I taken the license back when I got the certificate, I taken the license back to Head Beck to get them recorded.

Q Did you leave it there? A Yes, left it there four days, and then got it back I think and before this come up I sent them to Mr. Garrett.

He wrote to me and told me to send them to him; I left them there awhile to get them recorded and he wrote to me to come and get married over; I wouldn't get married over on account of having two children; he wanted me to get married again to fill the requirements of that law- thirty days; he couldn't record them over because the 30 days were gone.

Q You sent the license to Mr. Garrett to be recorded, when did you get that license back? A I went there and got them probably thirty or sixty days after that.

Q And they still hadn't been recorded? A No sir.

Q And you went and got it and put it in your pocket? A Yes sir.

Q When was it you got that money? A I don't recollect when it was; it was about a month I think after I got this license back.

Q About a month after you got the license back from Garrett himself? A Yes sir, it was after that time.

Q Was Head Beck deputy clerk at the time you got back the ten dollars?

A He wasn't? A No sir.

Q He had ceased to be deputy clerk? A He had been, under Jack Wright and Mr. Garrett come in after that.

Q And you got that ten dollars from Mr. Head Beck? A Yes sir.

Q You showed him the license? A Yes sir; And he just pulled out the ten dollars and give it to you? A No, he wanted me to give him the license and I wouldn't do it, and he says I will give you ten dollars, and he just give me ten dollars; I told him that had been to a lot of trouble, and I would like to have payment for him give me for it, and he says I couldn't pay you unless you give me the license; I told him I wouldn't do it because I had the certificate on it and I wanted it to show, and he said I don't know anything about it, I will just give you ten dollars and handed me ten dollars and went on home.

Q Who was this man Garrett? A It was the clerk, and he told me Head Beck said he would pay for it and it wouldn't cost me anything to get married over and that he wanted to get the license and I wanted to keep the land.

Com'r Breckinridge: This will be filed as additional testimony in the case D 712.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES. 8X

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Jesse Talbert as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION.

---:c:--

The record in this case shows that on October 26, 1900, Jesse Talbert appeared before the Commission at Claremore, Indian Territory, and made personal application for the enrollment, among others, of himself as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Tahlequah, Indian Territory, on December 14, 1900, and at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on March 7, 1902, and on October 4, 1902. The other parties to the application are differently classified, and are not embraced in this decision.

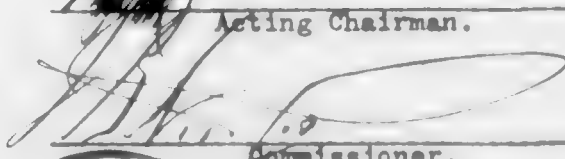

The evidence shows that Jesse Talbert was married to Mary A. Crittenden, a Cherokee citizen by blood, on February 16, 1888, under authority of a Cherokee marriage license. It further appears that said license was burned, and no record evidence of its issuance is found, but it is clearly established by personal testimony that the said Jesse Talbert was married to his wife, Mary A., under authority of a Cherokee marriage license. The said Jesse Talbert is identified on the Cherokee Census Roll of 1896.

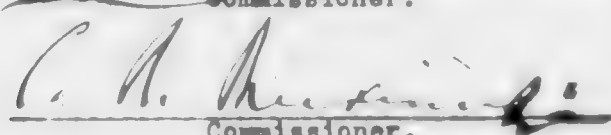

The evidence further shows that the said Jesse Talbert has lived with his said wife in the Cherokee Nation continuously from the date of his marriage to her up to and including September 1, 1902.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Jesse Talbert should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

Com'r. C. R. Breckinridge: The applicant applies for the enrollment of himself, wife and ~~xxx~~ five children. He is shown to have been admitted as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation by Act of the Cherokee Council on January 3rd, 1891. The official evidence is filed herewith. He is identified on the rolls of 1894 and 1896: He has lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since his admission in 1891, and he will be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee by blood.

He is shown to have married his wife under United States law in 1884: An official copy of the license and certificate is filed herewith. He states that he was once previously married, but that his former wife was dead when he married his present wife; that his present wife was not previously married: She has lived with him ever since their marriage: She is a white woman: She is identified with her husband and children on the roll of 1896: They have not been remarried since the applicant's admission to Cherokee citizenship: In as much as the Cherokee Representatives contend that a woman not remarried under these conditions does not become a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, she will now be listed for enrollment upon a doubtful card as a Cherokee by adoption, for the further consideration of that point. The final decision of the Commission will be made known to the applicant as his Postoffice address.

Of the five children named in the testimony, the first four are identified with their parents on the roll of 1896: They are living, and will now be listed for enrollment as Cherokees by blood.

When a certificate is filed of the birth of the youngest child, Albert A., this child also will be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee by blood.

The undersigned, being sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Julia E. Setser as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

D E C I S I O N.

The record in this case shows that on December 6, 1900, Francis M. Setser appeared before the Commission at Tahlequah, Indian Territory, and made personal application for the enrollment, among others, of Julia E. Setser as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on March 12, 1902, and on October 1, 1902. The other parties for whom application was made are differently classified, and are not embraced in this decision.

The evidence shows that the said Julia E. Setser was lawfully married on August 17, 1884 to Francis M. Setser, who was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the duly constituted authorities of said nation on January 3, 1891. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the cases of the Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship.

The said Julia E. Setser is identified on the Cherokee Census Roll of 1896.

The evidence further shows that the said Julia E. Setser has lived with her husband in the Cherokee Nation continuously for eight years up to and including September 1, 1902.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Julia E. Setser should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

Howell.)

(This is recognized as official evidence of the facts stated.)

A Yes, sir, I have three.
Q How old are they?

A In 1894, yes, sir.

The applicant applies for the enrollment of himself, his wife and three children. He is shown to have been admitted to Cherokee citizenship in December, 1893, on condition that he moved to the Cherokee Nation within six months after the admission, and he came to the Cherokee Nation within the prescribed limits. He has lived here ever since, and he is identified on the roll of 1898, and he will be listed now for enrollment as a Cherokee by blood. His three children, enumerated in the testimony, were admitted at the same time, and in the same manner that he was. They came with him within the prescribed limit to the Cherokee Nation, and have lived here ever since. They are identified on the roll of 1898, and they will be listed now for enrollment as Cherokees by blood. His wife is shown to have married him in 1877, and she is identified with him on the roll of 1898. They have lived together ever since their marriage, she came with him to the Cherokee Nation, but she is not mentioned in the certificate of admission, nor has she ever been remarried to him under Cherokee law. For the further consideration of her status, the application for her enrollment as a Cherokee by intermarriage will now be placed upon a doubtful card.

Bruce G. Jones, being duly sworn, says that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings and testimony in the above case, and the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Amanda E. Howell as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION.

--10:--

The record in this case shows that on September 27, 1900, Charles M. Howell appeared before the Commission at Vinita, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment, among others, of his wife, Amanda E. Howell, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on February 27, 1902, and on October 23, 1902. The other parties to the application are differently classified, and are not embraced in this decision.

The evidence shows that the said Amanda E. Howell, a white woman, was lawfully married on February 7, 1877, to Charles M. Howell, who was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, on December 5, 1893. The Cherokee Supreme Court, in the cases of the Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson, held that a white woman, married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship, acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. The said Amanda E. Howell is identified on the Cherokee Census Roll of 1896.

The evidence further shows that the said Amanda E. Howell has lived with her said husband in the Cherokee Nation continuously since his admission to citizenship therein, up to and including September 1, 1902.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Amanda E. Howell should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

Com'r Breckinridge: The applicant applies for the enrollment of herself, her husband and two children; her husband is shown to have been admitted to Cherokee citizenship in 1884; she states that he has lived in the Cherokee Nation 17 years; he is identified on the roll of 1896, and he will be listed now for enrollment as a Cherokee by blood.

The child Linnie is shown to have been born since the admission of her father; her father was married to her mother prior to his admission, and they continued to live together as husband and wife; this child is identified on the rolls of 1896; she is living now, and she will be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee by blood.

When the Commission is supplied with a certificate of the birth of the youngest child, Pearl E., this child also will be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee by blood.

The applicant states that she was married to her husband in 1878, and that they have lived together as husband and wife ever since that marriage; she states that she has lived with her husband in the Cherokee Nation for the past 17 years; she has never remarried him since his admission; she is identified with him on the roll of 1896; the Cherokee representatives object to the enrollment of wives not named in the certificate of admission, and not remarried after the admission of their husbands, and for the further consideration of this point, the application for the enrollment of Mamie Jane Rogers will be placed upon a doubtful card, and the final decision of the Commission will be made known to her at her post-office address.

M. D. Green, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

Commission to the five civilized Tribes.

In the matter of the application of Mamie Jane Rogers, as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation.

Brief of council.

The applicant on Oct. 18th, 1900 applied for enrollement as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation by adoption and presented evidence by which the following facts are proven, that the applicant and Jackson Rogers, were married to each other according to the laws of the State of Georgia on the day of 1873, and that ~~the~~ Jackson Rogers was a Cherokee by blood and at that time resided in the state of Georgia but that subsequent to this date ^{he} and his family moved to the Cherokee Nation ~~and~~ was regularly admitted as citizens of the Cherokee Nation in 1894 since which time the said Jackson Rogers and his ^{family} children have been duly recognized as citizens of the Cherokee Nation and that in 1906 on roll page 93 #175, it appears that the applicant Mamie J. Rogers was duly recognized as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation. The ^{evidence} proves conclusively that the applicant was duly married to a Cherokee by blood and that she and her husband have lived together as husband and wife from the date of their marriage to the present time and that the husband of the applicant is a citizen of the Cherokee Nation and we therefore take it that the applicant is also a citizen by adoption as in all cases where the laws do not forbid the citizenship of the wife follows that of the husband as a matter of right.

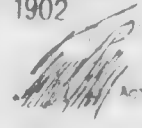

Respectfully submitted.

Department of the Interior,

Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,

In the matter of the application of Margaret Jane Rogers for enrollment as ~~an~~ a citizen of the Cherokee Nation by intermarriage.
No Cherokee P. 111.

BRIEF ON BEHALF OF THE CHEROKEE NATION.

The question involved in this case is a legal one. The applicant is a white woman, and was married to her husband while he was a citizen and resident of the state, and not a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, but subsequent to that time her husband was readmitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, as a citizen by blood, but her name was not embraced in that decision, and the question involved is: Does the admission of her husband carry with it the admission of the applicant? The Cherokee Nation contends that it was necessary for the applicant, in order now to be enlisted for enrollment as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation by intermarriage, to have married her husband subsequent to his readmission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation. In other words, he must have been a citizen of the Cherokee Nation at the time of the marriage ~~intermarriage~~ in order to have conferred rights of citizenship by intermarriage upon his wife, the applicant.

Section 659 Article 18 of the Compiled Laws of the Cherokee Nation, 1892, providing for the intermarriage of white men and foreigners, contains the following: "Any white man or citizen of the United States or of any foreign state or government desiring to marry a Cherokee, Delaware or Shawnee woman, citizen of the Nation, shall be and is hereby required to obtain a license, etc." You will observe that it was not only necessary that a woman be a Cherokee, Delaware or Shawnee, but she must at the same time have been "A CITIZEN OF THE CHEROKEE NATION", and it makes no difference how much Cherokee blood the woman had, if she were a full blood, residing in any of the States, and not recognized by the Cherokee authorities as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation at the time of her marriage, it would not have entitled her to enrollment, because he was not a "citizen of the Cherokee Nation" at the time of the marriage. It is difficult indeed to see how citizenship could be carried through the marriage of one person to another, when at the time of the marriage neither had any rights of citizenship to confer.

Section 5, Amendments to Article 3 of the Cherokee Constitution, Page 53, (Found in Compiled Laws of 1892) in defining who are citizens of the Cherokee Nation states: "All native born Cherokees, all Indians and whites legally members of the Nation by adoption, and all Freedmen, x x x shall be taken and deemed to be citizen of the Cherokee Nation". You will observe that among the intermarriage class enumerated as being citizens of the Cherokee Nation are: "Whites legally members of the Nation by adoption". If the applicant was married to her husband prior to his readmission, when he was not a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, and she did not marry him subsequent to his readmission, and was not admitted by a court or council, the Cherokee Nation contends that she was never legally adopted.

But it is contended first, that the Supreme Court of the Cherokee in 1871, in the case of the Cherokee Nation vs Nancy Rogers, has decided this question differently; that the court in that case held that the marriage of the white woman to the Cherokee Indian conferred upon the white woman the same rights as enjoyed by white men who had complied with the Cherokee law regulating intermarriage with white men and Cherokee women. For the purpose of easy reference this entire decision is inserted here, which reads as follows:

vs

Nancy Rogers.

White woman with others claiming Cherokee rights by marriage.

The Court feel that this is a special and important case, and after careful and due consideration, can not hesitate in sustaining claimants in their positions, believing:

1st. That common custom of the Cherokees since their first intercourse with white men, made common law, upon which most of our statute laws have been founded. White women have been taken as wives by Cherokees since time immemorial, and their rights as Cherokees have never been disputed apart from that of ~~that~~ her husband.

2nd. As the Cherokee man is the acknowledged head of the family, and white women as wives become subject to him as such, and as no special law ~~has been made~~ to regulate the status of white women has been made, nor does the court think it necessary, therefore decide: That Nancy Rogers, and all other white women married to Cherokee men, or the widows of such, and who have not forfeited their rights under any other law, are entitled to such rights and privileges as white men who have been married under the law regulating intermarriage between white men, citizens of the U. S., and Cherokee women."

"I, B. W. Alberty, Assistant Executive Secretary of the Cherokee Nation, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy taken from the records of the Supreme Court of the Cherokee Nation, acting as a special court on citizenship, made in the year 1871, now filed in this office, and in my custody.

Given under my hand and the seal of the Cherokee Nation this the 9th day of October, 1900. B. W. Alberty, Assistant Executive Secretary, Cherokee Nation".

Attention is called to the third paragraph of the above decision, with which the representative of the Cherokee Nation agrees, but you will observe that the decision only goes to the question as to whether white women, who marry Cherokee men without first having obtained a marriage license, were entitled to the same rights and privileges as white men, but it does not decide the question in her favor if she had married her husband prior to his readmission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, and at the time when he was not a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation. The question involved in the Rogers case was whether or not she could acquire any rights by her marriage to a Cherokee Indian citizen, and the court determined that question in her favor.

We submit that in the case of Melissa A. Dawson vs W. A. Dawson perhaps the precise question was raised, and for easy reference to this decision we quote it as follows:

"November 10, 1886.

Case of Melissa Dawson vs W. A. Dawson. For divorce and alimony $2000.00. Delaware District.

Motion made in lower court to dismiss on the ground that plaintiff is a white woman and not entitled to sue, not being a citizen of the Cherokee Nation.

In the matter of the application made ~~in~~ by defendant to dismiss case in the Circuit Court of Delaware District upon the ground that the plaintiff is a white woman and citizen of the United States, and never adopted by any act of the National Council of the Cherokee Nation, or any of the Courts of the same, and that said Melissa Dawson having been born, raised and married beyond and out of the jurisdiction of the Cherokee Nation, can not be heard in its courts. The court finds from its records that the Supreme Court sitting as a court of Commission to try and decide the cases of persons of doubtful citizenship, did in the year 1871, in the case of the Cherokee Nation vs Nancy Rogers, a white woman, who had married a Cherokee, define the status of a white woman who had married Cherokee man. (See Decision Supreme Court 1871) Fifteen years have elapsed since the date of this decision, and the National Council has not by legislation changed that status; ~~in~~ the Court sees no good reason for doing so now. The motion is overruled. Adj'd Nov. 12, 1886".

"I, B. W. Alberty, Assistant Executive Secretary of the Cherokee Nation, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy taken from the records of the Supreme Court of the Cherokee Nation, now by act of the National Council placed in the Executive office of said Nation, and that I am custodian of said records.

Given by me in Executive office at Tahlequah, Cherokee Nation, On this the 27th day of July, 1900". B. W. Alberty, Assistant Executive Secretary, Cherokee Nation".

Your attention is invited to the fact that the Cherokee Nation was not a party to this case, and was in no wise represented, and it perhaps was not fully considered by the court, and was clearly not fully presented. You will observe from the opinion itself that it was not a well considered case, because of the erroneous statement made in the opinion that the point involved in the case was the same as that presented in the Rogers case. Whereas, that question does not seem to have been considered at all in the Rogers case, but only the question as to what rights a white woman would have by her marriage to a Cherokee Indian citizen. We submit that a court that was not able to see the distinction between these two cases should not too highly commend itself to this Commission as a precedent.

We say that the Rogers case does not decide this point in favor of the woman; we contend that the Dawson case was not a well considered case; that it misquotes the Rogers case, and is in the teeth of the Cherokee law.

It is argued in parallel cases that aside from the Cherokee law, and aside from the Cherokee decisions, that it would necessarily follow that the admission of the husband admits the wife. Let us see if this be true in case the marriage was not consummated under Cherokee law. Suppose a white ~~man~~ ^{woman} married a Cherokee Indian in 1896, or any time subsequent to December 16th, 1895, what became of her citizenship then? Is she a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? The Commission says that she is not, yet her husband is a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation, undisputed and enrolled as such, and although a proper marriage certificate may have been presented. Neither does the citizenship of the wife follow that of her Creek husband in the Creek Nation. There are hundreds of white women who have legally married Creek men, but who have never been enrolled, or even applied to be enrolled, as citizens of the Creek Nation. Again in Freedmen cases the citizenship of the wife does not follow that of the husband. There are a great number of Freedmen citizens, whose names appear upon the roll of 1890, whose wives are not Freedmen citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and who are not entitled to be enrolled because of the citizenship of their husbands. So far as I know this is not true of any Indian tribe, and in no case except where it is specifically authorized by law of the tribe does the citizenship of the wife follow that of the husband. This of itself, it seems to us, refutes the argument that the citizenship of the wife must of necessity follow the citizenship of the husband.

We believe that we have shown that the law requires that the marriage must be not only to a Cherokee, but a citizen of the Cherokee Nation at the time of the marriage; that the Rogers case did not decide that a white woman was entitled to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation if she married her husband prior to his readmission to citizenship; that when the Dawson case was decided the Cherokee Nation was not represented; that the decision itself shows that it was not a well considered case, inasmuch as it contains erroneous statements.

Your attention is also invited to numerous instances where white men prior to the admission of their Cherokee wives had married them in the states, who were required to marry their wives subsequent to their readmission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation. We urgently contend that it is in violation of the Cherokee law to admit the applicant to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation; that when she married her husband she married a white man to all intents and purposes; that if she had continued to live in the state she would never have been a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation, and that the admission of her husband did not of itself, without her name being embraced in the decision, admit her to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation. And in this contention we are sustained by Section 21 of the Curtis Bill, which contains the following significant language in directing the Commission who should be enrolled as citizens of the Cherokee Nation: "All persons who have been enrolled by the tribal authorities, who have heretofore made permanent settlement in the Cherokee Nation, whose parents by reason of their Cherokee blood have been lawfully admitted to citizenship by the tribal authorities, and who were minors ~~sixteen~~ ~~times~~ when their parents were so admitted". There is the authority for the enrollment by this Commission of a minor, whose name is not embraced in the decision of the Cherokee Commission on citizenship where the parents were admitted, but what authority has this Commission to enroll the white wife of a husband who was admitted? Again that same section provides that the Commission shall enroll "such inter-married white persons as may be entitled to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation under the Cherokee laws". Has any such law been presented which shows that a white woman, who was married in the state, not under Cherokee law, not within the limits of the Cherokee Nation, when her husband was not a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, is entitled to be enlisted for enrollment? We think not. While we contend that the marriage of the woman was a legal marriage in the state for the purpose of legitimatizing her children, yet it did not confer Cherokee citizenship by intermarriage upon the woman, because they were not married within the Cherokee Nation, and after the husband became a citizen of the Cherokee Nation.

Respectfully submitted,

J. W. H. H. H.
 Attorney for the Cherokee Nation.

for the enrollment by this Commission of a minor, who was born in the State of Georgia, the "normal" condition of the child being that he was born in the State, and that his parents were citizens of the State. The white woman, who was married? The Commission has a section which provides that the Commission shall enroll "such in-married white persons as may be entitled to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation under the Cherokee laws". Has any such law been presented which shows that a white woman, who was married in the state, not under Cherokee law, not within the limits of the Cherokee Nation, when her husband was not a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, is entitled to be

COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Mamie J. Rogers as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION.

The record in this case shows that on October 18, 1900, Mamie J. Rogers appeared before the Commission at Nowata, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment, among others, of herself, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings were had in the matter of said application at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on October 21, 1902. The other parties to the application are differently classified, and are not embraced in this decision.

The evidence shows that the said Mamie J. Rogers was lawfully married on July 25, 1878, to Jackson Rogers, who was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation on September 26, 1884. The Cherokee Supreme Court, in the cases of the Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson, held that a white woman, married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship, acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. Said Mamie J. Rogers is identified on the Cherokee Census Roll of 1896.

The evidence further shows that the said Mamie J. Rogers has lived with her said husband continuously in the Cherokee Nation from the date of his re-admission to citizenship in said Nation, up to and including September 1, 1902.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Mamie J. Rogers should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 23, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

---o---

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Nannie Rogers as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION.

---o---

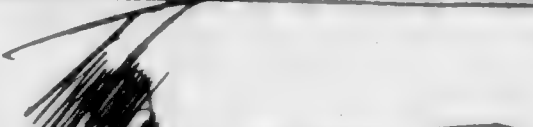

The record in this case shows that on December 6, 1900, William C. Rogers appeared before the Commission at Tahlequah, Indian Territory, and made personal application for the enrollment, among others, of Nannie Rogers as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on March 12, 1902, and on October 20, 1902. The other parties to the application are differently classified, and are not embraced in this decision.

The evidence shows that the said Nannie Rogers was lawfully married on February 14, 1895, to William C. Rogers, a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

The evidence further shows that the said Nannie Rogers has lived with her said husband continuously in the Cherokee Nation from the date of her marriage to him, up to and including September 1, 1902.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Nannie Rogers should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY in the matter of the enrollment of JAMES B. BRADSHAW as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, introduced on part of applicant:

The applicant was notified by registered letter February 18, 1902, that his application for the enrollment of himself as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation would be taken up for final consideration by the Commission at its offices in Muskogee, Indian Territory, on the 8th day of March, 1902. Receipt has been acknowledged of Commission's letter, and the applicant, this day, to-wit: the 8th day of March, 1902, appears in person.

Mr. J. C. Starr, Cherokee Representative, present.

JAMES B. BRADSHAW, the applicant, being duly sworn, testified as follows in his own behalf:
COMMISSION:

- Q What is your name? A James B. Bradshaw.
Q What is your post office address? A Peggs, Indian Territory.
Q How old are you? A I was born in 1867, I am 34.
Q You are an applicant before the Commission for enrollment as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q You were married before you married your present wife?
A Yes, sir.
Q Is there any statement you desire to make relative to the enrollment of yourself as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation?
A Nothing I reckon.
Q On what day was your divorce granted from your first wife?
A Well, sir, I just ain't able to tell you.
Q Was it in the spring of the year? A I believe it was in the fall; I am not sure but it was in warm weather.
Q Was it before your marriage to your present wife? A Why certainly.
Q When were you married to your present wife? A I was married to her in; I got the divorce in the fall I believe and was married to her, I believe, in July, I am not sure that I am right about that.
Q What year? A That was, married about 19 years, let me see; about 1883; I guess my divorce will show about what time.
Q That is 19 years ago? A Yes, it would be in 1893; we have been married nine years; no, I have been married about nine years; it was in 1893 I guess I married.
Q This certified copy of the decree of divorce shows that the divorce was granted to you at the fall term of the Court in 1892?
A Well, that would be right, I was married in-
Q And the marriage license shows that you were married by G. W.
Gordon on the 31st day of July, 1892.
A He has just simply got it wrong; Gordon married me; the license was issued by Garrett.
Q You were married the day after the license was issued?
A Yes, sir; I think so.
Q The license was issued on the 30th day of July, 1892, and you were married on the 31st day of July, 1892, and from the record it shows that you weren't divorced from your wife until the fall of 1892?
A He has got it wrong. He is wrong in the date; it is not by Gordon; it is the records of the Court that show the divorce.

Q Well, how long was it before your present marriage that you procured the divorce from your first wife? A Well, now, then, I think that I obtained the divorce in the fall, if I mistake not.

Q Of what year? A Well, I could hardly say, but I will say 1892; the record seems to show. When I was divorced after I was married?

Q Divorced from your first wife before you married your second wife?

A I was divorced before I was married to my second wife certainly.

Q How long was it before you were divorced from your first wife until you married to your second wife? A That is why I was talking to my father here so I could get at this correctly. I got the divorce the same year that I was married, in the same year, but I got the divorce the spring term of Court, if I mistake not, and I was married in July, the 1st or 21st of July, the best of my recollection; I am not stating this positive. But as to the best of my remembrance I was married the same year I got the divorce in the spring I will not say for sure, but I think it was in July or August I married my second wife.

Q As a matter of fact you don't know what time this divorce was procured? A No, sir; I went twice to get the divorce.

Q Now, when was the first time you went? A That was in the fall term, I am pretty sure if I study about it because I taken a load of wheat up there and I remember there was a little clash and I didn't get the divorce. It went on until the next spring and I went up in the Spring and got the divorce. In 1891, I went up there that year, first applied for the divorce and then in the fall of '92; no, the spring of '92, I got the divorce and then in July I was going to say in July, I married to this woman I now live with.

Commission: Cause continued by agreement until the 21st day of March, in order to give the applicant an opportunity to interpose further testimony as to the date in which he was granted divorce from his former wife and the date of his marriage to his present wife.

---ooo000ooo---

I, J. O. Rosson, do hereby certify upon my official oath as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes I correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of my stenographic notes thereof.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
 COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application of James B. Bradshaw for enrollment as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION.

--000--

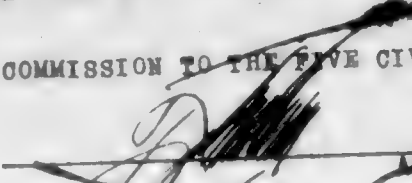

The record in this case shows that on October 29, 1900, James B. Bradshaw appeared before the Commission at Claremore, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment, among others, of himself as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings were had in the matter of said application at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on March 8, 1902, and on October 21, 1902. The other parties to the application are differently classified, and are not embraced in this decision.

The evidence shows that James B. Bradshaw was lawfully married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on July 31, 1892, to one Nora Gier, a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation. The said marriage was subsequent to a divorce which he procured from a former wife, a white woman. He is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

The evidence further shows that the said James B. Bradshaw has lived with his said wife continuously in the Cherokee Nation since his marriage to her up to and including September 3, 1902.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that James B. Bradshaw should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, under the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Ida L. Hawkins as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

D E C I S I O N.

The record in this case shows that on October 25, 1900, Ida L. Hawkins appeared before the Commission at Claremore, Indian Territory, and made personal application for the enrollment of herself as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on March 7, 1902, and on October 23, 1902.

The evidence shows that the said Ida L. Hawkins was lawfully married to George Hawkins, a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation, on August 12, 1894; that she lived with her said husband in the Cherokee Nation for three years after the marriage when he abandoned her. It further appears that the said Ida L. Hawkins procured a divorce from George Hawkins by a decree of the United States Court in Indian Territory, Northern District, on May 28, 1901. The said Ida L. Hawkins is identified on the Cherokee Census Roll of 1896.

The evidence further shows that the said Ida L. Hawkins has resided in the Cherokee Nation since her marriage to George Hawkins, and since her divorce from said George Hawkins she has not remarried up to and including September 1, 1902.

It is further shown that Ida L. Hawkins was married on September 28, 1902, to one Joe White, and will, therefore, be listed for enrollment under her present name, Ida L. White.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Ida L. White should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 23, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

Gentlemen:

Referring to the decision rendered by the Commission on December 10, 1902, in the matter of the application of Ida L. Hawkins for enrollment as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, and which decision was not protested by the attorney for the Cherokee Nation, it is noticed that the following statement appears therein: "It is further shown that Ida L. Hawkins was married on September 22, 1902, to one Joe White, and will therefore be listed for enrollment under her present name, Ida L. White."

In view of the fact that the name of the applicant in the case on September 22, 1902, the decision of the Commission of the Cherokee Nation is directed to be made was Ida L. Hawkins, I respectfully request to be advised if the decision directing that she be enrolled under the name of Ida L. White, is not in error.

Respectfully,

ADDRESS ONLY THE

Muskogee, Indian Territory, February 17, 1903.

Mr. P. C. Reuter,

In Charge Cherokee Land Office,

Vinita, Indian Territory.

Dear Sir:

The Commission is in receipt of your letter of February 12, 1903, requesting to be advised if the decision directing the enrollment of Ida L. White is not in error for the reason that her name on September 1, 1902, was Ida L. Hawkins.

The provision of law that the Cherokee rolls should be made as of September 1, 1902, relates to the rights of parties on that date, and it being shown that Ida L. Hawkins and Ida L. White are one and the same person, her name should be placed upon the schedule as Ida L. White following the decision of the Commission rendered December 10, 1902.

Yours truly,

Acting Chairman.

Commission on Citizenship, Cherokee Nation.
Ind. Terr.

Tahlequah, June 6th, 1889.

The evidence in the above case shows that the applicant, alleges that he is a grandson of John Miller, whose name will be found on the census rolls of Cherokees by blood, taken and made in the year of 1852. It also shows that John Miller, a well known citizen of the Cherokee Nation by blood and nativity, and a resident of Illinois District at the time of his death, did recognize James J. Miller, the father of the applicant, as his son, under oath before R.E. Blackstone, clerk of Canadian District, on the 20th, day of November 1875. And he was recognized as such by the relatives of the said John Miller, whose name is found on the said census rolls aforesaid of 1852. The Commission therefore decides that the applicant, James Jackson Miller, and his brothers, Pleasant Henry Miller, George Washington Miller, William Franklin Miller, Thomas Miller, John Miller, and sisters, Lucy Jane Miller, Louisa Jane Miller, Caladonia Miller, Francis Miller, Lerona Miller, and Mary Cathrine Waters, Nee Miller, wife of George Waters, of Illinois District, are of Cherokee Blood, and are hereby readmitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, Under the provisions of the Act of December 5th, 1888, creating this commission on Citizenship.

COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

MUSKOGEE , I.T., JANUARY 24th, 1901.

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY TO GO WITH CARD "D" #1061 AND #1235:

On the 10th day of August, 1900, Pleasant H. Miller appeared before the Commission and applied for the enrollment of himself, wife and five children. It appears from his testimony that his wife is a white woman and that he was married to her in January, 1889, and that he was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation on the 6th day of June, 1889. It also appears that through an error on the part of the memoranda clerk, she was listed for enrollment as a citizen by blood upon a ~~straight~~ regular Cherokee card. For the reason that she was married six months before her husband was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, she should be properly listed for enrollment as a citizen by intermarriage upon what is known as a doubtful card, and her name is ordered transferred from regular Cherokee card #1235 to Cherokee doubtful card #1061.

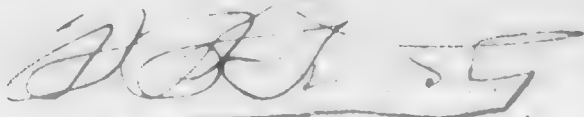

COMMISSIONER.

The undersigned, being sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five civilized Tribes, he correctly recorded the foregoing "order", and that the above is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Addie B. Miller as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION.

---o---

The record in this case shows that on August 10, 1900, Pleasant H. Miller appeared before the Commission at Muskogee, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment, among others, of his wife, Addie B. Miller, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on January 24, 1901, and on October 6, 1902. The other parties to the application are differently classified, and are not embraced in this decision.

The evidence shows that the said Addie B. Miller, a white woman, was lawfully married on January 6, 1889, to Pleasant H. Miller, a Cherokee by blood, who was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation on June 6, 1889. The Cherokee Supreme Court, in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson, held that a white woman, married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship, acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship.

The said Addie B. Miller is identified on the Cherokee Census Roll of 1896.

The evidence further shows that Addie B. Miller has lived with her said husband in the Cherokee Nation continuously since August, 1889, up to and including September 1, 1902.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Addie B. Miller should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

Q You claim to have been admitted in 1887 as Rebecca Welch, do you?
A Yes, sir.

The applicant applies for the enrollment of herself, her husband and one child. Her husband appears with her in the application. She claims to have been admitted in 1887 by her maiden name of Welch.

She is required to produce an official copy of the act or certificate of admission. She is identified on the roll of 1896 as a native Cherokee, she states that she has lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since her admission in 1887; indeed, that she had lived in the Cherokee Nation for 16 years past. She will be listed now upon a doubtful card to await the certificate of her admission. Her husband is shown to have been married to her in accordance with Cherokee law in 1891. The applicant was formerly married, but she states that a divorce was granted from her first husband in the early spring of 1891. The present marriage took place May 15, 1891, but the license upon which it is based is dated in September of the previous year. To await the evidence in the applicant's case, and a copy of the decree of divorce, and also for the further consideration of the legal question involved, in the fact of the license being issued prior to the time when the applicant had procured her divorce, and the marriage being consummated on that license after said divorce, if these facts are all duly established, the application for the husband of the applicant will be placed upon a doubtful card. The child, Joseph S., is living at this time, he is 8 years of age. His application will be placed upon a doubtful card as dependant upon the final status of his mother.

Bruce C. Jones, being duly sworn, says that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings and testimony in the above case, and the following is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes.

This is filed now with his case.

He also presents an official copy of decree of divorce showing that on May 13, 1891, divorce was granted to Rebecca Holland from her husband, John Holland, and said John Holland was given the custody of the child. The decree being rendered and signed by George W. Senge, Circuit Judge, of the Northern Judicial Circuit, Cherokee Nation. This is filed herewith. Attention is called to the fact that the date of the decree of divorce is May 13, 1891, and the date of the marriage license is September 30th 1890, and relates to the marriage between William E. Condry and his present wife.

Q It seems you got your marriage license out a long time before you were married? A I did.

Q You weren't married until May 13, 1891? A Yes sir.

Q And you got your license out some eight months before your wife was divorced from her former husband? A It must have been; I did not know it at that time. She didn't get her divorce from Tallahassee until then.

This will be filed with Case D-414.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Rebecca, Joseph S., Georgia A., and Lola Biddy Condry as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and for the enrollment of William R. Condry as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

D E C I S I O N .

The record in this case shows that on September 25, 1900, Rebecca Condry appeared before the Commission at Vinita, Indian Territory, and made personal application for the enrollment of herself and her minor child, Joseph S. Condry as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and for the enrollment of her husband, William R. Condry, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Chelsea, Indian Territory, on November 17, 1900, and at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on February 23, 1902, and again on October 13, 1902.

The records of the Cherokee Nation in possession of this Commission show that Rebecca Condry was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation on April 28, 1887 under the name of Rebecca Welch; and that she is identified on the 1896 Census Roll of the Cherokee Nation.

The evidence further shows that William R. Condry was married to his wife, Rebecca, on May 15, 1891 under authority of a Cherokee marriage license issued September 20, 1890. The marriage appears to have taken place about eight months after the license was issued, but this Commission knows of no law of the Cherokee Nation rendering a marriage license void for lapse of time.

The said William R. Condry is identified on the 1896 Census Roll of the Cherokee Nation.

It further appears that Rebecca Condry had been previously married to one John Holland, from whom she was divorced on May 12, 1891.

The minor child, Joseph S. Condry, is identified on the 1896 Census Roll of the Cherokee Nation.

The evidence further shows that Georgia A. Condry, and Lola Biddy Condry were born to William R. and Rebecca Condry after the Cherokee Census Roll of 1896 had been taken. They are duly identified by birth affidavits made a part of the record herein.

The evidence further shows that Rebecca Condry has resided continuously in the Cherokee Nation for sixteen years, and that her husband, William R. Condry, has lived with her in the Cherokee Nation continuously from the date of his marriage to her up to and including September 1, 1902. The residence of the children has been continuous in the Cherokee Nation from birth up to and including the date of the application herein.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Rebecca Condry, Joseph S. Condry, Georgia A. Condry and Lola Biddy Condry should be enrolled as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and that William R. Condry should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress, approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

In the matter of the application of James D. Canary for the enrollment of himself as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, and for the enrollment of his wife, Anola J. Canary, and their four minor children, Emma P., Simeon C., James H., and Elmira L. Canary as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

D E C I S I O N .

--oOo--

The record in this case shows that on October 15, 1900, James D. Canary appeared before the Commission at Nowata, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment of himself as a citizen by intermarriage, and for the enrollment of his wife, Anola J. Canary, and their four minor children, Emma P., Simeon C., James H., and Elmira L. Canary as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings were had in the matter of said application at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on October 6, 1902.

The evidence shows that James D. Canary, a white man, and his wife, Anola J. Canary, nee Gibson, a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, who was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, on December 15, 1900, were lawfully married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation, on September 21, 1892. The four minor children, applicants herein, were born of that marriage.

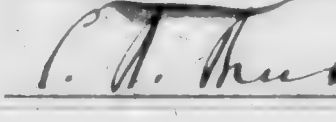

James D., Anola J., Emma P., Simeon C., and James H. Canary are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. Elmira L. Canary was born on December 11, 1897, and is too young to appear upon any roll of the Cherokee Nation, but is duly identified by a birth affidavit made a part of the record herein.

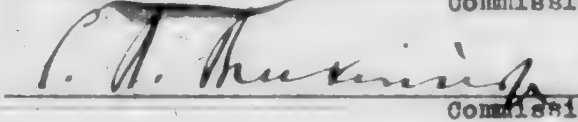

The evidence further shows that James D. Canary and his wife, Anola J. Canary removed to the Cherokee Nation from Texas in 1891, they having been married in that State prior to his wife's readmission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore shown. They continued to reside in the Cherokee Nation until 1899, at which time they removed to the Choctaw Nation, where they remained until October, 1901, removing at that time to Tyro, Kansas, where they lived until April 10, 1902, when they returned to the Cherokee Nation, and were residents therein, as husband and wife, on September 1, 1902. The residence of the minor children is considered to be the same as that of their parents.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that James D. Canary should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage, and that Anola J. Canary, Emma P. Canary, Simeon C. Canary, James H. Canary and Elmira L. Canary should be enrolled as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section 21, of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

1896 312 385 John Kelly,

The applicant shows by the certificate cited in the testimony and returned to her that she was admitted to citizenship in August 1889 and she enrolled in accordance with the conditions of her admission before the expiration of 12 months from the date of her admission. She states that she had lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since her admission, and she is identified on the 1896 roll as a native Cherokee. The representative present of the Cherokee Nation protests against the enrollment of this applicant upon the ground of irregularity practiced in her admission, and for the present her application will be placed on a doubtful card to consider that point she being classed as a Cherokee by blood. Her husband is shown to have married her in accordance with the Cherokee laws in 1894. She states that she was never previously married but that her husband was married before in Texas, but that he was divorced at the time of their marriage from his first wife. She is unable at the present time to produce a copy of the decree of divorce. They have lived together ever since their marriage in 1894 and he is identified with his wife on the roll of 1896. He will not be classed as an intermarried Cherokee, but upon a doubtful card to await the consideration of any questions in regard to

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application of Frances J. Kelley for the enrollment of herself as a citizen by blood, and for the enrollment of her husband, John Kelley, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION

The record in this case shows that on October 29, 1900, Frances J. Kelley appeared before the Commission at Claremore, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment of herself as a citizen by blood, and for the enrollment of her husband, John Kelley, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Muskogee, Indian Territory, June 25, 1902, October 1, and October 8, 1902.

The evidence shows that John Kelley, a white man, and Frances J. Brackett, a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation on August 16, 1889; were lawfully married under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation, on February 11, 1894. Frances J. Kelley and her husband, John Kelley, are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

The evidence further shows that Frances J. Kelley has lived continuously in the Cherokee Nation ever since April, 1890, and that her husband, John Kelley, has lived with his said wife continuously in the Cherokee Nation since his marriage to her in 1894, up to and including September 1, 1902.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Frances J. Kelley should be enrolled as a citizen by blood, and that John Kelley should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1890 (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

Q You could establish your change of name? A Yes, sir.
Q Was your father ever admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation? Yes, sir, he was in 1880.
Q And after he was admitted in 1870, how long was it before you went to Texas? A I do not tell you; I was too little to recollect. I was three years old when he took me down there. I do not know anything about Ella Sterling.--2.

- Q You were born in 1876? A Yes, sir.
Q He left in 1879 did not he? A Yes, sir.
Q And came back in 1889? A Yes, sir.
Q When you were eleven years old? A Yes, sir.

Com'r Breckinridge:

The applicant is identified on the roll of 1894, and her oldest child Lillie E., is identified on the roll of 1894. Neither of them are identified in any other roll. Her husband is a white man and no application is made for him. The applicant states that her father was admitted to citizenship in 1870, and that he went to Texas in 1879 when she was three years old. She having been born after his admission to citizenship and prior to his removal to Texas. She further states that her father returned to the Cherokee Nation in 1889, and that she and all the family have continued to reside in the Cherokee Nation ever since that time.

She further states that she was not a party to the application that her father made to the Dawes Commission in 1896 for the admission of himself and certain members of his family to Cherokee citizenship and that application was denied at that time, and from that decision no appeal was ever taken. Now, the question arises as to the rights possessed by the applicant at this time. In view of the fact of her birth prior to the removal of her father to Texas and of her returning to the Cherokee Nation prior to reaching her majority, she being, say three years old when she was taken from the Nation and 13 years of age when she was brought back, and following this arises the question of the rights of her children. For the purpose of the further consideration of this matter, judgment will be suspended in her case, and the application for herself and her three children will be placed at present upon a doubtful card, and she is advised to supply the Commission with the marriage license and certificate, or copy thereof, showing her change of name from Perry to Sterling by marriage; and also to supply the Commission with an authenticated copy or the original of the act admitting her father to citizenship in 1870, as alleged. She is also desired to supply the Commission with with duly authenticated certificates of the birth of her two youngest children, Lillie and Nellie.

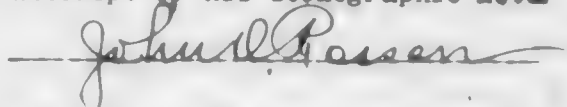

When the decision is finally reached, the applicant will be informed of the result at her post office address, and the case will be referred to the Secretary of the Interior for his ultimate approval.

J. L. BAUGH, Representative of the Cherokee Nation:

The Cherokee Nation claims through its Attorneys, that had S.A. Terry been admitted in 1870, that by his removal to Texas and out of the limits of the Cherokee Nation and remaining there until 1889, that he lost or forfeited his rights to citizenship; and that neither he nor his descendants have any right to enrollment.

In the matter of the application of Ella Sterling, for the enrollment of herself and children as citizens of the Cherokee Nation:

Appearances:

Wisdom & Bledsoe, Muskogee, I. T., for applicants;
W. W. Hastings, for the Cherokee Nation.

S. M. PERRY, being sworn and examined, testified as follows:

Q What is your name? A S. M. Perry.
Q What is your post office address? A Fairland.

Examined by Mr. Wisdom:

Q What relation are you to Ella Sterling? A She is my niece; my brother's daughter.
Q Are you a Cherokee citizen? A Yes sir.
Q Is your brother a recognized Cherokee citizen? A Yes sir.
Q Where was Ella Sterling born? A. She was born on Cow Skin prairie, Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory.
Q Do you know or not whether her father moved to Texas?
A Yes sir.
Q If so, in about what year? A In 1879. ~~Q~~
Q How old was Ella Sterling, the applicant, at that time?
A She was born in 1876; in August, 1876.
Q She would then have been three years old would she not?
A Yes sir. They started on the 29th day of October, 1879 for Texas.
Q How long did she remain in Texas?
A She came back here in May, 1889. That's my recollection.
Q How many years, about, would that be?
A It would be about ten years.
Q Well, has she remained in the Cherokee Nation ever since?
A To the best of my knowledge she has.
Q You have known her all the time haven't you?
A Yes sir.
Q How far does she live from you now? A About fifteen miles.
Q How old was she when she came back from Texas?
A She came back in 1889; she was about 13 years old I reckon.

Examined by Mr. Hastings:

Q What was her father's name? A Silas A. Perry.
Q How long has this woman been married? A I don't know exactly.
Q About how long? A Well she has been married about 10 years to the best of my recollection. I don't recollect positively.
Q Did her father apply to the Dawes Commission in 1896?
A Perhaps he did, I don't know.

The Commission: An examination of the original papers filed with the Commission in 1896, in the matter of the application of Silas A. Perry, father of the applicant in this case, disclosed the fact that neither the applicant nor her children were parties to the said application.

It further appears that the application of S. A. Perry was filed with the Commission September 9, 1896. The matter of the Cherokee Nation was filed thereto, and the application denied by the Commission at Vinita, Indian Territory, on November 9, 1896. The record fails to reveal that any appeal was taken from the decision rendered.

Witness further examined by Mr. Hastings:

Q Where was applicant's father born ? A In Georgia.

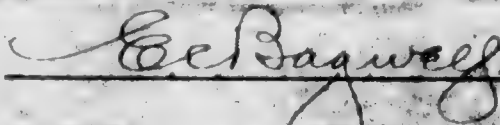

Q When did he come to the Cherokee Nation ?

A In 1868, I think it was.

Mr. Wisdom: The attorneys for applicants desire to have put upon the record that the denial of the right of citizenship to her father by the Dawes Commission did not affect the rights of the applicant, inasmuch as her name is not included in his application for citizenship. We submit the case on that.

The representatives of the Cherokee Nation also submit the case for the final consideration of the Commission; and the same is closed.

E. C. Bagwell, an oath states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings had in the above entitled cause, and that the above and foregoing is an accurate transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application of Ella Sterling for the enrollment of herself and her minor children, Lillie E., Nellie and Susie Sterling as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

D E C I S I O N.

The record in this case shows that on September 10, 1900, Ella Sterling appeared before the Commission at Pryor Creek, Indian Territory, and made personal application for the enrollment of herself, and her three minor daughters, Lillie E., Nellie and Susie Sterling as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on February 21, 1902.

The evidence shows that Ella Sterling, (nee Perry), at the date of this application was twenty-four years of age; and that her father, Silas Perry, was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation in 1870. It further appears that he removed from the Cherokee Nation to the State of Texas about the year 1879, and took with him the said Ella Sterling, who was at that time about three years old. She returned to the Cherokee Nation in 1889, and in 1892 was lawfully married to William Sterling, a white man. The minor applicants herein are the issue of such marriage.

It further appears that Ella Sterling and her eldest daughter, Lillie E., are identified on the 1894 Cherokee Strip payment roll; and that the said Nellie and Susie Sterling are identified by birth affidavits made a part of the record herein.

The evidence further shows that Ella Sterling has resided continuously in the Cherokee Nation since 1889, and was a resident therein at the date of this application. The residence of the said minor children is considered to have been continuous in the Cherokee Nation all their lives.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Ella Sterling, Lillie E. Sterling, Nellie Sterling and Susie Sterling should be enrolled as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section 21, of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSIONER TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Susie Sterling as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

D E C I S I O N .

THE RECORDS OF THIS OFFICE SHOW: That at Pryor Creek, Indian Territory, on September 10, 1900, Ella Sterling appeared before the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes and made application for the enrollment of, among others, Susie Sterling as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation. The others included in said application have heretofore been disposed of, and their rights to enrollment will not be considered in this decision. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Muskogee, Indian Territory on February 21, 1902.

The records further show that on December 10, 1902, the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes rendered its decision herein granting the said Susie Sterling the right to enrollment as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and that, thereafter, on February 27, 1903, there was filed with the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes an affidavit showing her death on July 23, 1901.

Section Twenty-five of the Act of Congress approved July 1, 1902 (32 stat., 716), provides:

"The roll of citizens of the Cherokee Nation shall be made as of September first, nineteen hundred and two, and the names of all persons then living and entitled to enrollment on that date shall be placed on said roll by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes."

IT IS, THEREFORE, ORDERED AND ADJUDGED: That the decision of the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes rendered December 10, 1902, in so far as it affects the applicant, Susie Sterling, be rescinded, set aside and held for naught, and it is further ordered that, under the provisions of the Act of Congress above noted the application for the enrollment of Susie Sterling as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation be, and the same is, hereby dismissed.

Q Are you a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q By blood? A No sir; by marriage.
Q What is your husband's name? A Franklin Wallace Craig.
Q Is he a Cherokee citizen by blood? A Yes sir.
Q How old is he? A He is forty, but he is dead.
Q He is not living? A No sir.
Q Any children? A Yes sir; I have five children; three married.
Q You want to enroll two then? A Yes sir; one boy and one girl.
Q What are their names? A Elgy Cleaveland Craig.
Q How old is he? A He is sixteen, or will be this November.
Q What is the name of the next one? A Laura Craig.
Q How old is Laura? A She is ten.
Q Are these children living and living with you? A Yes sir.
Q When were you married to Mr. Craig? A November 8th, 1876.
Q Your name should be on the roll of 1880? A We were admitted in December after the census were taken.
Q Were you married after September, 1880? A I was married in 1876.

Q Never married afterwards? A No sir.
The applicant presents a certificate of admission to citizenship, issued by the Commission on citizenship, on the 15th day of September, 1880, signed by Reach Young, President, William Harnage and George W. Mayes, Commissioners; attested by J. B. Mayes, clerk; and a certificate with the seal of the Cherokee Nation attached, signed by S. E. Mayes, that the certificate is a true copy of the record.

Q In this certificate, I find the name of Frank W. Craig, as having been admitted to citizenship on the 15th day of September, 1880, Case No. 222 8, of the said Citizenship Committee.

- (1896 Roll, Page 299, #241, Kate Craig, Cooweescoowee D'st)
(1896 Roll, Page 133, #1037, Elgy Craig (C), Cooweescoowee D'st)

- Q Are these children living and living with you? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A Twenty three years.
Q Continuously? A Yes sir.

The name of Kate Craig appears upon the census roll of 1896, as well as her children, Elgy and Laura Craig. The name of the husband of Kate Craig, Frank W. Craig, is found upon the census roll of 1896, and satisfactory proof of his admission to citizenship is filed, being more particularly described in the testimony, in which it appears that he was admitted to citizenship in 1880. Applicant swears that she was married to the said Franklin W. Craig in 1876, before his admission; she also swears that she never remarried according to Cherokee laws. Consequently, final judgment as to the enrollment of the said Kate Craig will be deferred and her name will be placed on a doubtful card. Her children, Elgy C. and Laura Craig, having been born after the admission of their father, will be duly listed for enrollment as Cherokees by blood.

The undersigned, being sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, she correctly recorded testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,

In the matter of the application of Kate Craig for the enrollment of herself as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation.

Applicant represented by W. P. Thompson, Yinita, I.T.
Cherokee Nation represented by W. W. Hastings.

The applicant was notified by registered letter February 12, 1902, that her application to be enrolled as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation would be taken up for final consideration by the Commission at its offices in Muskogee, Indian Territory, on the 28th day of February, 1902. Receipt has been acknowledged of the Commission's letter and the applicant this day, to wit the 28th day of February, 1902, appears in person and by her attorney, W. P. Thompson.

KATE CRAIG, the applicant, being first duly sworn, testified as follows:

MR. THOMPSON: What is your name? A Kate Craig.

Q What is your postoffice? A Welch.

Q What is your age? A My age is 48 I believe.

Q Your notice states that you are required to supply the Commission with a certificate of readmission of Frank W. Craig? Have you that certificate? A Yes, sir.

Q I desire to present a certificate of admission of the children of Frank W. Craig, in which certificate of the decree of the Commission Court it is shown that the same Commission at the same term had decided the case in favor of Frank W. Craig and had readmitted him.

COMMISSION: The document will be duly filed.

MR. HASTINGS: Objected to by the representatives of the Cherokee Nation present for the reason that this is not the best testimony, the best testimony being the judgment admitting Frank Craig himself.

COMMISSION: The following entry appears upon the docket of the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship for the year 1880, on page 8:

"Commission on Citizenship,
Tahlequah, January 16, 1886.

Case No. 8.

Safronia A. Bivins, Louisa I. Coats, and Frank W. Craig,

vs.

The Cherokee Nation.

(Petition for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation.)

Set on the 19th September. Continued until 13 inst.

It is proven to the satisfaction of the Commission that the above named claimants to citizenship are the relatives and the descendants of the David Harlan family--who taken a reservation on the neutral land under the treaty of 1866 between the Cherokee Nation and the United States, well-known Cherokees-- and that said claimants did not take a reservation on said land.

Therefore the Commission admit the above named claimants to all the rights and franchise of Cherokee citizenship. September 16, 1880.

Roach Young, President.

Wm. Harnage, and

G. W. Harnage, Assistant Commissioner

J.B. Mayes, Clerk."

The certificate above cited has been withdrawn by the attorney for the applicant and the original record introduced as above shown.

MR. HASTINGS: When were you married to Frank Craig? A In November, 7th, 1876 I believe.

Q Were you ever married before? A Yes, sir, I was married before.

Q What was your first husband's name? A Marker was his name.

Q Was you married but once before? A That is all.

Q Marker dead when you married Craig? A Yes, sir.

Q Was Craig ever married before he married you? A No, sir.

Q This was his first marriage? A Yes, sir.

Q Where were you married? A Near Columbus, Kansas.

COMMISSION: What did you say is your name at the present time?
A Kate Craig is the way I sign it.

Q You submit the case, Mr. Thompson?

MR. THOMPSON: Yes, sir.

COMMISSION: The attorney for the applicant and the representative of the Cherokee Nation present submit the case. The same is ordered closed and reported to the Commission for a final decision based upon the evidence now of record. before the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes.
In the matter of the Application of Kate Craig to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation. Brief of Applicant.

Statement of Facts.

The facts in this case, briefly stated, show that applicant, a white woman, was married to Frank Craig, a Cherokee Indian, November 7, 1876, near Columbus, Kansas; That on September 15th, 1880, the Cherokee Commission admitted Frank Craig to full citizenship in the Cherokee Nation; that applicant has been on the rolls of the Cherokee Nation ever since said date and is on the rolls of 1896 and has resided here continuously since said date.

Argument.

The citizenship of the husband is the citizenship of the wife. He establishes the domicile and whatever form of citizenship he takes and assumes it fixes the status of his wife and minor children. The well established rule of law in the United States is that when a foreigner takes the oath of allegiance to the United States Government and renounces allegiance to his former government, it fixes the status of his wife and makes her also a citizen of the United States and in those states where women are allowed to vote, it vests ~~with~~ ^{and} her the right to vote and clothes her with all the protection of a United States citizen. When all the requirements of the law have been complied with by the husband, there is nothing required of the wife, but she is immediately clothed with citizenship when her husband is made a citizen.

Under the Cherokee law a Cherokee man in marrying a white woman vested her with citizenship by virtue of the marriage. A white man marrying a Cherokee woman was required to get a petition signed by ten citizens by blood, get a license from the District Clerk and take the oath of allegiance. Hence the rule is different in the case of white men and white women, no formalities, oath, license nor petition was required of applicant in this case. She was the lawful wife of Frank Craig and when he was admitted to citizenship the applicant's citizenship was that of her husband's from that time forward without any further formalities, there being no further requirement of law for her to comply with. This view of the law was taken by the Supreme Court of the Cherokee Nation in the case of Nancy Rogers and Melissa A. Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson, certified copies of which are filed with your commission in the testimony, in the case "In the matter of the application of Melissa A. Dawson for enrollment as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation." To which I refer the Commission, as the decision is not obtainable at my office here.

The Cherokee authorities so recognized her, as is shown by the Rolls of 1896, as her name appears on said roll and I submit that she is properly on this roll. Therefore I respectfully submit that she should be enrolled under section 21 of the Curtis Act of June 26th, 1898.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskogee, Indian Territory April 12 1902.

In the matter of the application of Kate Craig, for enrollment of the citizen of the Cherokee Nation by intermarriage.

No. Cherokee D 484.

Brief of the Cherokee Nation

The question involved in this case is a legal one. The applicant is a white woman, and was married to her husband while he was a citizen and resident of the state, and not a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, but subsequent to that time her husband was readmitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, as a citizen by blood, but her name was not embraced in that decision, and the question involved is: Does the admission of the husband carry with it the admission of the applicant? The Cherokee Nation contends that it was necessary for the applicant, in order now to be listed for enrollment as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation by intermarriage, to have married her husband subsequent to his readmission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation. In other words he must have been a citizen of the Cherokee Nation at the time of the marriage in order to have conferred rights of citizenship by intermarriage upon his wife, the applicant.

Section 659, Article 16, Compiled Laws of the Cherokee Nation, 1892, providing for the intermarriage of white men and foreigners, contains the following: "Any white man or ~~foreigner~~ citizen of the United States or of any foreign state or government desiring to marry a Cherokee, Delaware or Shawnee woman, a citizen of the Nation, shall be and is hereby required to obtain a license etc." You will observe that it was not only necessary that a woman be a Cherokee, Delaware, or Shawnee, but she must at the same time have been "A CITIZEN OF THE CHEROKEE NATION", and it makes no difference how much Cherokee blood ~~she~~ the woman had, if she were a full blood, residing in any of the states, and not recognized by the Cherokee authorities as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation at the time of her marriage, even if the husband had obtained the requisite Cherokee marriage license, it would not have entitled her to enrollment, because he was not a ~~full-blooded~~ "citizen of the Cherokee Nation" at the time of the marriage. It is difficult indeed to see how citizenship could be carried through the marriage of one person to another, when at the time of the marriage neither had any rights of citizenship to confer.

Section 5, Amendments to Article 3 of the Cherokee Constitution, page 33, (found in Compiled Laws of 1892) in defining who are citizens of the Cherokee Nation states: "All native born Cherokees, all Indians and whites legally members of the Nation by adoption, and all Freedmen, * * * * * shall be taken and deemed to be citizens of the Cherokee Nation". You will observe that among the intermarried class enumerated as being citizens of the Cherokee Nation are: "Whites legally members of the Nation by adoption". If the applicant was married to her husband prior to his readmission, when he was not a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, and she, at the time of the marriage, by this marriage acquired no rights of citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, and she did not marry him subsequent to his readmission, and was not admitted by a court or council, the Cherokee Nation contends that she was never legally adopted. But it is contended first, that the Supreme Court of the Cherokee Nation in 1871, in the case of the Cherokee Nation vs Nancy Rogers, has decided this question differently; that the court in that case held that the marriage of the white woman to the Cherokee Indian conferred upon the white woman the same rights as enjoyed by white men who had complied with the Cherokee law regulating

"Journal Continued"

vs

Nancy Rogers.

White women with others claiming Cherokee rights by marriage.

The court feel that this is a special and important case, and after careful and due consideration, can not hesitate in sustaining claimants in their positions, believing:

1st. That common custom of the Cherokees since their first intercourse with white men, made common law, upon which most of our statute laws have been founded. White women have been taken as wives by Cherokees since time immemorial, and their rights as Cherokees have never been disputed apart from that of her husband.

2nd. As the Cherokee man is the acknowledged head of the family, and white women as wives become subject to him as such, and as no special law to regulate the status of white women has been made, nor does the court think it necessary, therefore decide: That Nancy Rogers, and all other white women married to Cherokee men, or the widows of such, and who have not forfeited their rights under any other law, are entitled to such rights and privileges as white men who have been married under the law regulating intermarriage between white men, citizens of the United States, and Cherokee women".

"I, B. V. Alberty, Assistant Executive Secretary of the Cherokee Nation, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy taken from the records of the Supreme Court of the Cherokee Nation, acting as a special court on citizenship, made in the year 1871, now filed in this office, and in my custody.

Given under my hand and the seal of the Cherokee Nation this the 5th day of October, 1900. B. V. Alberty, Assistant Executive Secretary, Cherokee Nation".

Attention is called to the third paragraph of the above decision, with which the representative of the Cherokee Nation agrees, but you will observe that the decision only goes to the question as to whether white women, who marry Cherokee men without having first obtained a marriage license, were entitled to the same rights and privileges as white men, but it does not decide the question in her favor if she had married her husband prior to his readmission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, and at the time when he was not a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation. The question involved in the Rogers case was whether or not she could acquire any rights by her marriage to a Cherokee Indian citizen, and the court determined that question in her favor.

We submit that in the case of Malissa A. Dawson vs W. A. Dawson perhaps the precise question was raised, and for easy reference to this decision we quote it as follows:

November 10, 1896.

Case of Malissa Dawson vs W. A. Dawson. For divorce and alimony $2000.00. Delaware District.

Motion made in the lower court to dismiss on the ground that plaintiff is a white woman, and not entitled to sue, not being a citizen of the Cherokee Nation.

"In the matter of the motion made by defendant to dismiss case in the Circuit Court of Delaware District upon the ground that the plaintiff is a white woman, and citizen of the United States, and never adopted by any act of the National Council of the Cherokee Nation, or any of the courts of the same, and that said Malissa Dawson having been born, raised and married beyond and out of the jurisdiction of the Cherokee Nation, can not be heard in its courts. The Court finds from its records that the Supreme Court sitting as a court of Commission to try and decide the cases of persons of doubtful citizenship did in the year 1871, in the case of the Cherokee Nation vs Nancy Rogers, a white woman, who had married a Cherokee, define the status of a white woman who had married Cherokee man. (See Decision of Supreme Court 1871). Fifteen years have elapsed since the date of this decision, and the National Council has not by legislation changed that status: the court ~~cannot~~ sees no good reason for doing so now, ~~therefore~~ The motion is overruled. Adj'd Nov. 12, 1886."

"I, E. W. Alberty, Assistant Executive Secretary of the Cherokee Nation, do hereby certify the foregoing is a true copy taken from the records of the Supreme Court of the Cherokee Nation, now by act of the National Council placed in the Executive office of said Nation, and that I am custodian of said records.

Given by me in Executive office at Tahlequah, Cherokee Nation, on this the 27th day of July, 1900."

E. W. Alberty, Assistant Executive Secretary, Cherokee Nation".

Your attention is invited to the fact that the Cherokee Nation was not a party to this case, and was in no wise represented, and it was perhaps not ~~examined~~ fully considered by the Court, and was clearly not fully represented. You will observe from the opinion itself, that it was not a well considered case, because of the erroneous statement made in the opinion that the point involved in the case was the same as that presented in the Rogers case. Whereas, that question does not seem to have been considered at all in the Rogers case, but only the question as to what rights a white woman would have by her marriage to a Cherokee Indian citizen. We submit that a court that was not able to see the distinction between these two cases should not too highly commend itself to this Commission as a precedent.

We say that the Rogers case does not decide this point in favor of the woman; we contend that the Dawson case was not a well considered case; that it misquotes the Rogers case, and is in the teeth of the Cherokee law.

It is argued in parallel cases that aside from the Cherokee law, and aside from the Cherokee decisions, that it would necessarily follow that the admission of the husband admits the wife. Let's see if this be true in case the marriage was not consummated under Cherokee law. Suppose a white woman married a Cherokee Indian in 1896, or any time subsequent to December 16, 1895, what became of her citizenship then? Is she a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? The Commission says that she is not, yet her husband is a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation, undisputed and enrolled as such, and although a proper marriage certificate may have been presented. Neither does the citizenship of the wife follow that of her Creek husband in the Creek Nation. There are hundreds of white women who have legally married Creek men, but who have never ~~supplied~~ been enrolled, or even applied to be enrolled, as citizens of the Creek Nation. Again in Freedmen cases, the citizenship of the wife does not follow that of the husband. There are a great number of Freedmen citizens, whose names appear upon the roll of 1880, whose wives are not freedmen citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and who are not entitled to be enrolled, because of the citizenship of their husbands. So far as I know this is not true of any Indian tribe, and in no case except where it is specifically authorized by tribal law does the citizenship of the wife follow that of the husband. This of itself, seems to us, refutes the argument that the citizenship of the wife must of necessity follow the citizenship of the husband.

We believe that we have shown that the law requires that the marriage must be not only to a Cherokee, but a citizen of the Cherokee Nation at the time of the marriage; that the Rogers case did not de-side that a white woman was entitled to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation if she married her husband prior to his readmission to citizenship; that when the Dawson case was decided the Cherokee Nation was not represented; that the decision itself shows that it was not a well considered case, inasmuch as it contains erroneous statements.

Your attention is also invited to numerous instances where white men prior to the admission of their Cherokee wives had married them in the states, who were required to marry their wives subsequent to their readmission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation. We urgently contend that it is in violation of the Cherokee law to admit the applicant to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation; that when she married her husband she married a white man to all intents and purposes; that if she had continued to live in the state, she would never had been a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation, and that the admission of her husband did not of itself, without her name being embraced in the decision admit her to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation. And in this contention we are sustained by Section 21 of the Curtis Bill, which contains the following significant language in directing the Commission who should be enrolled as citizens of the Cherokee Nation: "All persons who have been enrolled by the tribal authorities, who have heretofore made permanent settlement in the Cherokee Nation, whose parents by reason of their Cherokee blood have been lawfully admitted to citizenship by the tribal authorities, and who were minors when their parents were so admitted". There is the authority for the enrollment by this Commission of a minor, whose name is not embraced in the decision of the Cherokee Commission on citizenship where the parents were admitted, but what authority has this Commission to enroll the white wife of a husband who was admitted? Again that same section provides that the Commission shall enroll "such intermarried white persons as may be entitled to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation under the Cherokee laws". Has any such law been presented which shows that a white woman, who married in the state, not under Cherokee law, not within the limits of the Cherokee Nation, when her husband was a citizen of the state, is entitled to be enlisted for enrollment? We think not. While we contend that the marriage of the white woman was a legal marriage in the state for the purpose of legitimatizing her children, yet it did not confer Cherokee citizenship by intermarriage upon the woman, because they were not married within the Cherokee Nation, and after the husband became a citizen of the Cherokee Nation.

COMMISSION TO THE INTERIOR,

COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application of Kate Craig, for enrollment as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION.

The record in this case shows that on October 1, 1902, Kate Craig appeared before the Commission at Vinita, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment, among others, of herself as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings were had in the matter of said application at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on February 28, 1902, and again on October 2, 1902. The other parties to the application are differently classified, and are not embraced in this decision.

The evidence shows that Kate Craig was lawfully married on November 8, 1876 to Frank W. Craig, who was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, on September 15, 1880. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers, and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. The said Kate Craig is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1898.

The evidence further shows that Kate Craig lived with her said husband in the Cherokee Nation from her marriage in 1876 up to and including his death, which occurred on February 23, 1884, since which time she has continued to reside in the Cherokee Nation, and had not remarried up to and including September 1, 1902.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Kate Craig should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

---o---
In the matter of the application of John A. Butts for the enrollment of himself as a citizen by intermarriage, and for the enrollment of his two minor children, Edna M. and Gertie Butts, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION.

The record in this case shows that on October 29, 1900, John A. Butts appeared before the Commission at Claremore, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment of himself as a citizen by intermarriage, and for the enrollment of his two minor children, Edna M. and Gertie Butts, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation. On October 30, 1900, at Claremore, Indian Territory, further evidence in the matter of this application was heard, and on March 8, 1902, and on October 6, 1902, at Muskogee, Indian Territory, further proceedings were had.

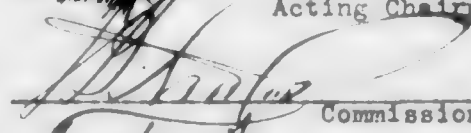

The evidence shows that the said John A. Butts, a white man, was lawfully married, under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation, on March 17, 1895, to Katie Taylor, a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation. The said John A. Butts is identified on the Cherokee Census Roll of 1896, and his child, Edna M. Butts, by his wife, Katie Butts, is also identified on that roll. The other child, Gertie Butts, was born on August 26, 1897, and is duly identified by a birth affidavit, made a part of the record herein.

The evidence further shows that John A. Butts lived with his wife in the Cherokee Nation continuously from the date of his marriage to her until her death, which occurred in 1898, since which time he has continued to reside in the Cherokee Nation continuously, and had not remarried up to and including September 1, 1902. The minor children applicants herein have resided continuously in said Nation since birth, and were residents therein on the date of this application.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that John A. Butts should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage, and that Edna M. Butts and Gertie Butts should be enrolled as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of John J. Dameron as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

D E C I S I O N .

The record in this case shows that on September 22, 1900, Louella Dameron appeared before the Commission at Vinita, Indian Territory, and made personal application for the enrollment, among others, of her husband, John J. Dameron, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings were had in the matter of said application at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on October 6, 1902. The other applicants are differently classified and are not embraced in this decision.

The evidence shows that John J. Dameron was lawfully married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation, on June 6, 1892, to one Mrs. Louella Raines, a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and who is identified on the Cherokee Authenticated Roll of 1880. It further appears that said Mrs. Louella Raines, prior to her marriage to Dameron, was divorced in May, 1891, from a former husband, one Joseph Raines. Said John J. Dameron is identified on the Cherokee Census Roll of 1896.

The evidence further shows that the said John J. Dameron has lived continuously with his wife in the Cherokee Nation since the date of his marriage to her up to and including September 1, 1902.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that John J. Dameron should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

Commissioner.

The first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the Commission of the Five Civilized Tribes was a sense of freedom. It was a relief to be away from the constraints of the reservation.
 The air was fresh, and the sun was shining.
 I felt like I was starting a new chapter in my life.

I had heard that the life outside was better, and now I knew it was true.

I was ready for whatever came next.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of William Warner as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION

The record in this case shows that on September 26, 1900, William Warner appeared before the Commission at Vinita, Indian Territory, and made application for his enrollment, among others, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. The other parties to the application are differently classified and are not embraced in this decision. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on February 25, and October 14, 1902.

The evidence in this case shows that William Warner, a white man, was lawfully married under authority of a Cherokee Marriage license, on April 20, 1880, to Mary McNulty, a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation. William Warner secured a divorce from his said wife, Mary Warner, in 1886. He is identified on the Cherokee census roll of 1896.

Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495) provides for the enrollment of Cherokee citizens, "with such intermarried white persons as may be entitled to citizenship under Cherokee laws."

Section 666 of the Compiled Laws of the Cherokee Nation (1892) is, as follows:

"Should any man or woman, a citizen of the United States, or of any foreign country, become a citizen of the Cherokee Nation by intermarriage, and be left a widow or widower by the decease of the Cherokee wife or husband, such surviving widow or widower shall continue to enjoy the rights of citizenship, unless he or she shall marry a white man or woman, or person, (as the case may be), having no rights of Cherokee citizenship by blood; in that case, all of his or her rights acquired under the provisions of this act shall cease."

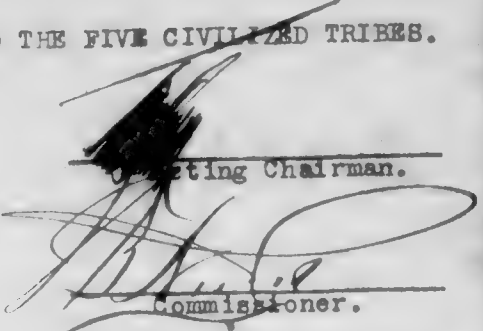

The evidence in this case shows that the applicant secured rights of Cherokee citizenship through intermarriage with his first wife, Mary, and, that after a divorce from her was granted in his favor in 1886, he married his present wife, Eliza, a Delaware Indian, a member of the Cherokee Nation with the same rights and immunities as a native Cherokee under the terms of the Cherokee-Delaware agreement of 1867.

The evidence further shows that the said William Warner has resided in the Cherokee Nation ever since the year 1880.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that William Warner should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of George A. Allen as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION.

The record in this case shows that on September 21, 1900, Thomas P. Allen appeared before the Commission at Vinita, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment, among others, of his wife, George A. Allen, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings were had in the matter of said application at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on October 6, 1902. The other parties to the application are differently classified and are not embraced in this decision.

The evidence shows that the said George A. Allen was lawfully married on December 23, 1879 to Thomas P. Allen, who was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, on September 10, 1883, as shown by an examination of the records of the Cherokee Nation in possession of the Commission. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. The said George A. Allen is identified on the Cherokee census roll of 1896.

The evidence further shows that the said George A. Allen has lived with her said husband in the Cherokee Nation since his admission to citizenship in 1883, continuously up to and including September 1, 1902.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that George A. Allen should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1896, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

Comr. Needles:

The name of Watie Shetley appears upon the census roll of 1896. He presents a marriage license, issued by the authorities of the Cherokee Nation and a marriage certificate certifying that he was married to one Miss Eliza Arch, a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, on the 9th day of May, 1894; said marriage license being in due form.

He avers that his wife Eliza Arch is a Cherokee citizen by blood and her name is upon the census roll of 1896, but upon a thorough examination of the authenticated roll of 1880 her name cannot be found. The name of his child Nancy, five years of age, is also found upon the census roll of 1896.

He avers that he has a child two years of age, and has a record of said marriage, but his name does not appear upon the roll of 1896, having been born since the roll was compiled.

For the reason that the name of his wife cannot be found upon the authenticated roll of 1880 and cannot be fully identified, final judgment as to the enrollment of the applicant, his wife and children will be suspended and they will be placed upon a doubtful card, and he will be required to file with this Commission a satisfactory proof of the birth of said Susan E., whose name does not appear upon the roll of 1896.

Watie Shetley--2.

The undersigned, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

In the matter of the application of Watie Shetley for the enrollment of himself as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, and of his wife, Eliza Shetley, and minor children, Nancy Shetley and Susan Shetley as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

REPORT.

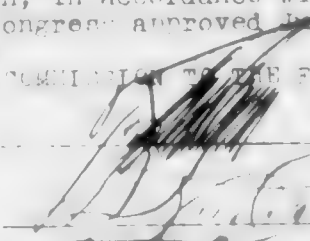

The record in this case shows that on August 29, 1901, Watie Shetley appeared before the Commission at Fort Gibson, Indian Territory, and made personal application for the enrollment of himself as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, and of his wife, Eliza Shetley, and minor children, Nancy Shetley and Susan Shetley as citizens by blood of said nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Tahlequah, Indian Territory, December 6, 1900, and at Muskogee, Indian Territory, April 15, 1902, and again on October 6, 1902. All the evidence taken in the case of Nelson Wesley et al., No. 165, is filed with and made a part of the record in this case.

The evidence shows that the said Watie Shetley, a white man, was married May 9, 1894, under a Cherokee marriage license, and in compliance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation, to Miss Eliza Arch, a native Cherokee, and that the said Nancy Shetley and Susan Shetley are the issue of said marriage. The said Eliza Shetley is duly identified upon the 1880 authenticated roll and on the 1896 Census roll of the Cherokee Nation as a native Cherokee. The said Watie Shetley and Nancy Shetley are duly identified upon the 1896 Census roll of the Cherokee Nation, the former as an intermarried white and the latter as a native Cherokee. Susan Shetley is too young to be upon any of the tribal rolls, but is duly identified by a birth affidavit made a part of the record herein.

The evidence further shows that Watie Shetley has lived with his said wife continuously in the Cherokee Nation from the date of his marriage to her up to and including September 1, 1902. The minor children, applicants herein, have resided in the Cherokee Nation from birth, and were residents herein on the date of this application.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Watie Shetley should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, and that his wife, Eliza Shetley, and minor children, Nancy Shetley and Susan Shetley, should be enrolled as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section 21, of the Act of Congress approved June 23, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

Mr. Watie Shetley,
Bennett, Indian Territory.

Sir:

Upon examination had in the matter of the application of yourself and family for enrollment as citizens of the Cherokee Nation, it is found in reply to a question respecting the name of your wife prior to marriage, you answered, "Eliza Arch." It is also shown by a certificate of marriage that she is known by that name therein.

It also appears from the testimony of witnesses called for the purpose of properly identifying your wife, that they testified that they know her as "Nellie Wely", they also knew her father as "Nelson Wely." There appears to be no explanation for the discrepancy in names by which your wife was known, prior to her marriage.

You are requested to appear before the Commission in person on the 15th day of April, 1902, and introduce satisfactory proof of the identity of your wife, under the names hereinbefore shown.

You are reminded that the proof desired is extremely important in the disposition of your case and your prompt attention to it is requested and urged. Upon your failure to appear on the date hereinbefore specified, your case will be deemed to have been submitted to the Commission for final consideration, upon the incem-

The record in this case shows that on December 10, 1900, Nancy C. Carter appeared before the Commission at Tahlequah, Indian Territory, and made personal application for the enrollment, among others, of John E. Carter as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on March 12, 1902, and on October 20, 1902. The other parties to the application are differently classified, and are not embraced in this decision.

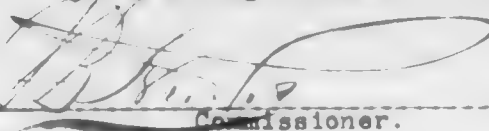

The evidence shows that on or about February 16, 1892, exact date not shown by marriage certificate, the said John E. Carter was lawfully married, under authority of a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation, to Nancy C. Newton. The name of Nancy C. Newton is identified on the 1880 Authenticated Tribal Roll of the Cherokee Nation in possession of the Commission. The said John E. Carter is identified on the Cherokee Census Roll of 1896.

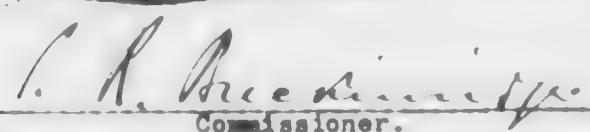

The evidence further shows that the said John E. Carter has lived with his wife in the Cherokee Nation since his marriage to her, up to and including September 1, 1902.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that John E. Carter should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

Q Is this woman's mother named Eve Snake too, the same as yours? A No sir.
Q Oh this woman's mother's name is Anna Snake? A Yes sir.
Q Is she living now? A No sir, she died during the strip payment.

BY COM'R BRECKINRIDGE: The applicant applies for the enrollment of herself, her husband and one minor child; the applicant is too young to be upon the roll of 1880, and there are only two names upon that roll of her maiden sur-name, Josin, namely, her father and mother, as given in the testimony, and both are now dead. The applicant is not identified upon either the roll of 1894 or that of 1896, though very diligent search has been made, and also a diligent inquiry of the bystanders in addition to that which appears in the testimony, to learn her maiden name, or at least some name by which she might have been known. It is shown by what is considered entirely reliable personal testimony that she drew her Cherokee Strip money; of course in that event she is on the 1894 pay roll under some name. She is evidently a full blood Cherokee and cannot speak English; she has lived in the Cherokee Nation all her life. Her change of name, arising from marriage, is established by satisfactory personal testimony, and no moral doubt is entertained whatever that she is upon the rolls under some form of name, but as indicated, it cannot be determined at this time. For the further consideration of her rights under the present testimony, and to await further evidence as to her identification on the rolls, although her deceased father and mother are both identified on the roll of 1880, she will be listed now for enrollment as Polly Snake Wolfe and as a Cherokee by blood on a doubtful basis.

As for her husband, Jackson Snake Wolfe, who was in living and who is ill and unable to apply for himself, he has lived in the Cherokee Nation all his life; he is identified in the rolls.

of 1890 and 1898; he is a full blood Cherokee and he will be listed now for enrollment as a Cherokee by blood.

As for the child Lila Snake Wolfe, born the 7th of last February, she is shown by the testimony to be the child of the applicant by her husband Jackson Snake Wolfe, born in Keweenaw wed-lock, and this child will now be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee by blood. The applicant is desired to supply the Commission with a certificate of its birth.

It is understood that the census taker Edward Washburn, who took the census in 1890 and who enrolled this applicant then, will be in Vinita to-morrow, and it is desired that he be brought before the Commission to assist in the determination of this woman's enrollment.

Chas. von Weise, being sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he reported in full all the proceedings in the above cause and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes herein.

Q What is your post office? A Buche.
Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life.

Q Do you know this old woman here, Eve Snakewolf? A Yes sir.
Q Do you know a woman called Polly Snakewolf? She is now the wife of the son of this old person? A Yes sir.
Q Have you ever enrolled her? A Yes sir.
Q How long has she been married to her husband? A About three or four years.
Q What was her name before she was married? A She went by the name of Tequantnee or Thirsty. Sometimes called Betsy. That is the way I enrolled her, as Betsy Tequantnee.
Q She was enrolled then by her father's name in 1896, what was his name? A Thirsty. She has always gone by the name of Sarah or Susie before.

Q She had a great variety of names? A She got the names in the public schools.
Q She was an orphan? A Yes sir.
Q What was her father's name? A I only knew Thirsty.
Q Do you know her mother's name? A Only what Teequantnes told me, Sarah Buzzard, or something.

1896 census roll of citizens of the Cherokee Nation examined, and applicant identified as follows:

Note: Daughter of Sallie Buzzard.

BY COMMISSION: The applicant gives additional testimony in the case of Polly Snakewolf, on Cherokee Card D-1244. This woman is clearly identified, as shown in the testimony, on the roll of 1896. She is at least several years older than the applicant seems to think though perhaps not old enough to be on the 1880 roll. She has been married some two or three years. No doubt is entertained that she is a full blood Cherokee and has lived in the Cherokee Nation all her life. This testimony will be filed with the case already taken, and is considered sufficient to list Polly Snakewolf for enrollment as a Cherokee by blood.

Wm. Hutchinson, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of the stenographic notes thereof.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application of Polly Snake Wolfe for enrollment as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation:

D E C I S I O N .

The record in this case shows that, on October 23, 1901, Polly Snake Wolfe appeared before the Commission at Vinita, Indian Territory, and made personal application for her enrollment, among others, as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Spavinaw, Indian Territory, April 30, 1902. The other parties to the application are differently classified and are not embraced in this decision.

The evidence shows that the said Polly Snake Wolfe is the daughter of Josinna and Anna Josinna, both full blood Cherokee Indians, who are duly identified upon the 1880 authenticated roll of the Cherokee Nation as native Cherokees. The said Polly Snake Wolfe is duly identified upon the 1896 Census roll of the Cherokee Nation as a native Cherokee.

The evidence further shows that the applicant was seventeen years of age at the date of this application and was born and has always resided in the Cherokee Nation up to and including the date of this application.

The evidence further shows that the said Polly Snake Wolfe is the wife of Jackson Snake Wolfe, a full blood Cherokee, who is duly identified upon the 1880 authenticated roll of the Cherokee Nation and upon the 1896 Census roll of said nation as a native Cherokee.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Polly Snake Wolfe should be enrolled as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section 21, of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

Commission:

Q Has your wife any brothers or sisters? A One brother.

Q How old is he? A I expect her is about twenty two.

Q You have no certificate of the admission of your wife or of her father and mother to citizenship? A No, sir.

Com'r. C. R. Breckinridge: It will be necessary for you to supply some evidence that your wife or her father or mother were admitted to citizenship as claimed; also to identify yourself, because you are not on the roll of 1880, or at least we can not find you on that roll.

By Mr. W. W. Hastings, Cherokee Representative:

Commissioner C. R. Breckinridge: The applicant applies for the enrollment of himself and wife; he is identified on the roll of 1896; he claims to have lived in the Cherokee Nation all his life, but he can not be identified on the roll of 1880: He is now twenty eight years of age; his father and mother it appears died before the roll of 1880 was made; the applicant states that he attended the orphan asylum, and the records of that institution will be consulted if other satisfactory evidence can not otherwise be obtained in regard to the applicant: He will now be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee by blood upon a doubtful card, to await further identification. He states that he and his wife were married in 1896, but is unable to supply evidence of that fact at this time; she is identified with him on the roll of 1896. He avers that she is a Cherokee by blood and states that she has lived in the Cherokee Nation all her life: Her marriage would be too late under the Cherokee law of December 16th, 1895 to entitle her to enrollment as a Cherokee by adoption; neither she nor her father or mother can be identified on the roll of 1880; it is claimed that she is an admitted Cherokee: To await further evidence of her rights as a Cherokee by blood, she will now be placed upon a doubtful card with her husband, as a Cherokee by blood.

The undersigned, being sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

In the matter of the application of Samuel Vann for the enrollment of himself and his wife, Elizabeth Vann, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

--oOo--

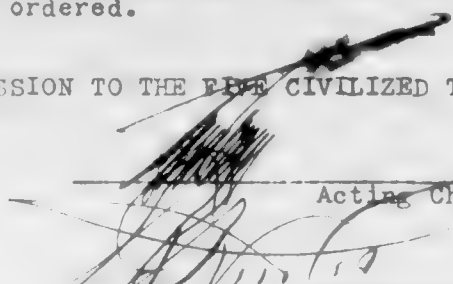

The record in this case shows that on February 14, 1901, Samuel Vann appeared before the Commission at Muskogee, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment of himself and his wife, Elizabeth Vann, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on July 16, 1902.

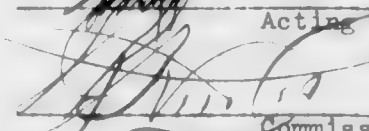

The evidence in this case shows that Samuel Vann, a native Cherokee, who is identified on the Cherokee authenticated tribal roll of 1880, as "Dry Nickoleg," was married in June, 1896, to Elizabeth Brackett, a native Cherokee. The name of Elizabeth Vann cannot be found on the Cherokee authenticated tribal roll of 1880, but, upon examination of the tribal rolls of the Cherokee Nation in possession of this Commission, her name is found on the Cherokee Pay roll of 1883, on the Cherokee Pay roll of 1886, on the Cherokee Census roll of 1890, on the Cherokee Pay roll of 1890, on the Cherokee Strip Payment roll of 1894, and on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. Samuel Vann is also identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

The evidence further shows that Samuel Vann and Elizabeth Vann have lived in the Cherokee Nation all their lives.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Samuel Vann and Elizabeth Vann should be enrolled as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

Commissioner-

The name of Benjamin Grass appears upon the authentic roll of 1880 as well as the Census roll of 1898, and he makes satisfactory proof as to his residence. Being duly identified, he will be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee citizen by blood. He claims he has three children, Vinnie, Minnie and Evelina, by his first wife, Sarah Rowark, and he has one child, Evelina, by his second wife, Lisa Brown, but has no proof of marriage as to either wife. The name of his children, Vinnie and Minnie appear upon the Census roll of 1896, and he makes no proof of birth as to his younger child; consequently, final judgment as to the enrollment of his three children will be suspended, and they will be placed upon a doubtful card, awaiting proof of marriage between applicant and his wives, Sarah Rowark and Lisa Brown, and proof of birth as to his younger child.

E. G. Rotherberger, being duly sworn, stated that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he reported in full all proceedings in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete translation of his stenographic notes in said case.

- Q: He just told you she was dead? A: Yes sir; he just told me she was dead.

Commissioner Breckinridge:

The applicant applies for the enrollment of herself and child. She applies for herself as a Cherokee by intermarriage. The official copy of the records of Coconawacoochee district filed herewith show that she was married to her husband in November, 1896, and he is identified on the rolls of 1896 and 1898 as a native Cherokee. Her marriage to him is too late for her to be entitled to enrollment at this time. It further appears that he was previously married and there is no evidence that he ever secured a divorce from his former wife, but the testimony indicates that he misrepresented her as dead, when Commission No. 3483 shows that she is alive and has applied for enrollment under the name of Emma Rowan. The application for the enrollment of the applicant Eliza E. Grass is rejected. But to perfect a record in her case, she is desired to supply the Commission with official evidence of the divorce of her husband from his former wife. It should also be noted that the applicant is not living with her husband. They lived together for 1 1/2 years after their marriage, and have not lived together since. As regards the application for the enrollment of the child, Emma Eveline, this child is shown to have been listed for enrollment under the application of its father on card D- 879. A copy of this testimony will be filed with that case, and it is necessary for the father to prove his divorce from his first wife before this child by his second wife can be entitled to enrollment, and a note will be made upon the card that proof of divorce from first wife required.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Vinnie M., Minnie E., and Eveline Grass as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION.

--oOo--

The record in this case shows that on October 23, 1900, Benjamin C. Grass appeared before the Commission at Claremore, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment, among others, of his three minor children, Vinnie M., Minnie E., and Eveline Grass as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation. The other party to the application is differently classified and is not embraced in this decision. On October 30, 1900, the testimony of Eliza E. Grass, taken on that day at Claremore, Indian Territory, was made a part of the record in this case. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Claremore, Indian Territory on December 12, 1900. The testimony of Emma Renfrow, taken on September 24, 1900, has been made part of the record in this case.

The evidence shows that Benjamin C. Grass, the father of the minor children herein applied for, is a Cherokee citizen by blood. The said Benjamin C. Grass appears to have been married three times. He was first married to Emma Bluejacket, who appears to have been living at the date of the application herein, and from whom it does not appear that he had been divorced. His second wife was Sarah Rowark, a white woman, to whom he was married in 1887. No certificate of this marriage is filed, but the same is clearly shown by personal testimony. The evidence shows that the two minor children, Vinnie M., and Minnie E. Grass, are the issue of the second marriage. The said Vinnie M., and Minnie E. Grass are identified on the 1896 Census roll of the Cherokee Nation. It further appears that after the death of his wife Sarah, and on November 18, 1896, the said Benjamin C. Grass was married to Eliza E. Brown, a white woman, and that the minor child, Eveline Grass, is the issue of that marriage. The said minor child, Eveline Grass, is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Section 692 of the Compiled Laws of the Cherokee Nation, (1892) is as follows:

"All marriages which are herein prohibited on account of consanguinity between the parties, or on account of either of them having a former husband or wife then living, shall be absolutely void in this Nation, without any judgment of divorce or other legal proceedings provided, that the issue from such unlawful marriage shall nevertheless be legitimate; provided, also, that when a man, having by a woman one or more children, shall afterwards intermarry with such woman, such child or children, if recognized by him, or proven to be his, shall thereby be legitimate."

The evidence further shows that the said Benjamin C. Grass, the father of the applicants, has been a resident of the Cherokee Nation all of his life, and it is considered that the residence of the applicants since their birth has been that of their father.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Vinnie M. Grass, Minnie E. Grass, and Eveline Grass should be enrolled as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

Hon. Tams Dixby,

Acting Chairman, Dawes Commission,

Muscogee, I.T.

Dear Sir:-

In answer to letter written me dated March 19th, 1901, I will state that I am ^{three fourths} ~~half-breed~~ Indian and ignorant of the law or ruling of the Dawes commission in reference to enrolling citizens of the Cherokee Nation. When I applied for enrollment of myself and children in November before the Dawes commission, 1900, my children for some reason were placed upon the doubtful card, so upon inquiring as to what to do in the matter, I was advised by John M. Taylor, Jr., of Claremore, I.T. to get the evidence of witnesses and take them before the commission in person. I did so. I took my witnesses to Tahlequah some time in December 1900, being at an expense of several dollars to take them from Delaware district. After the commission had taken their evidence they stated to me that everything was all right, so I returned home to work by daily labor to support myself and little children. So if any other testimony should be necessary, I would be glad that you give me the proper notice. I remain,

Yours very respectfully,

The applicant applies for the enrollment of herself and husband: She is identified upon the authenticated roll of 1880, and the census roll of 1896, as a native Cherokee: She has lived in the Cherokee Nation for forty two years, and will be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee citizen by blood.

As to the application she makes on behalf of her husband, she avers that she was formerly married to one, Drow: She lived with him continuously up to the time of his death: It appears from the testimony that for two years she kept house for one, Gillespie, and attention is called to the testimony of John H. Gillespie, "D" Card, #505: Gillespie states in his testimony that he lived with an Indian woman, but is unable to remember her name: It is presumed that the Indian woman mentioned in his testimony is the applicant, Jane F. Boyd: She presents satisfactory proof as to her marriage to her husband, in accordance with the laws and customs of the Cherokee Nation, on the 12th day of February, 1893: Her husband has resided with her continuously since that time:

The Cherokee Representatives present request that the husband of the applicant be placed on what is known as a doubtful card, and that the applicant be required to file with this Commission satisfactory proof that she was not living with Gillespie as his wife.

The applicant's husband will be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee citizen by intermarriage, upon what is known as a doubtful card; and when final judgment is rendered in his case, he will be notified in writing at his present Postoffice address.

The undersigned, being sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

---o---

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of John M. Boyd as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION.

The record in this case shows that on October 31, 1900, Jane Florence Boyd appeared before the Commission at Claremore, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment of her husband, John M. Boyd, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings were had in the matter of said application at Dewey, Indian Territory, on October 17, 1902. The application included Jane Florence Boyd, but, as she is differently classified, she is not embraced in this decision.

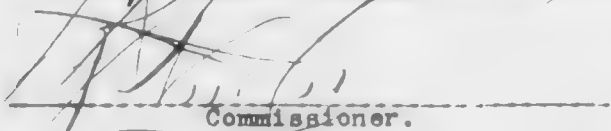

The evidence shows that the said John M. Boyd, a white man, was lawfully married, under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation, on February 12, 1893, to his wife, Jane Florence Boyd, a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, who is identified on the Cherokee Authenticated Tribal Roll of 1880. John M. Boyd is identified on the Cherokee Census Roll of 1896.

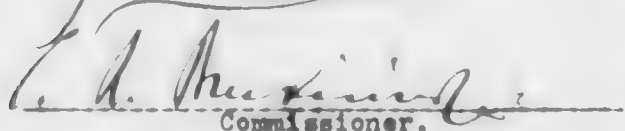

The evidence further shows that the said John M. Boyd has lived with his wife, Jane Florence Boyd, in the Cherokee Nation ever since their marriage in 1893 continuously up to and including September 1, 1902.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that John M. Boyd should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Nancy Buckskin as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION.

---oOo---

The record in this case shows that on April 14, 1902, Nancy Buckskin appeared before the Commission at Salina, Indian Territory, and made application for enrollment as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Spavinaw, Indian Territory on May 1, 1902, and Eucha, Indian Territory, on May 31, 1902.

The evidence shows that the said Nancy Buckskin was twenty-one years of age at the date of the application herein, and that her parents are identified on the 1880 authenticated tribal roll of the Cherokee Nation. An examination of the tribal rolls of the Cherokee Nation in possession of this Commission shows that the applicant is identified on the 1886 and 1894 Pay rolls, and the 1890 Census roll of said Nation.

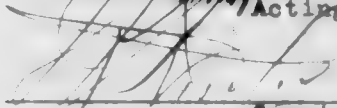

The evidence further shows that the said Nancy Buckskin has resided in the Cherokee Nation all her life.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Nancy Buckskin should be enrolled as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

- Q Lived here all your life? A No, sir, I haven't been here all my life, my father and mother died when I was small and Sue Rogers took me to Texas.
- Q When did you come back to the Cherokee Nation to stay? A In 1882.
- Q Did you have a certificate of admission from the Cherokee Council? A Yes, sir.
- (The applicant presents an official document from the Assistant Executive Secretary of the Cherokee Nation, under the seal of his office, showing that Margaret Hogan was admitted on the 17th of April, 1871, as a Cherokee by descent. This is returned to the applicant.)
- Q What was your name before it was Woods? A I first married Hogan in Texas; my maiden name was Gore.
- Q And you came here while you were a Hogan? A Yes, sir.
- Q You came here in 1882? A Yes, sir.
- Q Have you lived here ever since 1882? A Yes, sir, I married Mr. John McCoy.

- Q When did he leave you? A I left him 1st November, he mistreated me and I left; I was afraid of him, he was drunk and I was afraid of him and I left him.
- Q Where is he living now? A He is living at Collinsville.

- Q Have you ever got a divorce from him? A No, sir.
- Q Did he tell you to leave him? A No, he didn't tell me to leave him.
- Q He just got drunk and swore at you and made you afraid? A Yes, sir, and then he was trying to rob me; the place was mine when I was married; he was robbing me all the time; he had nothing when he married me.

The applicant is shown to have been admitted to Cherokee citizenship in 1882, and has lived here ever since. She is identified on the roll of 1896. The Cherokee representative present makes the request that inquiry be made into the character of the roll of 1896 before final action is taken on this application, it being, in his opinion, possible that the directions in regard to that roll excluded all persons previously admitted who had not come to the Cherokee Nation. For the further consideration of this point, this application will be taken under advisement and will for the present be placed upon a white card.

SUPPLEMENTAL in the matter of the enrollment of MARGARET WOODS
as a Cherokee citizen:

The applicant and her attorney were notified by registered letter February 15, 1902, that the case of Margaret Woods for the enrollment of herself as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation would be taken up for final consideration by the Commission at its offices in Muskogee, Indian Territory, on the 6th day of March, 1902. Receipt has been acknowledged of Commission's letter, and the applicant this day, to-wit: the 6th day of March, 1902, appears by her Attorney, A. M. Calloway, Claremore, Indian Territory.

Mr. W. W. Hastings, Cherokee Representatives, present.

Commission of Mr. Calloway: Is there any statement you desire to make relative to the case?

Mr. Calloway: Yes, sir. The Attorney for the applicant states that from the requirements of the Commissioner, Mr. Breckinridge, that the applicant is identified on the rolls of 1896. The Cherokee representative present at the time of the application of the applicant requesting that examination be made into the character of the rolls of 1880, and that the enrollment of this applicant be held up for that purpose, and this applicant having been notified and there being no examination on record of the rolls having been examined by the Cherokee representatives, and there is nothing bearing to dispute the title of citizenship by blood and the right of enrollment of this applicant, we ask that the applicant be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee Indian by blood.

Mr. Hastings: The representatives of the Cherokee Nation call attention to the clerical error made by the examining Commissioner or the stenographer in the judgment which states that she was admitted as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation in 1882, because the evidence in the case shows that she was admitted in 1871, and first removed to the Cherokee Nation in 1882. The Cherokee Nation disputes the right of applicant to enrollment for the reason that she did not remove to and locate in the Cherokee Nation for 11 years after her admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, and that her name is not found upon the roll of 1880, and has not subsequently been admitted.

Mr. Calloway: Attorney for the Applicant states that the statement of the Attorney representing the Cherokee Nation is all the authority that we have for the examination of the rolls of 1880, and that there has been nothing to show to this Commission that there has been any examination, testimony either record or oral, documentary, disputing the right of this applicant, other than the bare and uncorroborated assertion of the Cherokee Attorney.

Commission: The authenticated Cherokee roll of 1880 has been examined and the name of Margaret Woods does not appear of record thereon.

The Attorney for the applicant and representative of the Cherokee Nation present submit the case. The same is ordered closed and reported to the Commission for final decision based upon the evidence now of record.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application of Margaret Woods for enrollment as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION

The record in this case shows that on October 23, 1900, Margaret Woods appeared before the Commission at Claremore, Indian Territory, and made personal application for enrollment as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on March 6, 1902.

The evidence shows that the applicant's maiden name was Gore, and that she is a Cherokee by blood. On April 11, 1871, she was admitted, by the name of Margaret Hogan, to Cherokee citizenship by the duly constituted authorities of the Cherokee Nation. She has been married several times, her first husband being a man named Hogan. Afterwards in 1887, she married John Mc Coy, who died in 1894. Subsequently in 1895 she married her last husband, Albert H. Woods.

From an examination of the records of the Cherokee Nation in possession of the Commission, it appears that the applicant is identified by the name of Margaret Mc Coy on the 1890 census roll of the Cherokee Nation as a native Cherokee, and on the 1894 strip payment roll of said nation. She is also identified by the name of Margrette Mc Coy on the 1896 census roll of said Nation as a native Cherokee. She was in Texas at the time the 1880 roll was made, and consequently is not identified on said roll.

The evidence further shows that the applicant was born in the Cherokee Nation, but when very young was taken by one, Sue Rogers, to Texas. She returned to the Cherokee Nation in 1882, and since that time has resided continuously in said Nation up to and including the date of the application herein.

It is therefore the opinion of this Commission that Margaret Woods should be enrolled as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section 21 of the act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

Sir:

In the matter of the application of Margaret Woods for enrollment as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation, it appears in the evidence that the applicant was admitted, by the name of Margaret Woods, to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation on April 17, 1871 as a Cherokee by descent.

You are hereby requested to supply the Commission with a certified copy of the records of the Cherokee Nation showing such admission.

Yours truly,

Commissioner in Charge.

Dear Sir:

The copy of the record in regard to the admission to citizenship of Margaret Hogan, was made and sent in upon the request of the Dawes Commission in the matter of the application of Margaret Woods for enrollment as a citizen by blood. I would judge from this that Margaret Hogan married a man by the name of Woods. I believe this Margaret Hogan mentioned in this certificate is J.C. Hogan's wife, or I think Ed. Adair's sister, and is not the woman "Margaret Woods" that is apply for citizenship.

Jack Parris - 4.

Q There were you born in the Cherokee Nation all your life? A Yes, sir, but I have been out and in the Cherokee Nation off and on.

Q You have never been recognized by the Cherokee authorities as a Cherokee citizen? A Yes, sir, I was.

Q Have you any proof of that, any certificate? A No, sir, I have no proof of it, but I have never been rejected at anything I went at.

Q Are these children all living, Honey and Brumette and Buster? A Yes, sir.

Commissioner Headles: Jack Parris applies for the enrollment of himself, his wife, Joan, and four children, namely William A., Brumette, Honey and Buster. The name of said Jack Parris cannot be found upon the authenticated roll of 1880, but it is found upon the census roll of 1886. He avers that his present wife, Joan, is the daughter of Joseph and Mary Weaver, and their names are found upon the authenticated roll of 1880 as indicated in the testimony. The name of said Joan cannot be found upon the authenticated roll of 1880, but is found upon the census roll of 1886. The oldest child for whom he applies, William A., is shown by the records to already have been enrolled on doubtful card No. 48. The names of his other three children are not found upon the census roll of 1886, presumably having been born after said roll was compiled, except the name of Brumette, which is found on the census roll of 1886. Satisfactory proof has been made as to their parent-

- Q What is your present wife's name? A Weaver.
- Q What is her given name? A Joan.
- Q Is she a citizen? A Yes, sir.
- Q Do you apply for her enrollment? A Yes, sir, I apply.
- Q For your wife and one child? A Yes, sir.

- Q What is her father's name? A Joe Weaver.
- Q Is he living? A Yes, sir.
- Q What is her mother's name? A West.
- Q Is she living? A Dead.
- Q What is her mother's name? A I will be dogged if I can tell you, West is all I know; Mary West I think; this is a job I don't understand.
- Q How old is your child? A He is 5 years old.
- Q Is your name on the authenticated roll of 1860? A I can't tell you, sir, whether it is or not.
- Q Where were you born? A I was born in the Cherokee Nation up on Ballard Creek.
- Q Have you always lived in the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir, I have been in the states off and on, and in the Nation; I have been in the Nation for over 18 years; I am on the payment rolls because I drew money, and I have got a license here issued for my first wife.
- Q You have got no children by your first wife? A Yes, sir, I have got one, that is the one I am speaking about; her name was Hester Ann Kelley; that is the one I have William West Parris by; I have got four children altogether.
- Q Do you want to enroll the balance of them? A Yes, sir, I want to enroll them all.
- Q How you want to enroll yourself? A Yes, sir.
- Q And your wife? A Yes, sir.
- Q What is her name? A Joan Weaver.

- Q How old is Brunette Parris? A She is 5 years old.
- Q Are they twins? A No, sir.
- Q How do you happen to have two children not twins the same age?
- Q I married after this here one died; you see the date of that; there is a year and four days difference in them.
- Q Now William West is a child by your first wife? A Yes, sir.
- Q How does his name happen to be West? A He just went by his mothers' ~~name~~ name, that was my father's name and he went by his mother's name; he was Bob Parris' son; that is the way that came about.
- Q Now what is the next child after Brunette? A Well Rosey, 3 years old.
- Q Now what is the next one? A His name is Buster Parris.
- Q How old is Buster? A He is 8 weeks old to-day.
- Q Now who is the mother of William W. Parris? A Hester Ann Kelley.
- Q That was your first wife? A Yes, sir.
- Q Now who is the mother of the other three children? A Joan Weaver.
- Q How old is your oldest child? A The oldest one, since I come to study about it he is 6 years old, and this one is 5; there is a year and four days difference in their age.
- Q Could your name have been on the roll of 1880 by any other name than Parris? A No, sir, it couldn't.
- Q You say your father's name was William Parris? A Yes, sir, because it has never been put down only by Henry Crittenden, he put it down and I drew money on it.
- Q What district did you live in 1880? A I was here at Going Snake.
- Q Is your father or mother on the roll of 1880? A My mother is a white woman and she isnt on the roll; my father is, I am satisfied; he is on the roll away back.
- The 1880 authenticated roll of Cherokees ~~examined~~ examined and the applicant Jack Parris not identified thereon.
- Q Were you in prison on 1896? A Yes, sir.
- The 1896 census roll of Cherokees ~~examined~~ examined and the applicant Jack Parris identified thereon, page 1296, No. 25, prison roll, Tahlequah district.
- Q Did your wife have any other name besides Weaver? A No, sir, she never had any other name; she never was married except by this Cherokee law.
- Q She never was married before she married you? A No, sir.
- Q Why isn't Joan Weaver on the roll? A I guess she was in the Chickasaw Nation when they made that roll.
- Q Is Joan Weaver dead? A No, sir.
- Q Hester Kelley was the mother of William West Parris? A Yes, sir.
- The 1880 authenticated roll of Cherokee citizens examined, and the former wife of applicant, Hester Ann Parris, identified thereon, page 485, No. 1854, as Hester Weaver, Going Snake district.
- Q Now your present wife was named Williams, wasn't she? A No, sir, my first wife was named Kelley and my second wife was Joan Weaver; you see that was when she was an adopted daughter into the family.
- Q How would Hester Kelley get on the roll of 1880 as Hester Weaver?
- A That was just their foolishness in putting her down that way.
- Q Why should they put her down that way? A I don't know, sir; they put her down that way every time, everybody that took the census out there.
- Q Your first wife was adopted into the Weaver family? A Yes, sir, and they just wanted to put her down Weaver so they could draw her money and hold her property.
- Q Your second wife now is named Joan Weaver? A Yes, sir, that is my second wife.
- Q Her father's name was Joe Weaver? A Yes, sir.

Jack Parris - 3.

- Q And her mother's name was Mary Vest? A Yes, sir.
- Q Your second wife belonged to the same family in which your first wife was adopted? A Yes, sir.
- Q How old would your first wife be? A She would be about 20 years old, as near as I can come at it, if she was alive.
- Q Is your second wife older than your first wife? A Yes, sir, she is older; there isn't but a little difference between her age and mine.
- Q How long has your first wife been dead? A She has been dead pretty near three years.
- Q She was pretty young when she was married? A Yes, sir.
- Q How old was she when she was married? A 14 I think.
- Q Your present wife never had any sister or brother named Jess? A No, sir.
- Q Never called Jess? A No, sir.
- Q Who is William Parris, the grandchild of Joe Parris; is that your boy? A Yes, sir.
- Q What was his mother's name? A Kelley.
- Q Is her name Hester? A Yes, sir.
- Q Well Joe Parris says she is dead? A Yes, sir, she is dead.
- Q Well, William has already been placed on a doubtful card by his grandfather, Joe Weaver? A Joe isn't his grandfather; John Kelley is his grandfather; they just raised him, they raised his mother and then they took the child.
- Q You didn't live with your wife more than a year? A No, sir, just a year.
- Q You never have proved up your rights as a Cherokee? A Yes, sir.
- Q Where? A At Tahlequah.
- Q Have you got any certificate? A No, sir, I haven't got any certificate, Henry Crittenden is the one that got it for me, he said my name would just be put on the roll, and I drew the money, just the same as the rest of them, and they have used me just the same as if I was a citizen; they played like I was a citizen.
- The 1880 authenticated roll of Cherokee ~~citizens~~ examined, and the applicant, Joan Parris, not found thereon.
- Q Was Joe Weaver the father of your wife Joan, your present wife? A Yes, sir, he is the father of my present wife; she wasn't here at the time they were enrolling, she was in the Chickasaw Nation. The 1896 census roll of Cherokee citizens examined, and the children of applicant identified thereon as follows: William W. Parris on page 775, No. 1552, Going Snake district, as William Parris;
- (William W. Parris enrolled on Bard Field No. D43)
- Brunette Parris on page 775, No. 1551, Going Snake district, as Brunett Parris.
- Q Is your wife living? A Yes, sir.
- Q Has she been before us? A No, sir, she never has been before you because we never got back from the Chickasaw Nation until about four weeks; we had been out there over a year.
- The 1896 census roll of Cherokee citizens examined and the applicant, Joan Parris, identified thereon, page 802, No. 2365, Going Snake district, as Joannah Weaver.
- The 1880 authenticated roll of Cherokee citizens examined, and the parents of Joan Parris identified thereon as follows: Joe Weaver on page 485, No. 1851, Going Snake district; Mary Weaver on page 485, No. 1852, Going Snake district;
- Q You say now that Joe Weaver and Mary Weaver are the father and mother of Joan, your present wife? A Yes, sir.
- Q Where was she born? A Born in Going Snake district.
- Q How long has she lived in the Cherokee Nation? A She has lived there all the time until about a year ago we went out of the Cherokee Nation, and we never came back till about three weeks ago.

Jack Parris - 4.

- Q Where were you born? A I was born right on Ballard Creek.
Q Lived in the Cherokee Nation all your life? A Yes, sir, but I have been out and in the Cherokee Nation off and on.
Q You have never been recognized by the Cherokee authorities as a Cherokee citizen? A Yes, sir, I was.
Q Have you any proof of that, any certificate? A No, sir, I have no proof of it, but I have never been rejected at anything I went at.
Q Are these children all living, Rosey and Brunette and Buster?
A Yes, sir.

Commissioner Needles: Jack Parris applies for the enrollment of himself, his wife, Joan, and four children, namely William W., Brunette, Rosey and Buster. The name of said Jack Parris cannot be found upon the authenticated roll of 1880, but it is found upon the census roll of 1896. He avers that his present wife, Joan, is the daughter of Joseph and Mary Weaver, and their names are found upon the authenticated roll of 1880 as indicated in the testimony. The name of said Joan cannot be found upon the authenticated roll of 1880, but is found upon the census roll of 1896. The oldest child for whom he applies, William W., is shown by the records to already have been enrolled on doubtful card No. 45. The names of his other three children are not found upon the census roll of 1896, presumably having been born after said roll was compiled, except the name of Brunette, which is found on the census roll of 1896. Satisfactory proof has been made as to their residence, but no satisfactory proof is made as to the citizenship of said Jack Parris, nor the citizenship of his wife, although his wife's father and mother are found upon the authenticated roll of 1880. Consequently final judgment as to the enrollment of said Jack Parris, his wife and children as enumerated herein for Cherokee citizenship by blood will be suspended, and their names will be placed upon a doubtful card, awaiting proof of citizenship of said Jack Parris, proof of citizenship of his wife, Joan, the mother of the three younger children. It will be necessary in order to complete the enrollment of his three younger children that satisfactory proof of birth be filed with the Commission.

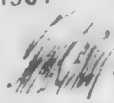

Bruce O. Jones, being duly sworn, says that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings and testimony in the above case, and the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

There appears identified upon the copy of the 1880 roll of citizens of the Cherokee Nation, formerly in possession of the Cherokee Nation, a family in the following order, all on page 52, in Goingsnake District:

#1845, Joe Weaver, native Cherokee, 50, male.
 #1846, Mary Weaver, adopted white, 40, female.
 #1847, John Weaver, native Cherokee, 14, male.
 #1848, Brunett Weaver, native Cherokee, 10, male.
 #1849, Jess Weaver, native Cherokee, 8, male.
 1850, Hester Weaver (dead) native Cherokee, 1, female.

Q Was Hester Kelly a Cherokee by blood? A Yes sir, they always claimed her to be a Cherokee by blood?
 Q Did you ever know a Jess Weaver? A No sir, never did.

 A No sir, always called Joana, ever since I can remember.
 Q Was there a boy living in your family by the name of Brunett?
 A No sir.
 Q Were you listed for enrollment on straight card? A Yes sir.

It is shown upon examination of the Index to Cherokee Enrollment Cards, that the witness is listed for enrollment on Cherokee straight card 350.

It would appear from the above enrollments as cited, and from the testimony just taken, that the Brunett Weaver identified on the 1880 roll as a male, ten years of age, is the witness here present. The 1880 original roll in the possession of the Commission should be examined further to ascertain what disposition has been made of Jess Weaver, whose enrollment is above cited as that of a male six years of age; it being probable that the enrollment was an error and should have been for the sister of the applicant, Joanna Weaver.

- Q Your sister Joanna is living at present? A Yes sir.
Q She is the present wife of Jack Farris? A Yes sir.
Q What is Jack Farris' present post office address? A Tahlequah.

Wm. Hutchinson, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of the stenographic notes thereof.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application of Jack Parris for the enrollment of himself, his wife, Joan Parris, and his children, Brunette, Rosey and Buster Parris, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

D E C I S I O N

The record in this case shows that on April 23, 1901, Jack Parris appeared before the Commission at Fort Gibson, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment of himself, his wife, Joan Parris, and his children, Brunette, Rosey, Buster and William West Parris, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation. William West Parris is differently classified and is not embraced in this decision. Further proceedings were had in the matter of said application on September 19, 1902.

The evidence shows that Jack Parris and his wife, Joan Parris, are Cherokee Indians. Jack Parris is not identified on the authenticated tribal roll of 1880, but he was born, and has lived in the Cherokee Nation practically all his life, and an examination of the Cherokee tribal rolls in the possession of this Commission shows that he is identified on the Strip payment roll of 1894, and the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, as a native Cherokee. The parents of Joan Parris, Joseph and Mary Weaver, are identified on the authenticated tribal roll of 1880, and it also appears that the name of one Jess Weaver is borne on that roll with the family of the said Joseph and Mary Weaver. A further examination of the roll of 1880 and the records of the Commission, show, that no disposition has been made of said Jess Weaver, and that no application has been made to this Commission for the enrollment of any one by that name. It is, therefore, probable that the Jess Weaver on the roll of 1880, is the applicant, Joan Parris, whose maiden name was Weaver. Joan Parris is also identified on the Strip payment roll of 1894 and the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Brunette, Rosey and Buster Parris are the children of the said Jack Parris, by his wife, Joan. Brunette Parris is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and the evidence shows that the other two children, Rosey and Buster, were living at the date of this application.

The evidence further shows that Jack Parris has made his home in the Cherokee Nation all his life, and that his wife, Joan, has resided in the Cherokee Nation all her life. Their children are minors and their residence is considered to be that of their parents. It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Jack Parris, Joan Parris, Brunette Parris, Rosey Parris and Buster Parris, should be enrolled as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

-----o-----

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of William Fister as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, and for the enrollment of his wife, Laura Annie Fister, and his four minor children, Martha A., Maggie M., Henry C. and Nellie G. Fister, as citizens of the Cherokee Nation of Shawnee blood.

DECISION.

--:o:--

The record in this case shows that on October 16, 1900, Laura Annie Fister appeared before the Commission at Nowata, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment of her husband, William Fister, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, and for the enrollment of herself, and her four minor children, Martha A., Maggie M., Henry C. and Nellie G. Fister, as citizens of the Cherokee Nation of Shawnee blood. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on March 5, 1902, and on October 21, 1902.

The evidence in this case shows that Laura Annie Fister, nee Shufeldt, a Shawnee Indian, who was admitted by the duly constituted authorities of the Cherokee Nation "to all the rights, privileges, and immunities of other Shawnee residents in and citizens of the Cherokee Nation," on December 9, 1882, provided no rights should accrue until a certain sum of money was paid to the Cherokee Nation, which condition was complied with, was lawfully married to William Fister, a white man, on October 15, 1886, under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation. The evidence further shows that Laura Annie Fister died on October 26, 1901. William Fister, Laura Annie Fister and their minor children, Martha A., Maggie M., Henry C. and Nellie G. Fister are identified on the Cherokee Census Roll of 1896.

The evidence further shows that Laura Annie Fister lived in the Cherokee Nation from about the year 1885 until the time of her death, and that William Fister has lived in the Cherokee Nation continuously since 1886 with his said wife, up to the time of her death, and that he had resided continuously therein since her death and had not remarried up to and including September 1, 1902. All the children of William Fister and his wife, Laura Annie Fister, included in this application, were born in the Cherokee Nation and it is considered from the evidence that they have lived in said Nation ever since their birth.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that William Fister should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, and that his four minor children, Martha A. Fister, Maggie M. Fister, Henry C. Fister and Nellie G. Fister should be enrolled as citizens of the Cherokee Nation of Shawnee blood, in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

It is further ordered that the application for the enrollment of Laura Annie Fister as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation of Shawnee blood be, and the same is hereby, dismissed.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Jim Hilderbrand as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

D E C I S I O N .

--oOo--

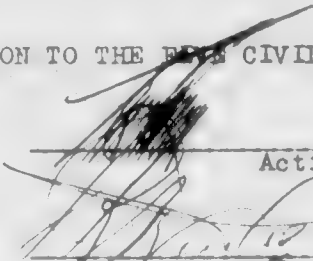

The record in this case shows that on May 8, 1902, Jim Hilderbrand appeared before the Commission at Needmore, Indian Territory, and made personal application for the enrollment, among others, of himself as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation. The other parties to the application are differently classified and are not embraced in this decision.

The evidence shows that the said Jim Hilderbrand is a Cherokee by blood, and that he is identified on the 1896 Census roll of the Cherokee Nation. He is also identified on the 1883, 1886, 1890 and 1894 Pay rolls of the Cherokee Nation, as shown by an examination of said rolls in possession of this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said Jim Hilderbrand has resided in the Cherokee Nation all his life.

---o---

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Darius B. Troth as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION.

--:o:--

The record in this case shows that on September 24, 1900, Darius B. Troth appeared before the Commission at Vinita, Indian Territory, and made personal application for the enrollment, among others, of himself as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on July 2, 1902, and on October 20, 1902. The other parties to the application are differently classified and are not embraced in this decision.

The evidence shows that the said Darius B. Troth was lawfully married on October 20, 1892, under authority of a Cherokee marriage license, to Susan Hart, a Cherokee citizen by blood, who is identified on the 1880 Authenticated Tribal Roll of the Cherokee Nation. The said Darius B. Troth is identified on the 1896 Census Roll of the Cherokee Nation.

The evidence further shows that the said Darius B. Troth has lived with his said wife in the Cherokee Nation continuously from the date of his marriage to her up to and including September 1, 1902.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Darius B. Troth should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

The name of his wife Laura Schrimsher is found upon the authenticated roll of 1890. He avers that his wife has two children, Charles E. Schrimsher, by a former husband, whose name appears upon the census roll of 1896, and Mary I. Kelly, by her present husband. In the matter of the application of Harry A. Kelley for enrollment of himself as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION

The record herein shows that on September 28, 1900, Harry A. Kelley appeared before the Commission at Vinita, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment, among others, of himself as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings were had in the matter of said application at Vinita, Indian Territory, on October 5, 1900, and at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on June 26, and October 16, 1902.

The evidence in this case shows that the said Harry A. Kelley was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation, on December 17, 1894, to Laura Schrimsher, a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation. It appears that said Laura Schrimsher was married prior to her marriage to applicant, to one James Pryor, who appears however to have had at that time a living wife, as the record herein shows that he was convicted of bigamy in 1886. Such prior marriage of applicant's wife, Laura, is therefore considered to have been void. Harry A. Kelley is identified on the Cherokee census roll of 1896.

The evidence further shows that said Harry A. Kelley has been living in the Cherokee Nation with his said wife, Laura, ever since they were married.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Harry A. Kelley should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

W. H. HARRIS: (Representative of the Cherokee Nation)

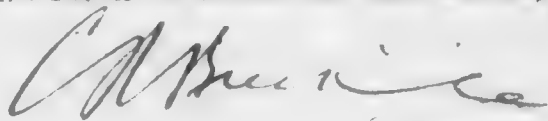

The Cherokee Nation desires to put into this case the testimony of David Fairberty, taken in the case of Harriett Ross, mother of this applicant, which testimony is to the effect that the applicant's mother was married to his cousin, a Shawnee by blood, and that she subsequently married the applicant's father, who was a white man; and that she, the applicant's mother, was also a white woman. The point is not ag. about him at all. I don't know whether there is anything to it or not; but we expect to hold that an adopted white person cannot marry another white person and adopt her. There cannot be any objection made to him because he is on the roll of 1880.

THE COMMISSIONER: The name of John Wesley Purcell appears upon the authorized roll of 1880 as well as the Census Roll of 1896. Being duly identified thereby and having made satisfactory proof as to his residence, he will be duly listed for enrollment by this Commission as a Cherokee citizen by blood.

The name of his wife, Mary E. appears upon the Census roll of 1896. The name of his wife, Mary E., appears upon the Census Roll of 1896. He avers that he was married to her on the 28th day of October, 1889, and presents a certificate of marriage to that effect. The name of his child William R., is also found upon the Census Roll of 1896. He avers that he has one child named Carl, two years old, whose name does not appear upon the roll of 1896 having been born after the same was compiled. He presents satisfactory proof as to its birth. By reason of the protest of the representative of the Cherokee Nation, and judgment as to the enrollment of the said Mary E. Purcell and her two children William R. and Carl B., is suspended, and their names will be placed upon a doubtful card.

The undersigned being sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the testimony and other proceedings in the above application for enrollment, and that the foregoing is a correct and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 2nd day of October A. D. 1900.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Mary E. Purcell as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, and for the enrollment of her three minor children, William R., Carl B. and Milford C. Purcell, as citizens of the Cherokee Nation of Shawnee blood.

II II II II II II II II II

DECISION.

--:o:--

The record in this case shows that on September 20, 1900, John W. Purcell appeared before the Commission at Vinita, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment of himself and his two minor children, William R. and Carl B. Purcell, as citizens of the Cherokee Nation of Shawnee blood, and for the enrollment of his wife, Mary E. Purcell, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. John W. Purcell is differently classified and is not embraced in this decision. Another child, Milford C. Purcell, by name, has been born since the date of this application, and he is now embraced in this decision. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Vinita, Indian Territory, on September 29, 1900, and again at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on October 6, 1902. The testimony of David Daugherty, taken on September 20, 1900, in the matter of the application of Harriett Ross for the enrollment of herself as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, Cherokee Doubtful Case # 348, is made part of the record in this case.

The evidence in this case shows that Mary E. Purcell, a white woman, was lawfully married on October 27, 1889, to John W. Purcell, a Shawnee Indian, an adopted citizen of the Cherokee Nation, whose name appears upon the Register of Shawnees who removed to the Cherokee Nation, pursuant to the terms of the Cherokee--Shawnee agreement of 1869, and on the Cherokee Authenticated Tribal Roll of 1880. Mary E. Purcell and William R. Purcell are identified on the Cherokee Census Roll of 1896. The other children, Carl B. and Milford C. Purcell, born on February 6, 1898, and December 2, 1900, respectively, are too young to be on any roll, but are duly identified by birth affidavits, made a part of the record herein.

The evidence further shows that Mary E. Purcell has lived with her said husband, John W. Purcell, in the Cherokee Nation continuously from the date of her marriage to him up to and including September 1, 1902. Carl B. and Milford C. Purcell have lived in the Cherokee Nation continuously since birth, and were residents therein on the date of this application. William R. Purcell died on August 25, 1901, as shown by an affidavit of death, made a part of the record herein.

Cherokee D-375, # 2.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Mary E. Purcell should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, and that Carl B. Purcell and Milford C. Purcell should be enrolled as citizens of the Cherokee Nation of Shawnee blood, in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

It is further ordered by this Commission that the application for the enrollment of William R. Purcell as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation should be, and the same is hereby, dismissed.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Myron L. Bronson as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

D E C I S I O N.

--000--

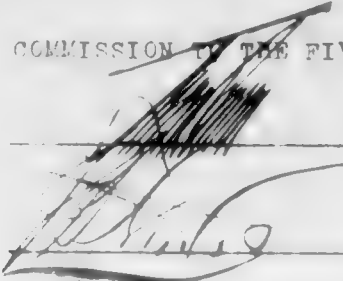

The record in this case shows that on October 3, 1900, Julia Bronson appeared before the Commission at Bartlesville, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment, among others, of Myron L. Bronson as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on March 1, 1902, and on October 21, 1902. The other parties to the application are differently classified, and are not embraced in this decision.

The evidence shows that the said Myron L. Bronson was lawfully married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation, on November 10, 1886, to Julia Hamilton, a citizen of the Cherokee Nation of Delaware blood. The said wife, Julia, is identified on the 1880 authenticated tribal roll of the Cherokee Nation, and on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The said Myron L. Bronson is identified on the 1896 Census roll of the Cherokee Nation.

The evidence further shows that Myron L. Bronson has lived with his said wife continuously in the Cherokee Nation from the date of his marriage to her up to and including September 1, 1902.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Myron L. Bronson should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
 BUREAU OF INDIAN AFFAIRS, THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application of George W. Taylor for enrollment as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION.

--000--

The record in this case shows that on September 18, 1900, George W. Taylor appeared before the Commission at Vinita, Indian Territory, and made application for his enrollment, among others, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings were had in the matter of said application at Tahlequah, Indian Territory, on November 27, 1901, and at Muscogee, Indian Territory, on October 13, 1902. The other parties to the application are differently classified, and are not embraced in this decision.

The evidence in this case shows that George W. Taylor was lawfully married under authority of a Cherokee marriage license, on October 2, 1880, to one Maggie Downing, a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation. After having lived together as husband and wife for about six weeks his said wife abandoned and left him.

It further appears that subsequent to the said abandonment George W. Taylor applied for, and secured a divorce, dissolving the bonds of matrimony heretofore existing.

The evidence further shows that the applicant was again married on December 28, 1888 to one Martha Whitmire, also a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), provides for the enrollment of Cherokee citizens, "with such intermarried white persons as may be entitled to citizenship under Cherokee laws."

Section 666, of the Compiled Laws of the Cherokee Nation (1892) is as follows:

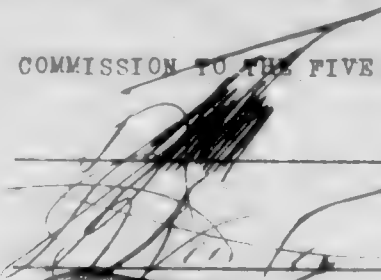

"Should any man or woman, a citizen of the United States or of any foreign country, become a citizen of the Cherokee Nation by intermarriage, and be left a widow or widower by the decease of the Cherokee wife or husband, such surviving widow or widower shall continue to enjoy the rights of citizenship, unless he or she shall marry a white man or woman, or person, (as the case may be), having no rights of Cherokee citizenship by blood: in that case, all of his or her rights acquired under the provisions of this act shall cease."

The evidence in this case shows that the applicant secured rights of Cherokee citizenship through intermarriage with his first wife, Maggie Downing, and that subsequent to her abandonment of him, and his divorce from her, he married his present wife, Martha, a citizen by blood.

The evidence further shows that George W. Taylor is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and has lived in the Cherokee Nation continuously with his said wife, Martha, since 1888 up to and including September 1, 1902.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that George W. Taylor should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, under the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

Q Are you ever married except to you? A No sir.

It appears from the present examination that the applicant was admitted to the Cherokee Nation when a child by his father prior to the year of 1830. His father is identified on the roll of 1830 as a native Cherokee, and he has been admitted to enrollment as a resident of the Cherokee Nation as a native Cherokee. On the roll of 1860, there is also listed the different members of this family and it is not understood how the applicant's name could have been left off of the roll except by neglect or oversight. Evidence adduced in his case is not deemed sufficient to establish his citizenship at the present time, and in the absence of any contradictory testimony, when his case is reached in regular order, it will be transferred to a regular enrollment.

Witness J. W. Schriener, being sworn and examined by Commissioner J. W. Bredelunge, testified as follows:

- Q How old are you? A About 65.
- Q What is your postoffice? A Claremore.
- Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A About 64 yrs.

In the matter of the application of Eugene W. Lowther for the enrollment of himself and others; he being sworn and examined by Commissioner J. R. Breckinridge, testified as follows:

SUPPLEMENTARY TESTIMONY.

- Q Give me your full name? A Eugene W. Lowther.
- Q How old are you? A I'm 30 years old.
- Q What is your postoffice? A Claremore.
- Q In what district do you live? A Cooweescoowee district.
- Q You applied here before for enrollment of yourself and family?
A Yes sir, yesterday.
- Q I find on looking at your card that you need to supply proof of marriage, and you appear to have filed that? A Yes sir.
- Q You filed your marriage license and certificate? A I didn't need any license I was told.
- Q What did you file? A The certificate I filed. The judge he married me and I thought I did not need any license.
- Q Is your wife a Cherokee? A No sir, she's a white woman.
- Q You're a Cherokee? A Yes sir.
- Q There seems to be another trouble about you and that was proof of your citizenship; you were identified on the roll of 1896?
A Yes sir.
- Q But not on the roll of 1880; what can you show in regard to your citizenship? A I want to show that I am an Indian and that I got a right here.
- Q But that kind of evidence is not of any force now; this is not a court to admit you to citizenship, but to enroll you if you have already been admitted to citizenship. A I tell you they asked me yesterday if I was on the 1880 roll; well, I wasn't on the 1880 roll; they asked me why and I told them I did not know. They asked me if I had been readmitted; I told them no yesterday. I found out since that I was readmitted list; maybe you can find me on that roll.
- Q Under what name do you think you were readmitted? A Eugene Lowther.
- Q And what time do you think you were readmitted? A I couldn't tell you.
- Q Who were you readmitted with? A With my mother and Mr. Isabella's wife.
- Q Where were you born? A I was born in Chatopa.
- Q Is that in the Cherokee Nation? A No sir, that's in Kansas.
- Q When did you come to the Cherokee Nation? A Some time in --- it was while I was small.
- Q Were your people Cherokees, or Delawares, or Shawnees? A Cherokees.
- Q Sure they weren't Delawares or Shawnees? A I am sure they were not; they are Cherokees.
- Q What kin is Jane Lowther to you? A She is my mother.
- Q Is she dead now? A No sir.
- Q She's alive is she? A Yes sir.
- Q Where is she living? A About six or seven miles from here.
- Q How old is she? A I don't know how old she is.
- Q Do you think she is sixty or seventy years old? A Yes, she's that old.
- 1880 roll; page 155, #1748, Jane Lowther, Cooweescoowee.
- Q You say that is your mother? A Yes sir, that's my mother.
- Q You have lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since your mother brought you here as a child? A Yes sir.
- Q And your mother has lived here all the time and was enrolled here yesterday? A Yes sir.
- Q You were never married except to your present wife, were you?
A No sir.

Was she ever married except to you? A No sir.
Q You tell me you filed a certificate there of your marriage? A Yes sir.

Commissioner-

It appears from the present examination that the applicant was brought to the Cherokee Nation when a child by his mother prior to the year of 1880. His mother is identified on the roll of 1880 as a native Cherokee, and she has been admitted to enrollment as a present resident of the Cherokee Nation as a native Cherokee. On the roll of 1880, there is identified the different members of this family and it is not understood how the applicant's name could have been left off of the roll except by neglect or oversight. Evidence adduced in his case is considered sufficient to establish his citizenship at the present time, and in the absence of any contradictory testimony, when his case is reached in regular order, it will be transferred to a regular enrollment.

Witness, J. A. Schrimsher, being sworn and examined by Commissioner C. W. Breckinridge, testified as follows:

- Q How old are you? A About 65.
- Q What is your postoffice? A Claremore.
- Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A About 64 yrs.
- Q You have been Judge of this district have you? A Yes sir.
- Q You know this applicant here, Eugene Lowther? A Yes sir.
- Q You know his mother? A Yes sir.
- Q How long have you known his mother here? A Something about '80 I guess.
- Q He's been here all the time has he, this applicant? A I think so.
- Q You have never known of him being away? A No sir.
- Q Do you know of any reason why he should not be upon the roll of 1880 with the balance of his family; he being then a child, except through oversight or neglect? A I can't see any other reason.
- Q You performed the marriage ceremony between this man and his wife did you? A Yes sir.
- Q You know that he was duly married to his wife Josie, the woman that is his wife now? A I don't know her name; I suppose so. I don't know whether he has another one now or not.
- Q You never heard of any trouble between them? A No sir.
- Q You never heard of him marrying except to this woman? A No sir.
- Q You never heard of her marrying except to him? A No sir.

E. G. Rotherberger, being duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he reported in full all proceedings in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete translation of his stenographic notes in said case.

---o---
In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Eugene W., Jennie L., Sammie and Willie Eugene Lowther as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and for the enrollment of Josie Lowther as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION.

The record in this case shows that on October 24, 1900, Eugene W. Lowther appeared before the Commission at Claremore, Indian Territory, and made personal application for the enrollment of himself and his two minor children, Jennie L. and Sammie Lowther, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and for the enrollment of his wife, Josie Lowther, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Claremore, Indian Territory, on October 25, 1900, and at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on March 7, 1902, and again on October 1, 1902.

The said Eugene W. Lowther is a Cherokee by blood. He is not identified on the 1880 Authenticated Tribal Roll of the Cherokee Nation, but his mother is identified on that roll as a native Cherokee.

The said Eugene W. Lowther is identified on the 1894 Pay Roll of the Cherokee Nation and on the 1896 Census Roll of the Cherokee Nation as a native Cherokee.

The evidence shows that the said Eugene W. Lowther was lawfully married to Josie Ligon in the year 1894. No certificate of this marriage is filed, but the same is established by personal testimony. The said Josie Lowther is identified on the 1896 Census Roll of the Cherokee Nation. Her three minor children are too young to be upon any tribal roll of the Cherokee Nation, but they are identified by birth affidavits, made a part of the record herein.

The evidence further shows that Eugene W. Lowther has lived in the Cherokee Nation continuously since he was a small child, and that Josie Lowther has lived with her said husband in said Nation continuously from her marriage to him up to and including September 1, 1902. The minor children have lived in the Cherokee Nation continuously since birth, and were residents thereof at the date of the application herein.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Eugene W. Lowther, Jennie L. Lowther, Sammie Lowther and Willie Eugene Lowther should be enrolled as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and that Josie Lowther should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

ment of himself, his wife and his two minor children; he and his two children are identified on the roll of 1894; none of them are identified on any other roll; the applicant claims to have been admitted to citizenship by the Cherokee Commission in 1870; to have gone for some years to the State of Texas, and to have been absent at the time the roll of 1890 was made; the record of the Commission shows that in Book A, page 440 case #2704 on September 9th, 1896, the applicant filed this application for admission to Cherokee Citizenship; that application was denied, and no appeal was taken; the applicant presents at this time a duplicate copy of the petition that he forwarded to the Dawes Commission, which petition includes the names of himself and his wife and the two minor children for whom he now makes application; the records of the Commission accessible at present only speak of the application made by the applicant himself; as the children have no rights except through the father and mother, and the mother is a white woman, and that have no rights except through the father and her husband, and he has no rights, therefore no rights appertain to any member of the family, and the application for the enrollment of the applicant and his wife and these two minor children at this time is rejected.

- Q Do you know whether the child, Earnest was born in the Cherokee Nation or the State of Texas? A He was born in Texas I think.

Com'r. T. B. Needles: Applicant, Fannie D. Perry, applies for the enrollment of herself, her step child and her own child. From the records of the Dawes Commission it is shown that Silas A. Perry, whom the applicant avers to be her husband, applied to the Dawes Commission on the 11th of September, 1900 for the enrollment of himself, his wife and the two children, Earnest G. and Mary G. .

The records show that said application was rejected: The testimony shows that since September 11th, 1900 the said Silas A. Perry has died; and now comes his widow, Fannie D. Perry and makes application for herself and said two children. The records show that the application of Silas A. Perry for the enrollment of himself, wife and said two children was rejected, because of the fact that the said Silas A. Perry had applied to the Dawes Commission in the year 1896 for the enrollment of himself, his wife and children and that his application was by said Commission denied.

Now comes the applicant, Fannie D. Perry and avers that the S. A. Perry whose name appears upon the record of the Dawes Commission as rejected, in Case No. 2706, is not the identical Silas A. Perry.

who was her husband and who applied for enrollment on September 12, 1900, although the initials are the same; it is averred that the S. A. Perry who was rejected in Case No. 2704 was one, Sallie Ann Perry and not Silas A. Perry. Applicant presents proof of citizenship, more particularly described ~~apud~~ in the testimony, and filed herewith. She also presents satisfactory proof as to her marriage to the said Silas A. Perry: She avers that Earnest G. Perry, ~~is~~ her step son for whom she now applies was the son of the said Silas A. Perry by his former wife, Jennie Perry, but she makes no satisfactory proof of the marriage of the said Silas A. Perry and his former wife, she being a white woman: She avers that Mary G. Perry is her daughter by said Silas A. Perry, her said husband.

The name of Silas Perry is found upon the Payroll of 1894; his name is not found upon the authenticated roll of 1860 or the census roll of 1896; the name of the applicant, Fannie D. Perry and the children, Earnest G. and Mary G. Perry are not found upon the census roll of 1896: Applicant avers that she was married to said Silas A. Perry in the year 1892, and by him had one child named Mary G.

By reason of the fact that the certificate and proof of admission to Cherokee citizenship is not satisfactory; also by the reason of the protest of the Representatives of the Cherokee Nation as to the legality of the certificate and Act of admission to Cherokee citizenship of the said Silas A. Perry; and by reason of the further facts developed in the testimony, final judgment as to the enrollment of the said Fannie D. Perry as a Cherokee citizen by intermarriage; Earnest G. and Mary G. Perry as citizens by blood will be suspended and their names will be placed upon a doubtful card.

Attention is called to Section Two, Article One of the Constitution of the Cherokee Nation. Attention is also called to the testimony in the matter of the application of Silas A. Perry and others on Rejected Card #124.

The undersigned, being sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

Supplemental testimony in the matter of the application of Fannie D. Perry for enrollment as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation. W. S. Stanfield, being sworn and examined by Commissioner T. B. Needles, testified as follows:

Q What is your name? A W. S. Stanfield.
Q What is your age? A 33.
Q What is your postoffice? A Vinita.
Q Do you know the applicant, Fannie D. Perry? A Yes sir.
Q Do you know whether she, or anyone for her, applied to the Commission in '96? A I was attorney for her husband at that time. He went before the Daves Commission in the Western Hotel and had a conversation with Captain McKennon, and Captain McKennon told him it was not necessary for him to make application, and following out these instructions we did not at that time, as his attorneys. Later on when the Commission opened up at Tahlequah, or Fort Gibson, or some where for the enrollment of adopted citizens, he made application for enrollment and they returned his papers, the same as they did a number of others we made, endorsed on back already enrolled; and the case of S. A. Perry, during his life, I wrote to the Commission at Muskogee to return his case and I was down there, and it appears that S. A. Perry was a lady and not the S. A. Perry, or any of the children that are in his family.

The records of the Daves Commission show that in case No. 2704 one S. A. Perry applied to the Daves Commission to be enrolled as a Cherokee citizen under the act of June 10, 1896, and that said S. A. Perry was rejected.

Q Now, you state that the S. A. Perry in that suit is not the Silas A. Perry, who is the husband of the applicant? A Yes sir, it is not.
L. B. Bell: Do you know who that S. A. Perry was, that was rejected? A Nothing more than the records disclose. The records disclose that it was a woman, and the records disclose that the names of her children are not the same as his children.
Q Which one of these, S. A. Perry or the applicant was a Cherokee? A The husband was a Cherokee.
Q What was his name? A Silas A.
Q Where did he live? A Downsomewhere near Big Cabin, down from Vinita on the M. K. & T.; somewhere, At Adair. Somewhere below Vinita, I never was on his place; I know the neighborhood in which he lives.
Q How long since he died? A He has been dead some five or six months something like that.
Q And his wife was named what? A I don't know her name; this is her. I don't know her given name. I might know it if I heard it.
Q You never had their business? A Yes sir, I had their business among other business, and the name of his wife didn't attract my attention.
Q This applicant is that Silas A. Perry's wife? A Yes sir, I know them in their life time.
Q She is not a Cherokee herself? A I don't know anything about that.

Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes.

In the matter of the application of Fannie D. Perry for the enrollment of herself and two children as citizens of the Cherokee Nation. On the 21st of Feb. 1901 Fannie D. Perry applied to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, sitting at Muscogee, I. T. for the enrollment of herself and two children as citizens of the Cherokee Nation. She claims citizenship by intermarriage to Silas A. Perry who was a Cherokee citizen by blood. It seems from the records of the commission that she furnished satisfactory evidence of marriage, but that she was put on the doubtful list—the reason being that Silas A. Perry applied to the Commission at Prior Creek on the 10th of Sept. 1900 and apparently failed to substantiate his claim. His rejection as it appears from the evidence was based upon the ground that his rights had been passed upon and determined in the case of one S. A. Perry who applied to the commission for enrollment, at Fairland in September, 1896, who at one time the commission thought might be Silas A. Perry. It has since been shown that the S. A. Perry who applied at Fairland was not the Silas A. Perry that applied at Prior creek, but was Sally Ann Perry - a person unknown to and unconnected with Silas A. Perry except through error of the commission in mistaking the parties by identity of initials.

The marriage of Silas A. Perry and Fannie D. Perry being established and the doubts raised as to the identity of Silas A. Perry as distinguished from the other S. A. Perry being removed the question to be settled is the citizenship of Silas A. Perry upon which the citizenship of Fannie D. Perry depends. Was Silas A. Perry a citizen on the Cherokee Nation while Fannie D. Perry ~~was~~ was his wife and lived with him ~~at Fairland in September, 1896, who at one time the commission thought might be Silas A. Perry. It has since been shown that the S. A. Perry who applied at Fairland was not the Silas A. Perry that applied at Prior creek, but was Sally Ann Perry - a person unknown to and unconnected with Silas A. Perry except through error of the commission in mistaking the parties by identity of initials.~~ as such? There is in evidence in this case a copy of a decision of the supreme court of the Cherokee Nation showing that on the 13th of December, 1870 Silas Perry was by that court adjudged entitled to Cherokee citizenship. Being a judgment of the highest tribunal of the Cherokee Nation, ^{it} is conclusive— certainly so against the Nation when allowed to stand thirty years without being questioned. Where a party is admitted to citizenship by a court having jurisdiction, in matters of naturalization and the judgment of the court entered of record it closes all inquiry and like any other judgment is complete evidence of its own validity. (Spratt vs Spratt, U.S. Sup. Ct. Rep. L. Ed. Bk. 7, p. 897.)

On page 2 of the transcript of the record in the matter of the application of Fannie D. Perry it appears from the note of the commissioner, ^Y that she was withheld from the straight card "by reason of the fact that the certificate and proof of admission to citizenship is not satisfactory; also by reason of the protest of the Cherokee Nation as to the legality of the certificate and act of admission to Cherokee citizenship of the said Silas A. Perry". The applicant contends that in ^Y the absence of something to impeach the validity of the certificate it should be taken as establishing the fact, ^{that} Silas A. Perry was lawfully admitted to citizenship. Suppose informalities should be found, they ^{should} not be too closely scrutinized. Informalities in a judgment of an Indian court are disregarded by the United States courts. (Barbee vs Shannan, 1 Ind. Ter. Rep. p. 199.) A record of naturalization does not have to ^{show} a special finding of the facts entitling the applicant to be naturalized. The judgment is sufficient evidence that the applicant made a sufficient showing of all the requirements of the law. (Spratt vs Spratt above cited.) Nor does an exemplification of a record of naturalization to be received in evidence require to complete its authentication the certificate of the clerk that the judge of the court was duly commissioned and qualified. (St. Paul, Minn. and Manitoba R'y Co., Pl't'f in error vs David Burton. U.S. Sup. Ct. Rep. L. Ed. Bk. 28p. 604.)

Conceding that Silas A. Perry was at one time a citizen of the Cherokee Nation as shown by the ~~records~~ records of the supreme court of the Cherokee Nation, counsel for ^{the} nation then contend that ~~he~~ forfeited his citizenship by moving to Texas, and plead Sec. 2 of Art. I of the Cherokee Nation as well as the provisions of the Court-is law. Said section of the constitution being as follows: "The lands of the Cherokee Nation shall remain common property; but the improvements made thereon, and in the possessions of the citizens of the Nation, are the exclusive and indefeasible property of the citizens who respectively made, or may rightfully be in possession of them; provided that the citizens of the Nation possessing exclusive and indefeasible right to their improvements, as expressed in this article shall possess no right or power to dispose of their improvements, in any manner whatever, to the United States, individual states, or to ~~any~~ individual citizens thereof; and that whenever any citizen shall remove with his effects out of the limits of this nation and becomes a citizen of ~~any other~~ any other government, all his rights and privileges as a citizen of this Nation shall cease; provided, nevertheless, that the national council shall have power to readmit by law to all the rights of citizenship, any such person, or persons who may, at any time desire to return to the nation, on memorializing the national council for such readmission. Moreover the national, shall have power to adopt such laws and regulations as its wisdom may deem expedient and proper, to prevent citizens from monopolizing improvements, with the view of speculation."

Under this section of the constitution what is necessary in order that upon the removal of a Cherokee from the nation his rights and privileges as a citizen shall cease? He must take his effects with him and he must in addition become a citizen of the government wherein he locates. Both must be done in order to meet the requirements of the constitution. In fine there must be a total abandonment of his connection with the Cherokee Nation and a permanent allegiance to the government under which he takes up his residence. What is there in this case to merit even the suggestion that Silas A. Perry became a citizen of Texas? Nothing but the bare fact of his residence there. There is no evidence that he ever voted or ever exercised any authority or right in Texas more than what any state in the union accords to strangers, sojourners or immigrants. Residence alone does not confer citizenship. Residence without naturalization does not show expatriation or a renunciation of one's former citizenship. (9 Op. Att'y Gen'l's p. 356.)

Silas A. Perry could not have become a citizen of Texas even by permanent and bona fide residence in that state.

He was an Indian by blood as shown by evidence in this case. It is a matter of universal knowledge that the Cherokees of the Indian Territory were not citizens of the United States until ~~made~~ made so by the act of March, 3, 1901. By moving to Texas he could not acquire citizenship there on the principle that a citizen of the United States is a citizen of the state in which he resides. Indians can only become citizens of the United States by naturalization, by treaty or by special act of congress. There is no such thing as a dual citizenship. The applicant has shown the citizenship of Silas A. Perry when he went there and the impediments in the way of his becoming a citizen of that state of Texas. The presumption is that he retained his Cherokee citizenship (Best on Presumptions, p. 186.) Therefore the burden of ^{proof} is upon the Nation in this case to show that Silas A. Perry did become a citizen of Texas, and not upon the applicant to show that he did not. (See case of Henry Hauenstein et al, pl't'fs in error vs John A. Lynham, Escheator for the Commonwealth of Virginia, ~~###~~ U.S. Sup. Ct. Rep. L. Ed. Bk. 25p. 623.) In that case Solomon Hauenstein a citizen of Switzerland and had removed from that country to the state of Virginia and he had so completely severed his connection with Switzerland that upon his death his property got into the hands of the escheator before his heirs heard of his decease. Suit was brought by the heirs to recover the estate from the escheator. The case hinged upon the citizenship of Solomon Hauenstein. The court held that in as much as the heirs had shown that Solomon Hauenstein was once a citizen of Switzerland it was incumbent upon the escheator in Virginia to show that he had been naturalized. The escheator proved only residence and ownership of property in Virginia. The court thought that did not show that Hauensteins original citizenship had ceased and held that he was a citizen of Switzerland despite his removal from there and residence in Virginia. There is less ground for doubt in the case under consideration than in Hauensteins case. Perry did not remove from the Territory permanently as did Hauenstein from Switzerland

He returned to the Nation and enjoyed the same rights and privileges that he exercised before leaving. He held lands in the Nation and was not denounced as an intruder. The authorities recognized his right to procure and protect non-citizen labor and issued him permits to employ citizens of the United States. These permits were only issued to Cherokee citizens. After returning from Texas he lived in the Cherokee Nation more than fifteen years, and until his death and voted and sat upon juries in the Cherokee elections and in Cherokee courts. None but Cherokee citizens were allowed to do this. The exercise of the right of suffrage under the stricture of election laws and under the espionage ~~of parties~~ of party factions is the best evidence of citizenship.

In voting in the Cherokee elections and serving in the Cherokee courts Silas A. Perry not only enjoyed the rights of citizenship, but also performed the duties of a citizen.

On the proposition that Silas A. Perry could not have become a citizen of Texas by residence there, see ^{Case 7} John Elk, pltf in error vs Charles Wilkins. U.S. Sup. Ct. Rep. L. Ed. Bk. 23p. 643. In that case it was held that a showing on the part of Elk who was an Indian, that he was born in the United States and had severed his relations with his tribe and had completely and fully surrendered himself to the jurisdiction of the United States, and had become a bona fide resident of the state of Nebraska did not show that he was either a citizen of the United States or, the state of Nebraska.

The authorities of the Cherokee Nation have never contended that non-residence of a readmitted citizen of the Nation meets the requirements of Sec. 3 of Art. 1 of the constitution, by which citizenship may be lost.

of inquiry

The Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes sitting as a court, to investigate and determine the rights of claimants of Cherokee citizenship under the law will take judicial notice of the construction placed upon the Cherokee laws by the Cherokee authorities, and also of the history of those laws. On the assertion that the Cherokee authorities under their construction of the Cherokee constitution have never considered residence outside the limits of the Cherokee Nation, subsequent to re-admission, an attempted assumption of foreign citizenship attention is called to the "Senate Bill #34" enacted in December, 1894, which reads as follows: "An act to require requiring persons readmitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation to locate within six months. - Be it enacted by the National Council that all persons who have been or may hereafter be readmitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation are hereby required to permanently locate within the limits of the Cherokee Nation within six months from the passage of this act, or from the date of readmission, or no rights whatever shall accrue to such persons by reason of such readmission; provided, that nothing in this act shall bar minors and orphans."

The law itself is an admission of the rights of the readmitted citizens residing ~~abroad~~

~~abroad~~ abroad, and requires them to "permanently locate" in the Cherokee Nation within six months. This law was passed in 1894 just after the "strip payment". In the spring of 1894 came on for distribution the strip-money. In that payment every readmitted citizen, regardless of residence received his pro rata share. And thousands of dollars of that money was sent to readmitted citizens residing throughout the Union.

Seeing this the resident Cherokees for the first time awakened to the idea of a unification of interests at home, and the advantage of concentrating their means and energy for the development of the resources of the Nation, in December of 1894 at the first meeting of the Council after the strip payment passed the law referred to, requiring all readmitted Cherokees to permanently locate within the Nation. In the light of the history of the law, what does the law mean? It simply means that every readmitted citizen who does not permanently locate will find his name a dead letter on the pay roll in case of another payment.

Silas A. Perry at that time had taken up his permanent residence in the Cherokee Nation and was exercising the rights and performing the duties of a citizen. From the language of the senate bill the inference is clear that the legislators of the Cherokee Nation never deemed it necessary for a readmitted Cherokee citizen to be again readmitted on returning to the Nation. Nor does the law require the readmission of a readmitted non-resident citizen upon his return to the Cherokee Nation. On the other hand it invites the prodigal back the only condition being that he shall return within six months from the passage of the act if he is already a readmitted nonresident citizen. And in case one should be readmitted in the future he can live where he chooses the first six months of his citizenship. All this goes to show the true meaning of the constitution, and that residence abroad has never been deemed to work a forfeiture of citizenship at home. Mary Gladys Perry is shown to be the daughter of Silas A. Perry and Fannie D. Perry, and is entitled to enrollment if it is found that said Silas A. and Fannie D. Perry are citizens of the Cherokee Nation. Mary Gladys was born of the marriage entered into according to the laws of the Cherokee in the year 1892. She was born of Cherokee blood, on Cherokee soil, and has since her birth lived continuously in the Cherokee Nation. It is insisted that she should be enrolled as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation. In this case application is also made for the enrollment of Earnest G. Perry as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation. Earnest G. Perry is shown to be the son of Silas A. Perry by his first wife. But it is contended that the license and certificate showing the marriage of Silas A. Perry to his first wife should be produced. The applicant doesn't think it necessary. It is in evidence that Silas A. Perry and his first wife were married on Cowkin Prairie in Cherokee Nation. It is in evidence that subsequent to that marriage they lived together as man and wife till her death. It has been over thirty years since that marriage, and the parties to it up to the death of the wife had lived together under the law as man and wife for twenty years. The marriage was never questioned, and since innocence and compliance with the law are presumed, ~~was~~ until this ^{has} proved, it is not incumbent upon the child to produce parents' marriage license and certificate of marriage. Earnest G. Perry insists that he is a Cherokee by blood and is entitled to be enrolled as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation. But it is again contended that this child was born in Texas. What has that to do with the case, if his father was a Cherokee citizen at the time of the child's birth? ^{or if he became a citizen before the child attained his majority} The child follows the citizenship of the father. That the child should acquire citizenship by the accident of birth on the soil of ^a the sovereign or state, is an idea that has never found lodgment in any country since the days of feudalism and serfdom. The rule in the United States has always been that citizenship is conferred by descent, and that the citizenship of the father, he being the head of the family governs the citizenship of his off-spring, and as often as the citizenship of the father changes so does the citizenship of his minor children. It is shown in this case that Silas A. Perry was a citizen of the Cherokee Nation in 1870. It is not shown that he became a citizen of Texas as it now contended by the Nation, for "expatriation includes not only emigration but also naturalization." (9 Opinion Atty Gen. P. 356). It is shown that from 1889 till his death in 1901, he lived continuously in the Cherokee Nation as a recognized citizen thereof exercising the privileges and performing the duties of Cherokee citizenship. Silas A. Perry and Earnest G. Perry and Mary G. Perry are on the pay roll of 1894, and there is no evidence that they are there by fraud or without authority of law and under Sec. 21 of the Curtis law it seems to be the duty of the Commission, ^{to enroll those} whose names are found on the roll when not there by fraud or without authority of law. The applicants, Fannie D. Perry, Earnest G. Perry and Mary G. Perry believe they are entitled to all the rights of Cherokee citizenship, and it is requested that they be enrolled as citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

In the matter of the application of Fannie D. Perry et al for enrollment as citizens of the Cherokee Nation.
Cherokee D. 1120.

Brief on part of the Cherokee Nation.

The testimony in this case shows that Fannie D. Perry is a white woman; that she married her husband Silas A. Perry, now deceased, in 1892; that her husband was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation in December 1870; that from his own testimony given at Pryor Creek, September 10, 1900 in this case prior to his death he stated that he went back to Texas in the fall of 1871, but he does not state the exact time of his return to the Cherokee Nation. This, however, is left for his wife the present applicant to state upon her subsequent examination at Vinita on October 29th, 1901 when she says that Silas A. Perry returned to the Cherokee Nation in 1889. The testimony also shows that he was married in the State of Texas in the year 1873 to Jennie Albright and the testimony further shows that his child by his first wife, now twenty years of age was born in the state of Texas. His present wife did not know him until after the death of his first wife hence some of her statements in her first testimony are matters of hearsay but from the statement of Silas A. Perry himself that he went to Texas in the fall of 1871 and the fact that he was married there in 1873 and the fact that his oldest child born about the year 1880 was born there, in the state of Texas, and from the testimony of the applicant as to the date of his return in 1889, also from the testimony of D. M. Rogers and Frank Skinner we are bound to conclude that Silas A. Perry must have resided in the State of Texas continuously from the fall of 1871 until 1889. We are further justified in this conclusion by the remark made by Silas A. Perry himself during the course of his examination when he stated: "When I came back I took the wrong advice, I would have sent papers down there to be readmitted but as smart a man as was in the Cherokee Nation stated there was no use." From this we conclude that Silas A. Perry himself realized that there were doubts about his citizenship and from that we are justified in inferring that this is corroborative of our contention that he resided in the state of Texas from 1871 until 1889 a period of eighteen years. There is no testimony whatever introduced to contradict or to disturb this inference and if it be true the Cherokee Nation contends that the applicants, whose rights depend upon Silas A Perry are not entitled to be enrolled as citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

As early as 1873 the Cherokee Nation passed an act limiting the time of the return of all persons who had heretofore been readmitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation which is found in the compiled laws of the Cherokee Nation, 1875, on page 270 as follows:

" That all those persons, who have, by special act or otherwise, been re-admitted to the rights and privileges of Cherokee Citizenship, and who shall fail to return to the Nation within six months from the date hereof, and thereafter identify themselves with the People of the Cherokee Nation, by locating permanently, shall be barred such rights of citizenship, all provisions to the contrary notwithstanding."

The Cherokee Constitution provides: " That whenever any citizen shall remove with his effects out of the limits of this Nation, and become a citizen of any other government, all his rights and privileges as a citizen of this Nation shall cease."

Now the testimony shows that Silas A Perry removed from without the limits of the Cherokee Nation to the state of Texas, that he married there where his oldest child was born and that he resided there continuously for a period of eighteen years that he never was readmitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon his return to the Cherokee Nation in 1889 and there is no proof whatever that he retained any property within the limits of the Cherokee Nation during this long absence. In as much as the citizenship of Fannie D Perry depends upon Silas A Perry also that of the children and for the reasons herein above set forth we do not believe that Silas A Perry would be entitled to enrollment if he were living and we submit that none of the applicants are entitled to be enrolled under the law as citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

The record in this case shows that on September 10, 1900, Silas A. Perry appeared before the Commission at Fryer Creek, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment, among others, of himself as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation. The other parties to this application are not embraced in this order.

The evidence shows that Silas A. Perry died on the 2nd day of February, 1901.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that the application for the enrollment of Silas A. Perry as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation, should be dismissed without prejudice as to any future action which may be deemed necessary and proper, and it is so ordered.

In the matter of the application of Fannie D. Perry for the enrollment of herself as a citizen by intermarriage, and for the enrollment of her minor step-child, Earnest G. Perry, and her minor child, Mary G. Perry, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION.

The record in this case shows that on February 21, 1901, Fannie D. Perry appeared before the Commission at Muskogee, Indian Territory, and made personal application for the enrollment of herself as a citizen by intermarriage, and for the enrollment of her minor step-child, Earnest G. Perry, and her minor child, Mary G. Perry, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Vinita, Indian Territory, on May 22, 1901, and October 29, 1901, and at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on March 19, 1902, and on September 29, 1902. The testimony of Silas A. Perry, taken at Pryor Creek, Indian Territory, on September 10, 1900, has been made a part of the record in this case.

The evidence shows that the said Fannie D. Perry was lawfully married on October 23, 1892, to Silas A. Perry, who was re-admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the legally constituted authorities of said Nation on December 13, 1870. The evidence further shows that the minor child, Mary G. Perry, is the issue of that marriage. The evidence further shows that the said Silas A. Perry was married in the year 1873 to Jennie Albright, and that she was dead at the date of his marriage to his wife, Fannie D. Perry. The minor child, Earnest G. Perry, is the issue of the marriage of Silas A. Perry and Jennie Perry. The said Earnest G. Perry is identified on the 1890 Census Roll and the 1894 Pay Roll of the Cherokee Nation, as a Cherokee by blood. His father is identified on the 1890 Census Roll of the Cherokee Nation, as a Cherokee by blood, and his mother is identified on that roll as an intermarried white. The minor child, Mary G. Perry, is identified on the 1894 Pay Roll of the Cherokee Nation, as a Cherokee by blood.

The evidence further shows that the said Silas A. Perry removed from the Cherokee Nation to the State of Texas in the year 1871; that he returned to the Cherokee Nation about the year 1889, and resided therein continuously until his death on February 2, 1901. It is further shown that the said Fannie D. Perry resided continuously in the Cherokee Nation with her husband from the date of their marriage until his death; that she has continued to reside in said Nation, and was a resident thereof, and had not remarried up to and including September 1, 1902. It is considered that the residence of the minor children herein applied for has been that of their parents.

Article 11 of the treaty concluded between the United States and the Cherokee Nation, at Tahlequah, Indian Territory, on December 19, 1891, approved by the Principal Chief on January 4, 1892, and ratified by an act of Congress, approved March 3, 1893, (27 Stats., L. 612-641) provides as follows:

"For and in consideration of the above cession and relinquishment, the United States agrees:

First: That all persons now resident, or who may hereafter become residents, in the Cherokee Nation, and who are not recognized as citizens of the Cherokee Nation by the constituted authorities thereof, and who are not in the employment of the Cherokee Nation, or in the employment of citizens of the Cherokee Nation, in conformity with the laws thereof, or in the employment of the United States Government, and all citizens of the United States who are not resident in the Cherokee Nation under the provisions of treaty or acts of Congress, shall be deemed and held to be intruders and unauthorized persons within the intent and meaning of section six of the treaty of 1835; and sections twenty-six and twenty-seven of the treaty of July 19, 1866, and shall, together with their personal effects, be removed without delay from the limits of said Nation by the United States, as trespassers, upon the demand of the principal chief of the Cherokee Nation".

Upon examination of the lists of intruders and unauthorized persons residing in the Cherokee Nation, furnished by the principal Chief pursuant to said treaty, which lists bear date of 1893 and are now in possession of the Commission, it appears that the names of none of said applicants are found thereon.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Fannie D. Perry should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, and that Earnest G. and Mary G. Perry should be enrolled as citizens by blood of said Nation in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 23, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Minnie Williams as a citizen by intermarriage, and for the enrollment of Guy Williams, Anna Williams and Mary E. Williams as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION.

The record in this case shows that on November 20, 1900, Jack Williams appeared before the Commission at Chelsea, Indian Territory, and made personal application for the enrollment of his wife, Minnie Williams, as a citizen by intermarriage, and their minor children, Guy, Anna and Mary E. Williams, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on October 15, 1902. The application also included himself, but as he is differently classified, he is not embraced in this decision.

The evidence shows that Minnie Williams, formerly Elliott, was lawfully married on April 16, 1893, to Jack Williams, a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation. As a result of that marriage the minor children hereinbefore named were born. It further appears that Jack Williams, prior to his marriage to this wife, had been married twice, his first wife being dead, and at the time of his marriage to Minnie Williams he had been divorced from his second wife. Minnie Williams and Guy Williams are identified on the Cherokee census roll of 1896. Anna Williams and Mary E. Williams are identified by certificates of birth made a part of the record herein. There was filed with this Commission, and made a part of the record herein, a death affidavit wherein it is shown that Mary E. Williams died on June 19, 1902.

The evidence further shows that Minnie Williams has lived with her said husband in the Cherokee Nation and Indian Territory continuously from her marriage up to and including September 1, 1902. The residence of the minor children herein has been the same as that of their parents.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Minnie Williams should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage, and Guy Williams and Anna Williams should be enrolled as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 23, 1898, (30 Stat., 495), and it is so ordered.

It is further ordered by this Commission that the application for the enrollment of Mary E. Williams as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation be, and the same is hereby, dismissed.

Q Now Morgan, did your wife in 1896 make application to the Dawes Commission for admission? A Her mother did.
 Q What was the outcome of that? A The verdict of the Dawes Commission was that they were citizens, and the Nation took an appeal, and it came to the wife at that time, and the balance of the balance of the court was that they were not citizens. It was reversed, but I have a book told since she was not in the appeal.

The applicant applies for the enrollment of himself, his wife and five children. The applicant is enrolled on the rolls of 1880 and 1896, as a native Cherokee, No. 1, living in the Cherokee Nation and has lived there ever since his enrollment in 1880, and he will be enlisted now for enrollment in Cherokee by blood.

The wife is identified on the rolls of 1880 and 1896 as a native Cherokee, and has lived with her husband in the Cherokee Nation ever since her enrollment in 1880, but it appears from the records of the Dawes Commission, District 1, page 200, case No. 1884, that by some means indicated by the present line of testimony the applicant's wife was a party to an application for admission to Cherokee citizenship in the application filed September 10, 1892, and that the case was heard by the Dawes Commission. The case was appealed to the Federal Court, and the judgment of the Commission reversed. In fact the Commission it appears that the applicant's wife was included in the roll of the Federal Court, for the case of the applicant of the case was reversed, and the case was reversed, and the case was reversed.

As to the five children here applied for, Martha L. Morgan is identified on the rolls of 1880, and 1890. The four remaining children Margaret A. E. Morgan, Amanda P., Sallie M. and Ellen P. M., are identified with their parents on the roll of 1890. They are all Seneca and they are all living with their parents at this time in the Cherokee Nation, and they will now be eligible for enrollment as Cherokee's by blood.

The undersigned, being duly sworn, states that as Commissioner of the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he carefully reviewed the testimony and other proceedings in the above cause, and that the foregoing is a correct and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Mary L. Morgan as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation.

D E C I S I O N .

The record in this case shows that on September 13, 1900, Gideon Morgan appeared before the Commission at Pryor Creek, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment, among others, of his wife, Mary L. Morgan as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings were had in the matter of said application at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on October 4, 1902. The other parties to the application are differently classified, and are not embraced in this decision.

The evidence shows that Mary L. Morgan is the daughter of Martha A. Payne, and it appears from an examination of the records of the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes that the said Martha A. Payne filed an application, under the provisions of the Act of June 10, 1896 (29 Stats., 321), for the admission of the said Mary L. Morgan, among others, to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, by reason of her Cherokee blood. On November 23, 1896, the Commission admitted said Mary L. Morgan to citizenship, and that on appeal to the United States Court in the Indian Territory for the Northern District, said Court reversed the decision of the Commission and denied the application of all the parties including the said Mary L. Morgan.

It further appears from the evidence that the said Mary L. Morgan was married in 1874 to Gideon Morgan, a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation, who is duly identified on the authenticated tribal roll of 1880. Mary L. Morgan is identified on the authenticated tribal roll of 1880, and on the Cherokee census roll of 1896.

The evidence further shows that the said Mary L. Morgan has resided with her husband in the Cherokee Nation continuously since the date of her marriage to him up to and including September 1, 1902.

It is the opinion of this Commission that the said Mary L. Morgan acquired rights as an intermarried Cherokee by her marriage to said Gideon Morgan, and that her right to enrollment as such is not prejudiced by the denial of her application for admission as a citizen by blood under the provisions of the said Act of June 10, 1896, and that the said Mary L. Morgan should therefore be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

D E C I S I O N .

--:o:--

The record in this case shows that on August 9, 1900, Solomon Copeland appeared before the Commission at Sallisaw, Indian Territory, and made personal application for the enrollment of himself as a citizen by intermarriage, and for the enrollment of his wife, Dollie Copeland, and their minor children, Robert F., William M. and Nola E. Copeland, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings were had in the matter of said application at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on October 10, 1902.

The evidence shows that Solomon Copeland was lawfully married, under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation, on June 28, 1891, to Dollie Blythe, a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation. Dollie Copeland is identified on the Cherokee Authenticated Tribal Roll of 1880, under the name of her step-father, as Dollie Heffington. She is also identified on the Cherokee Strip Payment Roll of 1894 and the Cherokee Census Roll of 1896, as Dollie Copeland. Solomon Copeland and Robert F. Copeland are identified on the Cherokee Census Roll of 1896. William M. Copeland and Nola E. Copeland, having been born since said roll, are duly identified by birth affidavits, made a part of the record herein.

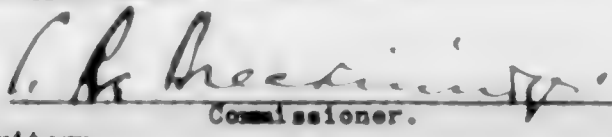

Dollie Copeland has lived in the Cherokee Nation all her life, with the exception of a short absence in the Choctaw Nation. Solomon Copeland has lived with his said wife in the Cherokee Nation continuously from the date of his marriage to her up to and including September 1, 1902. The minor children have been continuous residents in said Nation.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Solomon Copeland should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage, and that his wife, Dollie Copeland, and their minor children, Robert F., William M. and Nola E. Copeland, should be enrolled as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of George G., Leonard C. and Zollie E. Wood, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and for the enrollment of Etha B. Wood as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

D E C I S I O N .

The record in this case shows that on October 4, 1900, George G. Wood appeared before the Commission at Vinita, Indian Territory, and made personal application for the enrollment of himself and his minor child, Leonard C. Wood, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and for the enrollment of his wife, Etha B. Wood, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on February 28, 1902, and again on September 29, 1902. On April 16, 1902, there was filed with this Commission an affidavit of birth where in it appears that Zollie E. Wood was born on January 28, 1902, and that she is the child of George G., and Etha B. Wood.

The evidence shows that the said George G. Wood resided in the Cherokee Nation all his life up to about October, 1898, at which time he took his wife to the State of Colorado for the benefit of her health, and returned with his family in July, 1901. This absence appears to have been only of a temporary nature. He is identified on the 1880 authenticated tribal roll of the Cherokee Nation and on the 1896 census roll of the Cherokee Nation.

The evidence shows that the said Etha B. Wood was lawfully married to George G. Wood on October 7, 1894. She is duly identified on the 1896 census roll of the Cherokee Nation.

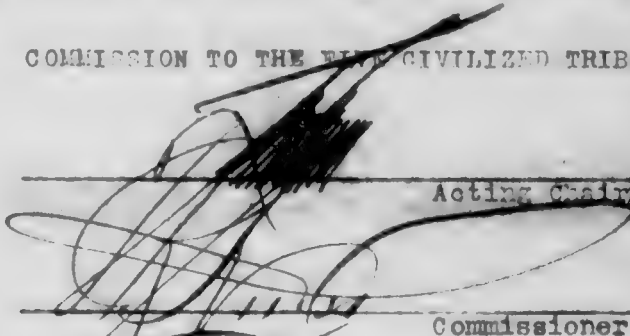

The minor children, Leonard C., and Zollie E. Wood, are too young to be upon any tribal roll of the Cherokee Nation, but are duly identified by birth affidavits made a part of the record herein.

The evidence further shows that George G. Wood, with the exception of the temporary absence hereinbefore shown, has resided in the Cherokee Nation continuously since 1874, and that his wife, Etha B. Wood, has resided with her said husband from her marriage continuously up to and including September 1, 1902. The residence of the minor children herein is considered to have been the same as that of the parents.

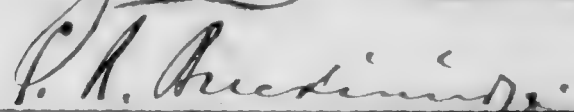

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that George G. Wood, Leonard C. Wood and Zollie E. Wood, should be enrolled as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and that Etha B. Wood should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 26, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

Judgment:- The applicant applies for the enrollment of herself, husband and four children. She is identified on the 1880 and 1896 roll as a native Cherokee. She has lived in the Cherokee Nation all her life and she will be listed now for enrollment as a Cherokee by blood. Her oldest child, Lora Pace is identified with her on the roll of 1896. This child is living now and will be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee by blood. When she supplies the Commission with proper certificates of the birth of her three youngest children, Leonard, Rosa Lee, and Ola D. Pace, these children also will be listed for enrollment as Cherokees by blood. Her husband states that he was married to his wife Minnie on the 30th of April, 1893, and it is alleged that neither of them were ever previously married. He is not able to present a certificate of his marriage at this time, but states that he has sent for an official copy of the records. He is not on the 1896 roll, which from his testimony would be due to a clerical error. Granting him the benefit of the assumption that there will be presented evidence of his marriage in accordance with Cherokee law, he will be placed on a doubtful card, being classed as a Cherokee by adoption, to await the production of evidence as to his marriage.

FILED

ACTING CHAIRMAN

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of James Pace as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION.

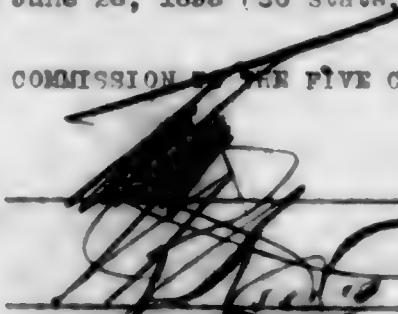

The record in this case shows that on November 17, 1900, Minnie Pace appeared before the Commission at Chelsea, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment, among others, of her husband, James Pace, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings were had in the matter of said application at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on October 25, 1902. The other parties to the application are differently classified and are not embraced in this decision.

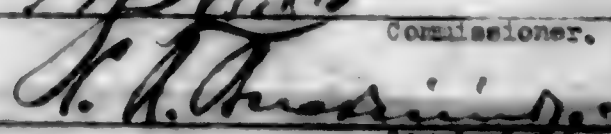

The evidence shows that James Pace was lawfully married, under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation, on May 2, 1893, to one Minnie Melton, a Cherokee citizen by blood.

The evidence further shows that James Pace has lived in the Cherokee Nation with his said wife continuously since their marriage, up to and including September 1, 1902.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that James Pace should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

 Q What is your post-office? A Bartlesville.
 Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A I have been here since 1871.
 Q Can you assist us in identifying Charles Colston on the roll of 1880? A I can identify Charlie Colston, but I don't know how it is he was left off of the roll of 1880; the only way I can account for it was that his parents was a little careless in giving in the names, - his grandfather rather.
 Q How long have you known him in the Cherokee Nation? A Since he was a little boy I suppose about two or three years old.
 Q What is his present age, about 29 or 30? A I should judge so.

 Q You feel no doubt whatever of the nativity of Charles Colston to the Cherokee Nation? A No sir, I have no doubt in the world but that he is a Cherokee Indian.
 Q Always understood he was born here? A Yes sir.
 Q And lived here all his life? A Yes sir.
 Q What is your business in the Cherokee Nation? A General merchandise and cattle.
 Q You have been in business ever since you came to the Cherokee Nation have you? A Most of the time, yes sir.

 Q How long have you known him? A I have known him ever since I have lived over in this country part of the country; I moved here in 1882.
 Q Has he always been recognized as a Cherokee citizen? A Yes sir.
 Q You know of any reason why he should not be on the roll of 1880?
 A No sir.
 I don't think it is carelessness on the part of his parents or the census takers.
 Q You know his wife Annie? A No sir. I know he is married, but I don't know his wife.
 Q You have never known him to have but one wife? A That's all.
 Q You know he has lived all his life in the Nation? A Yes sir.
 Q Has he always been looked upon as a native of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
 Q Never lived anywhere else? A No sir.
 Only he worked back and forth part of the time in the Osage Nation but he has always lived here.

Q Permanent residence here, A Yes sir.

Com'r Breckinridge: This evidence seems to definitely identify Charles Colston as a native of the Cherokee Nation, and the witnesses are recognized in this community as responsible men, and the evidence will be placed with the file of Card D 556.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Charles Colston and his minor children, Mary Susan, Bertha May and Alberty Colston, as citizens by blood, and for the enrollment of his wife, Annie Colston, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

D E C I S I O N.

The record in this case shows that on October 10, 1900, Charles Colston appeared before the Commission at Bartlesville, Indian Territory, and made personal application for the enrollment of himself and his minor children, Mary Susan, Bertha May and Alberty Colston, as citizens by blood, and for the enrollment of his wife, Annie Colston, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings were had in the matter of said application at Bartlesville, Indian Territory, on October 11, 1900, and again at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on March 1, 1902.

The evidence in this case shows that Charles Colston, at the time of this application, was twenty-nine years of age. He is not identified on the Cherokee authenticated roll of 1880. His father having died before this time, his enrollment was entrusted to his grand-father. For reasons which are not explained his name does not appear thereon. Testimony of competent witnesses, called for the purpose of establishing his citizenship, is deemed sufficient to establish his identity as a native Cherokee.

It is further shown by the evidence that the said Charles Colston was lawfully married, in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation, on the 30th day of June, 1893, to one Annie Swank, a white woman. As a result of that marriage Mary Susan, Bertha May and Alberty Colston, were born. Charles Colston and his daughter, Mary Susan, are identified on the Cherokee census roll of 1896. Bertha May Colston was born on October 18, 1897. Alberty Colston was born on August 30, 1900, and both children are identified by certificates of birth made a part of the record herein.

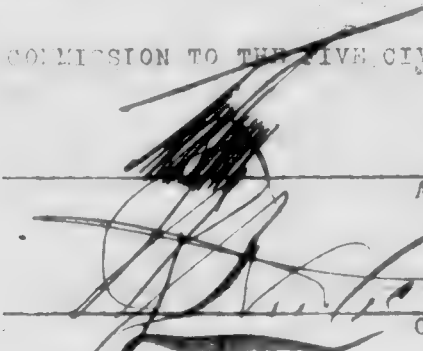

The evidence further shows that Charles Colston has lived in the Cherokee Nation all his life, and was a resident therein on the date of this application. It is considered that the minor children have resided all their lives in the Cherokee Nation. It is further shown by affidavits made a part of the record herein, that his minor child, Alberty Colston, died on the 25th day of January, 1901, and that his wife, Annie Colston, died on the 23rd day of March, 1902.

It is the opinion of this Commission that Charles Colston, Mary Susan Colston and Bertha May Colston, should be enrolled as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is, therefore, so ordered.

It is further ordered by this Commission that the application for the enrollment of Annie Colston and Alberty Colston, be, and the same is, hereby dismissed.

Com'r:--It is shown in an application made to the Dawes Commission in 1897, case No. 613, the same being the application of Wiley B. McElhanev, the same being for himself and family, that a license was issued by the Clerk of Cooweescoowee district for marriage between himself and his wife, as stated by him, on the 10th of December, 1891, and the certificate shows that they were married in accordance with said license by the Rev. G. P. Wilson, on December 13, of the same year. This is filed with the document to which it belongs.

Wiley B. McElhanev- 2.

Com'r Brekinridge:--The applicant applies for the enrollment of himself, his wife and three children: His wife is identified on the roll of 1880 as a native Cherokee. She is likewise identified on the roll of 1894, but not upon the roll of 1896. He explains that her failure to be upon the roll of 1896 was due to illness. He states that she has lived in the Cherokee Nation all her life. She will now be listed upon a doubtful card as a Cherokee by blood, it being desired to hold the case under consideration with reference to the failure to be on the roll of 1896, and for the consideration of any testimony that may be introduced in that connection. The applicant is shown to have married his wife in 1891. He states that they have lived together ever since their marriage, and that neither was previously married. He, as in the case of his wife, is not on the roll of 1896. He will now be listed as a Cherokee by marriage upon a doubtful card for the further consideration of his application. Their three children named in the testimony are all stated to be living at this time. The oldest, Charles A., should be upon the roll of 1896, but he is not upon that roll. For the same alleged reason as that given heretofore. When the applicant shall file with the Commission duly authenticated certificate of the birth of all three of these children, they will be listed for enrollment as Cherokees by blood upon a doubtful card, and the final decision of the Commission will be made known to the applicant at his post office address.

--- 00000000 ---

J. O. Rosson, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the letter of the application of Wiley B. McElhanev for the enrollment of himself as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, and for the enrollment of his wife, Mary E. McElhanev, and his minor children, Charles A., William J., John H., and George S. L. McElhanev, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION.

The record in this case shows that on December 3, 1900, Wiley B. McElhanev appeared before the Commission at Tahlequah, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment of himself as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, and for the enrollment of his wife, Mary E. McElhanev, and his minor children, Charles A., William J., and John H. McElhanev, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings were had in the matter of said application at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on October 21, 1902.

The evidence shows that Wiley B. McElhanev was lawfully married, under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation, on December 13, 1891, to Mary E. Chaney, a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation, duly identified on the authenticated tribal roll of 1880 and the Cherokee strip payment roll of 1894. Their children, Charles A., William J., John H. McElhanev and also George S. L. McElhanev, who has been born since the date of the original application, are all identified by birth affidavits made a part of the record herein.

The evidence further shows that Mary E. McElhanev has lived in the Cherokee Nation all her life, and that her husband has lived with her continuously in said nation since his marriage to her, up to and including September 1, 1902. The minor children herein have lived in the Cherokee Nation continuously since birth.

It is, therefore, the order of this Commission that Wiley B. McElhanev should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage, and that his wife, Mary E. McElhanev, and his minor children, Charles A. McElhanev, William J. McElhanev, John H. McElhanev and George S. L. McElhanev, should be enrolled as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 23, 1898, (30 Stat., 495), and it is so ordered.

COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

Com'r. C. E. Beckinridge: This testimony relates particularly to the enrollment of the applicant's present wife, Nancy Jenkins Patrick and her four children enumerated on Card "D" #553; and also to the enrollment of two of the three children of this woman's second husband, George W. Patrick who are enrolled with him on Straight #4263. These two children on the later card who are enumerated as Mary and Abby; the third child with him on this card is the child of the first wife of George W. Patrick, and is identified as him and the deceased mother of the child on the roll of 1880. The name of the child was identified as John Patrick.

It is shown in a satisfactory manner by the testimony just taken that after the death of George W. Patrick's first wife, Poline Keys, who has been identified with him as his wife on the roll of 1880, he married one Nancy Langley in say 1885; they lived together as husband and wife until say 1887; this Nancy Langley is identified on the roll of 1880 as a native Cherokee; she died in 1887. The marriage between her and George W. Patrick being established now in a satisfactory manner it leaves no doubt as to the right of enrollment of the two children of that marriage, Ida and Alec, who have just been referred to as being on Card #4263.

Now, after the death of this second wife, Nancy Langley, George W. Patrick married the third time, to one Nancy Jenkins: He avers that he was never married except to the three women whose names are here given; and that his last wife, Nancy Jenkins, with whom he is still living and to whom he was married in say 1889 was never married before, both of his previous wives being dead at the time of this marriage, this being established by satisfactory testimony in addition to that of George W. Patrick himself; and this woman being identified as his wife on the roll of 1896, no doubt is entertained of the right of the children of this marriage, whose names are on Card "D" #553 to be enrolled as Cherokees by blood. These children, five in number, are Nancy, Rachel, Kliza, Lucy and Fannie Patrick.

This testimony should complete what is necessary to secure the enrollment of George W. Patrick and all of the children enumerated as Cherokees by blood and his present wife, Nancy Patrick as a Cherokee by adoption.

Copies of this testimony will be placed with both of the cases referred to.

The undersigned, being sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Nancy Patrick as a citizen by intermarriage, and for the enrollment of her minor daughters, Rachel, Eliza, Lucy and Fannie Patrick, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION.

The record in this case shows that on October 9, 1900, George Washington Patrick appeared before the Commission at Bartlesville, and made personal application for the enrollment, among others, of his wife, Nancy Patrick, as a citizen by intermarriage, and of his children, Rachel, Eliza, Lucy and Fannie Patrick, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on February 16, 1901, and on October 14, 1902. The other parties to the application are differently classified and are not embraced in this decision.

The evidence shows that the said Nancy Patrick was lawfully married in 1889 to George Washington Patrick, a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation. As a result of that marriage the minor children, applicants in this case, were born. All of the applicants are identified on the Cherokee census roll of 1896, with the exception of Fannie Patrick, who is identified by a certificate of birth made a part of the record herein.

Nancy Patrick has resided in the Cherokee Nation with her said husband continuously from the date of her marriage to him, up to and including September 1, 1902. It is considered that the minor children, applicants herein, have resided in the Cherokee Nation continuously since their birth.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Nancy Patrick should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage, and that Rachel Patrick, Eliza Patrick, Lucy Patrick and Fannie Patrick, should be enrolled as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

Q How old are you? A About sixty.
Q What is your postoffice? A Tahlequah.
Q In what district do you live? A Tahlequah.
Q Are you a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q By blood? A Yes sir.

Q What is the name of your wife? A Mary J.
Q Is she a citizen by blood? A No sir.
Q When did you marry her? A I married her in Tennessee.
Q Is her name on the roll of 1880? A She's on the roll somewhere. I couldn't say just where.
Q What is her age? A 50.
Q Were you readmitted? A Yes sir.
Q Have you any certificate of admission? A Yes sir.
Applicant presents a certificate issued from the office of the Commission on Citizenship, Tahlequah, September 16, 1884, signed by Eli Spears, President, John Lee and Andrew Young, Commissioners, attested by John L. Adair, Clerk, certifying that one Peter Graybeard was duly admitted to Cherokee citizenship on the 16th day of September, 1884, as a North Carolina Cherokee. The correctness of the copy presented being certified to by J. T. Parks, Executive Secretary of the Cherokee Nation.

Q You always lived in the Cherokee Nation since you were admitted in 1884? A Yes sir.

Q Your wife was married to you at the time you were admitted? A I was married in 1873, back in the States.
Q Your wife wasn't admitted at the time you were? A No sir.

Commissioner Needles-

The name of Peter Graybeard appears upon the Census roll of 1896, and he makes satisfactory proof of his admission to Cherokee citizenship more particularly described in the testimony. The name of his wife, Mary J., appears upon the Census roll of 1896. Her name does not appear in the certificate of admission admitting the said Peter Graybeard. He avers that he was married to her in the year 1873, in the State of Tennessee. They being duly identified, and having made satisfactory proof of his residence, the said Peter Graybeard will be duly listed for enrollment as a Cherokee citizen by blood. By reason of the fact that his wife does not appear in the certificate of admission, final judgment as to the enrollment of his wife, Mary J., as an intermarried white, will be suspended, and her name will be placed upon a doubtful card.

E. J. Rotherberger, being duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he reported in full the testimony and proceedings in the above case, and that the foregoing is a full, true and correct transcript of his stenographic notes in said case.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 13th day of December, 1900.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Mary J. Graybeard as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

D E C I S I O N .

The record in this case shows that on December 13, 1900, Peter Graybeard appeared before the Commission at Tahlequah, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment of his wife, Mary J. Graybeard, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings were had in the matter of said application at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on March 13, 1902; at Tahlequah, Indian Territory, on August 26, 1902, and again at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on October 20, 1902.

The application also included himself, but as he is differently classified, he is not embraced in this decision.

The evidence shows that said Mary J. Graybeard was lawfully married in January, 1873, to Peter Graybeard, who was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation on September 16, 1884.

The Cherokee Supreme Court, in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers, and Melissa Dawson vs. T. A. Dawson, held that a white woman, married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship, acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. The said Mary J. Graybeard is identified on the Cherokee census roll of 1886.

The evidence further shows that the said Mary J. Graybeard has lived with her said husband in the Cherokee Nation continuously since his admission to citizenship, up to and including September 1, 1902.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Mary J. Graybeard should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 26, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
 COMMISSIONER TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of MARY J. GRAYBEARD as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

D E C I S I O N

THE RECORDS OF THIS OFFICE SHOW: That at Tahlequah, Indian Territory, December 13, 1900 application was received by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes for the enrollment of Mary J. Graybeard as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Muskegee, Indian Territory, March 13, 1902, Tahlequah, Indian Territory, August 26, 1902 and at Muskegee, Indian Territory, October 20, 1902 and January 4, 1907. The records further show that on December 10, 1902 the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes rendered its decision herein granting said applicant the right to enrollment as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

THE EVIDENCE IN THIS CASE SHOWS: That the applicant herein, Mary J. Graybeard, is a white woman and neither claims nor possesses any right to enrollment as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation other than such right as she may have acquired by virtue of her marriage to one Peter Graybeard in the State of Tennessee, January, 1873; that the said Peter Graybeard was not at the time of said marriage a recognized citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation and did not become a citizen of said Nation until his admission to citizenship therein by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation on September 16, 1884. Said applicant did not, therefore, marry a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation prior to November 1, 1875. Neither the applicant herein, Mary J. Graybeard, nor her husband, the said Peter Graybeard, can be identified on the Cherokee authenticated tribal roll of 1880.

IT IS, THEREFORE, ORDERED AND ADJUDGED: That the decision rendered by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes December 10, 1902 granting the application for the enrollment of Mary J. Graybeard as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation be rescinded, set aside and held for naught, and that in accordance with the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States dated November 8, 1906 in the case of Daniel Red Bird et al. vs. the United States, Nos. 125, 126, 127 and 128, the said applicant Mary J. Graybeard is not entitled, under the provisions of Section Twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats. 498), to enrollment as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, and her application for enrollment as such is accordingly denied.

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

I have the honor to invite your attention to the enclosed record of Commissioner Bixby in the matter of the application for the enrollment of Mary J. Graybeard as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

Commissioner Bixby reports that the evidence shows that Mary J. Graybeard is a white woman and neither claims nor possesses any right to enrollment as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation other than such right as she may have acquired by virtue of her marriage to one Peter Graybeard in the State of Tennessee in January, 1873; that he was not at the time of the marriage a recognized citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation and did not become a citizen until his admission on September 16, 1884.

The Commissioner found that at the time of the marriage the applicant was not married in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation, and on the strength of the holding of the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of Daniel Red Bird, et al., against the United States he rejected the applicant on February 8, 1907.

It is recommended that his decision be approved.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

The matter of the application for the enrollment of Nancy J. Sall as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION.

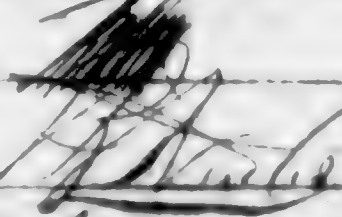

The record in this case shows that on December 7, 1900, James Monroe Sall appears before the Commission at Tanlequin, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment, among others, of his wife, Nancy J. Sall, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were held at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on October 2, 1900. The other parties to the application were either not classified and are not enrolled in this decision.

The evidence shows that the said Nancy J. Sall was married in the State of Tennessee on January 1, 1873, to her said husband James Monroe Sall. The records of the Cherokee Nation in the possession of this Commission, show that the said James Monroe Sall was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, on May 23, 1867. Nancy J.
Sall is included on the Cherokee census roll of 1866. The Cherokee Court, in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers, and William French vs. W. A. Hanson, held that a white woman married to a citizen of the Nation at the time of his admission to citizenship, acquires the rights of Cherokee citizenship.

The evidence further shows that said Nancy J. Sall has lived with her said husband in the Cherokee Nation since his admission to citizenship, and, accordingly, up to and including September 1, 1900.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Nancy
J. Sall should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Article twenty-one of the Act of Congress, approved July 19, 1866, (14 Stat., 497), and the Act of Congress, approved July 19, 1866, (14 Stat., 497), and the Act of Congress, approved July 19, 1866, (14 Stat., 497).

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of NANCY J. HAIL as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

D E C I S I O N

THE RECORDS OF THIS OFFICE SHOW: That at Tahlequah, Indian Territory, December 7th, 1900, application was received by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes for the enrollment of Nancy J. Hail as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Muskogee, Indian Territory, October 8th, 1902 and January 2nd, 1907.

THE EVIDENCE IN THIS CASE SHOWS: That the applicant herein, Nancy J. Hail, is a white woman and neither claims nor possesses any right to enrollment as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation other than such right as she may have acquired by virtue of her marriage to one James Monroe Hail in the State of Tennessee on the 15th day of January, 1878; that the said James Monroe Hail was not at the time of said marriage a recognized citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation and did not become a citizen of said Nation until his admission to citizenship therein by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation about the year 1886. Said applicant did not, therefore, marry in accordance with Cherokee law a citizen of the Cherokee Nation prior to November 1st, 1875. Neither the said applicant, Nancy J. Hail, nor her husband, the said James Monroe Hail can be identified on the Cherokee authenticated tribal roll of 1880.

IT IS, THEREFORE, ORDERED AND ADJUDGED: That in accordance with the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States dated November 5th, 1906 in the cases of Daniel Red Bird, et al. vs. the United States, Nos. 125, 126, 127 and 128, the said applicant, Nancy J. Hail is not entitled, under the provisions of Section Twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28th, 1898 (30 Stats. 495), to enrollment as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, and her application for enrollment as such is accordingly denied.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
OFFICE OF INDIAN AFFAIRS,

WASHINGTON. February 26, 1907.

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

There is enclosed a report from the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes, dated January 30, 1907, transmitting the record relative to the application of Nancy J. Hail for enrollment as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

On December 7, 1900, application was made to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes for the enrollment of Nancy J. Hail as a citizen by intermarriage.

On January 30, 1907, the Commissioner held that the applicant was not entitled to enrollment.

The record shows that the applicant is a white woman who claims the right to be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation by reason of her marriage on January 15, 1875 to James M. Hail, who was not admitted as a citizen by blood of that Nation until 1886.

It is considered that the applicant did not marry a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation prior to November 1, 1875.

In accordance with the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of Daniel Red Bird, et al., vs. the United States, the decision of the Commissioner adverse to the applicant is recommended for approval.

By Com'r Breckinridge,-

It is shown by a certificate of admission cited in the testimony that the applicant's husband was admitted to citizenship with two of his children, by the Cherokee Commission on citizenship on October 5th 1888. She states that she and her husband have lived in the Cherokee Nation since prior to 1880 to the time of his death some three years ago. She is identified with her husband on the roll of 1896. She states that she and her husband lived together from the time of their marriage in 1870 until his death; that she was never previously married; that her husband was once previously married, and that his first wife was dead before his marriage to her, the applicant. It appears from the testimony that one of the children admitted is the child of the former wife and the other the child of the applicant. It is considered well established by personal testimony and as set forth in the evidence that the applicant and her husband were duly married and that she has never married since the death of her husband. She is not mentioned in the certificate of admission with her husband, and it is contended by the Cherokee representatives that unless the wife is mentioned in such a case she is not entitled to enrollment. In this case the applicant is a white woman. She will be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee by adoption on a doubtful card for the further consideration of the contention made by the Representatives of the Cherokee Nation.

SUPPLEMENTAL QUESTIONS ASKED OF APPLICANT BY G. W. HASTINGS:-

Q My attention has been called to the fact that perhaps your husband went by another name other than Martin? A. No sir he always went by the name of Martin.

Q You have known him for thirty years? A. Yes sir.

Q And he has gone by that name ever since? A. Yes sir.

Q As far as you know he has never had any other name but that? A. No sir.

Chas. von Weise, being sworn states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he reported in full all the proceedings in the above cause and that the foregoing is a full, true and correct transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this the 14th of February, 1901.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Sarah J. Martin as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION.

The record in this case shows that on February 12, 1901, Sarah J. Martin appeared before the Commission at Muskogee, Indian Territory, and made personal application for the enrollment of herself as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on March 19, 1902, and on October 13, 1902.

The evidence shows that the said Sarah J. Martin was lawfully married in the year 1870 to Andrew J. Martin, who was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation on October 5, 1868, by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, as shown by the records of the Cherokee Nation in possession of this Commission. No certificate of this marriage is filed, but it appears from the records of the Cherokee Nation in possession of this Commission that Victoria Martin, the issue of said marriage, was admitted with her father, and the said Sarah J. Martin is identified on the 1896 Census Roll of the Cherokee Nation as the wife of Andrew J. Martin.

The Cherokee Supreme Court, in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson, held that a white woman, married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship, acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship.

The evidence further shows that the said Sarah J. Martin lived with her husband in the Cherokee Nation from the date of his admission to citizenship until his death; that she has continued to reside therein; and that she was a resident of said Nation, and had not remarried up to and including September 1, 1902.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Sarah J. Martin should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

A. A man by the name of Johnson.
Q. Did you have a license? A. Yes sir.
Q. Did you get a certificate from Johnson? A. No sir, he got the license at Greensboro, and they didn't give certificates.

(Applicant is identified on the 1896 Census Roll, opposite No. 133.)

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSIONER TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of SARAH J. MARTIN as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

D E C I S I O N

THE RECORDS OF THIS OFFICE SHOW: That at Muskogee, Indian Territory, February 12, 1901 application was received by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes for the enrollment of Sarah J. Martin as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Muskogee, Indian Territory March 19, 1902, October 13, 1902 and January 2, 1907. The records further show that on December 10, 1902 the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes rendered its decision herein granting said applicant the right to enrollment as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

THE EVIDENCE IN THIS CASE SHOWS: That the applicant herein, Sarah J. Martin, is a white woman and neither claims nor possesses any right to enrollment as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation other than such right as she may have acquired by virtue of her marriage to one Andrew J. Martin in the State of Mississippi, February 7, 1870; that the said Andrew J. Martin was not at the time of said marriage a recognized citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation and did not become a citizen of said Nation until his admission to citizenship therein by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation on October 5, 1886. Said applicant did not, therefore, marry a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation prior to November 1, 1875. Neither the applicant herein, Sarah J. Martin, nor her husband, the said Andrew J. Martin can be identified on the Cherokee authenticated tribal roll of 1880.

IT IS, THEREFORE, ORDERED AND ADJUDGED: That the decision rendered by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes December 10, 1902 granting the application for the enrollment of Sarah J. Martin as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation be rescinded, set aside and held for naught, and that in accordance with the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States dated November 5, 1906 in the cases of Daniel Red Bird et al. vs. the United States, Nos. 125, 126, 127 and 128, the said applicant, Sarah J. Martin is not entitled, under the provisions of Section Twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats. -495), to enrollment as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, and her application for enrollment as such is accordingly denied.

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

There is enclosed the record of proceedings in the matter of the application for the enrollment of Sarah J. Martin, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, including the decision of the Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes, dated February 14, 1907, adverse to the applicant.

The record shows that on February 12, 1901 application was received by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes for the enrollment of this applicant as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. The record further shows that on December 10, 1901, the Commission rendered its decision therein granting the application of Sarah J. Martin.

The evidence shows that the applicant is a white woman, and neither claims nor possesses any right to enrollment other than such right as she may have acquired by virtue of her marriage to Andrew J. Martin, in the State of Mississippi, on February 7, 1870; that Andrew J. Martin was not at the time of the marriage a recognized citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and did not become a citizen of that Nation until his admission to citizenship on October 5, 1868. The applicant did not therefore marry a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation prior to November 1, 1875. Commissioner Bixby reports that neither the applicant nor her husband can be identified on the Cherokee authenticated tribal roll of 1880.

Therefore the Office concurs in the decision of Commissioner Bixby that the decision rendered by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes on December 10, 1902, granting the application of Sarah J. Martin as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, be rescinded, and that in accordance with the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, dated November 5, 1906, in the case of Daniel Red Bird, et al., versus the United States, and under the provisions of the Act of June 28, 1898, (30 Stat.L., 495), the application for the enrollment of Sarah J. Martin as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, be denied.

Very respectfully,

C. F. Larrabee,

Acting Commissioner.

Q And you appear to have put her away for highly irregular conduct on her part? A Yes sir.

Commissioner E. F. Inbridge-

The applicant applies for the enrolment of himself, his wife and one child; the child being by a former wife. He is identified as having come to the Cherokee Nation with the North Carolina Cherokees in 1880, and he has lived here ever since. He is also identified on the roll of 1896. He will now be listed for enrolment as a Cherokee by blood. His present wife is shown to have married him in October, 1899. He files a decree of divorce from his former wife, which he states occurred in September, the same year of his present marriage. The decree, however, is without date. In any event, his present marriage is too late under Cherokee law of Dec. 16, 1895 to entitle his present wife to enrolment, and therefore, the application for her enrolment is rejected. He files a license and certificate of marriage as relates to his first wife, Maud, who is shown to have been married to him on the 26th of June, 1897. He states that the child was born in September of the same year, and it appears from the decree of divorce filed in this case, that she was put away for immoral conduct. Clearly, this child cannot be considered as a lawful child, entitled to enrolment at this time, and therefore, the application for the enrolment of his child is rejected.

E. G. Rothenberger, being duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he reported in full the testimony and proceedings in the above case, and that the foregoing is a full, true and correct transcript of his stenographic notes in said case.

In the matter of the application of William E. Thompson for the enrollment of his two minor children Laura Thompson and Albert Fay Thompson.

Argument and Brief of Applicant.

Student

E. F. Parks, Attorney for applicant.

Before the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, Muskogee, I.T.

In the latter of the application of William S. Thompson for the enrollment of his two minor children, Laura Thompson and Albert Kay Thompson.

Statement of Facts.

The testimony in this case shows that the applicant
William S. Thompson is a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation and is by the Commission enrolled as such; that the said William S. Thompson was in June 1897 married to one Maud Camden, a citizen of the United States and that while such marital relations existed, there was born to them a child whose name is Laura Thompson and that thereafter, the said William S. Thompson sued his wife Maud Thompson for a divorce on the grounds of adultery and that on the 14th day of September 1899, a decree of divorce was granted dissolving the bonds of matrimony then existing between William S. Thompson and Maud Thompson; that in October 1899, the said William S. Thompson was married to one India O.
Hathcoat, a citizen of the United States and unto them a child was born, named Albert Kay Thompson and now living.

A R G U M E N T.

The contention of the applicant, William S. Thompson for and in behalf of his two minor children, Laura Thompson and Albert Kay Thompson, is that both of said children are entitled to enrollment owing to the fact that they are the children of a recognized Cherokee man.

Compiled Laws of Cherokee Nation (1899) Constitution, Page 14, Section 5 (last paragraph)

"The descendants of Cherokee men by all free women, except the African race, whose parents may have been living together as man and wife, according to the customs and laws of the Cherokee Nation, shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges of this Nation, as well as the posterity of Cherokee men by all free men."

Amendments to Constitution. Page 22, Section 1. -----
----- "All native born Cherokees, all Indians and whites legally members of the Nation by adoption and all persons wh. have been admitted by the National Council to the same as if born, or who have been admitted to the same as if born, or who have been admitted to the same as if born, in the country at the commencement of the rebellion, and are now residents therein, or who may return within six months from the 19th day of July 1866, and their descendants, who reside within the limits of the Cherokee Nation, shall be taken and deemed to be citizens of the Cherokee Nation."

The child by Paul Thompson, the first wife is a descendant of a Cherokee man by a free woman, being the child of William S. Thompson. The mother of this child, Maud Thompson and the father both say that the applicant is the father although the child was born only about three months after the marriage of these parties.

If there was no statute on this subject the Common law rule would obtain even if the commission should say that this was an illegitimate child.

Supplement to the Revised Statutes of the United States. Vol 1. (1874-1891) Page 898. Section 5. "Determination of descent"

"That for the purposes of determining the descent of land to the heirs of any deceased Indian under the provisions of the fifth section of said act, whenever any male and female Indian shall have co-habited together as husband and wife according to the custom and manner of Indian life the issue of such cohabitation shall be for the purpose aforesaid, taken and deemed to be legitimate issue of the Indians so living together, and every Indian child otherwise illegitimate, shall for such purposes be taken and deemed to be the legitimate issue of the father of such child"

This Section of the Statute of the United States legitimizes this child and the issue follows the father and makes this child a Cherokee Indian. The testimony shows that it is a native born Cherokee and if it is such under the Cherokee Constitution above quoted, it is incumbent upon the Commission to enroll it.

The applicant has been called upon to furnish a certified copy of the decree of divorce giving the date on which the decree was granted. The decree filed herewith does not bear any date, but the certified copy of the Judges Docket herewith filed shows that the decree of divorce was granted on the 14th day of September, 1890. This last certified copy cures that defect. It was simply an oversight of the attorneys representing the applicant that the decree did not bear any date.

The Commission calls upon the applicant to file the Certificate of the Minister or persons authorized to perform marriage ceremonies, that he was married to his present wife. This he cannot do. A certified copy of the license is filed in the case. The minister being dead, it will be impossible to furnish a certificate. It seems that the marriage has been proved sufficiently. The Commission has before it the sworn statements of two eye witnesses, who were present and saw the parties united in marriage, also testimony that they are recognized in the community as husband and wife. This being proved and the date of the decree of divorce from the former wife having been fixed by the certified copy of the Judges Docket in the Court in which the decree was obtained, the last named child Albert Ray Thompson should be by the Commission enrolled as a Cherokee by blood.

Respectfully Submitted.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Inda O. Thompson as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation and for the enrollment of her child Laura Thompson as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION.

The record in this case shows that on December 4, 1900, William E. Thompson appeared before the Commission at Tahlequah, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment of himself and his child, Laura Thompson, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and for the enrollment of his wife, Inda O. Thompson, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. The said William E. Thompson has been differently classified and is not embraced in this decision. Further proceedings were had in the matter of this application at Tahlequah, Indian Territory, on November 29, 1901.

The evidence shows that Inda O. Thompson, a white woman, was married in October, 1899, to William E. Thompson, a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

Section 21, of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 498) provides for the enrollment of Cherokee citizens, "with such intermarried white persons as may be entitled to citizenship under Cherokee laws."

Section 11, of the same Act shows that said rolls are to contain the names of those only who are entitled to share in the lands of the Cherokee Nation, and is as follows:

"That when the roll of citizenship of any one of said nations or tribes is fully completed as provided by law, and the survey of the lands of said nation or tribe is also completed, the Commission heretofore appointed under Acts of Congress, and known as the 'Dawes Commission', shall proceed to allot the exclusive use and occupancy of the surface of all the lands of said nation or tribe susceptible of allotment among the citizens thereof, as shown by said roll, giving to each, so far as possible, his fair and equal share thereof, considering the nature and fertility of the soil, location, and value of same; . . ."

An Act of the Cherokee National Council approved December 16, 1895, provides:

"That from and after the passage of this Act, all non-citizens who may marry Cherokees by blood, Delaware or Shawnee by blood, citizens of the Cherokee Nation, shall acquire by such marriage, no rights of property, lands or money, belonging in common to the Cherokee people of Cherokee Nation, and Chapter XII, Article XVI, Sections 659 to Sec. 669, inclusive pages 329 to 334 of the Compiled Laws of the Cherokee Nation, is hereby amended (so) as to conform to the provisions of this Act, and to vest no other than political rights in persons not of Cherokee, Delaware or Shawnee blood, who may marry Cherokees by blood, Delaware, or Shawnee by blood, who are recognized citizens. And all laws or parts of laws conflicting herewith, are hereby repealed."

Laura Thompson is the issue of a marriage between the said William E. Thompson and a former wife, Naud, to whom he was married in June, 1897. The said Laura Thompson was born in September, 1897, but being born in wed-lock she takes the status of her father, William E. Thompson. She is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

It is the opinion of this Commission that the application for the enrollment of Ida O. Thompson as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation should be denied, and that Laura Thompson should be enrolled as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation, under the provisions of Section 21, of the Act of Congress approved June 26, 1898 (30 Stats., 498), and it is so ordered.

Dear Sir:

Upon an examination of the testimony had in the matter of your application for the enrollment of yourself, your wife, and child as citizens of the Cherokee Nation, it appears that you were married on the 27th day of June, 1897, to one Maud Camden, and that you were thereafter divorced from her. You filed with the Commission a certified copy of the decree of divorce, which decree, however, is without date.

You are requested to furnish the Commission immediately with a certified copy of the decree of the Court granting you a divorce from the said Maud Thompson, nee Maud Camden, showing the exact date on which said divorce was granted.

Please give this matter your prompt attention, as your case cannot be proceeded with until you have supplied the Commission with a certified copy of the decree requested.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

Office of Indian Affairs.

Washington, Dec. 22, 1902.

The Honorable

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

There is transmitted, herewith, the record and proceedings had before the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes in the matter of the application of William E. Thompson for the enrollment of himself and his child, Laura Thompson, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and for the enrollment of his wife, Inda O. Thompson, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

On December 4, 1900, the principal applicant, William E. Thompson, appeared before the Commission and testified in his own behalf and in that of his wife and child. That testimony shows that he has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1880; that he came to the nation with the North Carolina Cherokees and exhibited an official copy of the records of the Cherokee nation showing that he is enrolled among the North Carolina Cherokees who removed to the Cherokee Nation under the Act approved December 3, 1880.

The testimony further shows that he was married to Maud Camden, a white woman, on June 26, 1897; that his child, Laura was born in September 1897; that he only lived with his said wife three months after his marriage and that in October, 1899, he married his present wife, Inda O. Thompson.

Under this evidence Commissioner Breckinridge rendered the following decision, on December 4, 1900:

"The applicant applies for the enrollment of himself, his wife and one child; the child being by a former wife. He is identified as having come to the Cherokee Nation with the North Carolina Cherokees in 1880, and he has lived here ever since. He is also identified on the roll of 1896. He will now be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee by blood. His present wife is shown to have married him in October, 1899. He files a decree of divorce from his former wife, which he states occurred in September, the same year of his present marriage. The decree, however, is without date. In any event his present marriage is too late under Cherokee law of Dec. 16, 1895, to entitle his present wife to enrollment, and therefore, the application for her enrollment is rejected. He files a license and certificate of marriage as relates to his first wife, Maud, who is shown to have been married to him on the 26th of June, 1897. He states that the child was born in September of the same year, and it appears from the decree of divorce filed in this case, that she was put away for immoral conduct. Clearly, this child cannot be considered as a lawful child, entitled to enrollment at this time, and therefore, the application for the enrollment of his child is rejected."

Additional evidence in this case was submitted on November 29, 1902. Also a brief by S. T. Parks, Attorney for the applicants, and afterwards, on September 20, 1902, the commission rendered a decision in said case in which it expressed the opinion that the application for enrollment of Inda O. Thompson as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation should be denied, and that Laura Thompson should be enrolled as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation under the provisions of section 21 of the act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495).

It will be noticed that the commission in its said decision of September 20, 1902, reversed the decision of Commissioner Breckenridge relative to the said Laura Thompson, rendered on December 4, 1900, the result of these two decisions being the admission of the applicant, William E. Thompson, and his said child, Laura Thompson, and the rejection of the application of said Inda O. Thompson.

An examination of the record evidence clearly shows that the decision of Commissioner Breckenridge admitting the said William E. Thompson as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation is correct, and the record further shows that he was legally married to his first wife, Maud Camden; that his said child, Laura Thompson, was born during the time of said lawful wedlock which legitimizes the child for all legal purposes, and the office considers that the decision of the commission rendered September 20, 1902, holding that said Laura Thompson should be enrolled as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation is correct and it further considers that said decision denying the enrollment of said Inda O. Thompson on the ground that her marriage occurred long after December 16, 1895, the date of the approval of the Act of the Cherokee Council which provides that from and after the passage of said act all non-citizens who marry Cherokees by blood, Delaware-s or Shawnees by blood, citizens of the Cherokee Nation, shall acquire by such marriage no rights of property, lands or money belonging in common to the Cherokee people or the Cherokee Nation.

The office therefore respectfully recommends that the decision of the Commission herein be affirmed by the Department.

Very respectfully

W. A. Jones,

Commissioner.

Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskogee, I. T.

Gentlemen:

The Department has considered the case involving the application of William E. Thompson for enrollment of himself and child, Laura Thompson, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee nation, and for the enrollment of his wife, Inda O. Thompson, as a citizen by intermarriage, of the said nation, transmitted with your letter of October 28, 1902, and the letter of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs of December 22, 1902.

It appears, as found in your decision of September 20, 1902, rejecting the application as to Inda O. Thompson because of the act of the Cherokee nation of December 16, 1895, which provides that non-citizens marrying Cherokee citizens thereafter should acquire by such marriage no rights of property, lands, or money of the Cherokee nation (see also section 26 of the act of July 1, 1902, 32 Stat., 716), and holding that William E. Thompson and Laura Thompson should be enrolled, that Inda O. Thompson, a white woman, was married in 1899 to said William E. Thompson, a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation, identified as having come to the Cherokee Nation with the North Carolina Cherokees in 1880 under act of the nation approved December 3, 1880, and having lived there ever since, and also identified on the roll of 1896; that Laura Thompson is the issue of a marriage between said Thompson and a former wife, to whom he was married in June, 1897, and from whom, it is alleged, he procured a divorce in September of the same year on account of immoral conduct on the part of his wife; that Laura was born in September, 1897. You state that having been born in wedlock she takes the status of her father.

Your decision is hereby affirmed. A Copy of the Commissioner's letter is inclosed.

Respectfully,

COM'R RECORDS:--- Herndon L. Randall applies for the enrollment of himself; his present wife, Judie, and a child Viola; He avers that he was married to one Rosetta Weaver in the year 1887, a Cherokee citizen by blood, but makes no satisfactory proof of his marriage. He avers that as a result of said marriage he has one child, Viola May, about seven of age. The name of said Viola is found upon the census roll of 1896. The name of his wife Rosetta is identified upon the census roll of 1896. She can not be identified upon the authenticated roll of 1880, but the indications are that she was a citizen of the Cherokee Nation and child of Joe Weaver, whose name appears upon the authenticated roll of 1880. The names of her mother and sisters appear upon said roll. He avers that he lived with his wife continuously from the time of their marriage until the date of her death. Since her death he has married one Judie Duncan. The name of Judie Duncan is not found upon the authenticated roll of 1880, nor any of the rolls in the possession of this Commission, but the records of this Commission develop the fact that on September 7, 1896 the father of said Judie Duncan applied for the admission of himself and his family, including said Judie, to be admitted to citizenship under the Act of June 10th 1896; said case being #4965, page 339, Docket B., and that said Judie Duncan's application was refused and no appeal was taken; consequently the matter of the enrollment of the said Judie Duncan comes under the provisions of the act of May 31st, 1900, under which Act the Commission is without jurisdiction to receive, consider or make any record of her application for the reason that she is not a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation and duly and lawfully enrolled or admitted as such, and for the further reason that she was refused admittance as stated in the testimony by this Commission in 1896; The papers in the case of Judie Duncan will be forwarded to the Secretary of the Interior when the rolls of the Cherokee Nation are forwarded to him. By reason of the fact that the secretary of the Interior has not yet decided upon the application of Judie Duncan, which will be forwarded to him, final judgment as to the enrollment of her husband, Herndon L. Randall, will be suspended and his name will be placed upon a doubtful card, awaiting the decision of the Secretary of the Interior as to the citizenship of his present wife. If she is not admitted to citizenship, of course, the said Herndon L. Randall will have married out under the laws of the Cherokee Nation.

The name of his child, Viola M., will also be placed upon the doubtful card and final judgment as to her enrollment will be suspended, awaiting further identification of her mother, Rosetta Weaver, upon the authenticated roll of 1880, and it will be necessary for said Herndon L. Randall to file with this Commission satisfactory proof of his marriage to Rosetta Weaver in order to aid in the enrollment of himself.

Now comes the Cherokee Nation by its representatives, Mr. Raugh, and protests against the enrollment of the said Herndon L. Randall, having been placed upon a doubtful card averring that by reason of the laws of the Cherokee Nation his marriage to Judie Duncan he has forfeited his right in the Cherokee Nation.

BY MR. J. L. RAUGH, Cherokee Representative:

Q Who was the mother of Rosetta Weaver? A America.
Q Was she a white woman? A I think so, I never saw her.

Herndon L. Randall, et al---4.

Q Was she married to Rosetta's father? A Yes, sir.
Q Was his former wife living at the time, or do you know?
A I could not tell you.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application of Herndon L. Randall for enrollment as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, and for the enrollment of his child Viola M. Randall as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

D E C I S I O N.

--000--

The record in this case shows that on March 26, 1901, Herndon L. Randall appeared before the Commission at Muskogee, Indian Territory and made application for the enrollment of himself as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, and for the enrollment of his wife Judie Randall, and his child, Viola M. Randall as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation. Judie Randall has been differently classified and is not embraced in this decision.

The evidence in this case shows that Herndon L. Randall testifies that he was married to one Rosetta Weaver in 1887. He presents no competent evidence of his marriage in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation, and it further appears that the said Rosetta Weaver died in May, 1900, and that subsequent to her death the applicant married one Judie Duncan, who possesses no rights of Cherokee citizenship by blood.

Section 21 of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), provides for the enrollment of Cherokee citizens, "with such intermarried white persons as may be entitled to citizenship under Cherokee laws."

Section 74 of the Compiled Laws of the Cherokee Nation (1878) provides:

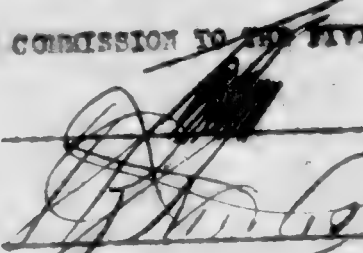

"Should any man or woman, a citizen of the United States or of any foreign country, become a citizen of the Cherokee Nation by intermarriage, and be left a widow or widower by the decease of the Cherokee wife or husband, such surviving widow or widower shall continue to enjoy the rights of citizenship, unless he or she shall marry a white man or woman, or person (as the case may be), having no rights of Cherokee citizenship by blood; in that case, all of his or her rights acquired under the provisions of this act shall cease."

It further appears that Viola M. Randall is the daughter of said Rosetta Weaver, who was the daughter of Joe Weaver, a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation. The name of Rosetta Weaver is not found upon the authenticated tribal roll of 1880, but she lived in the Cherokee Nation all her life, and on an examination of the tribal rolls, in the possession of this Commission, it appears that she is identified on the Strip payment roll of 1894, and the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, as a native Cherokee, and that her daughter, Viola M. is also identified on said rolls as a native Cherokee, and has resided in the Cherokee Nation since her birth.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that whatever rights of Cherokee citizenship Herndon L. Randall may have acquired by his marriage to Rosetta Weaver were forfeited by his marriage to Jodie Duncanson, who possesses no rights of Cherokee citizenship by blood, and that the application of Herndon L. Randall for his enrollment as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation should be denied under the provisions of law above quoted, and it is so ordered.

It is further the opinion of this Commission that Viola M. Randall should be enrolled as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
Office of Indian Affairs,
Washington, July 10, 1901.

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

I have the honor to transmit herewith for the consideration of the Department a memorandum in the matter of the application of Herndon Lee Randall for the enrollment of himself, his wife, Judie Randall and his daughter Viola May Randall, as citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

On a hearing of the application before the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes in Muskogee, I. T., March 26, 1901, the applicant states in his testimony that he was married in 1827 by Joe Smallwood to one Rosetta Weaver, a Cherokee citizen by blood, according to the laws of the Cherokee Nation, and that he left his marriage certificate with the clerk according to the Cherokee law, which requires the clerk to record the same and return it to the owner. (Laws of the Cherokee Nation, 1828, section 44.)

"Every person performing the marriage ceremony, under the authority of a license provided for herein, shall be required to attach a certificate of marriage to the back of the license, and return it to the person in whose behalf it was issued, within thirty days thereafter, placed on file in the office of the principal clerk, every day it shall be so placed on file."

ously with his wife until she died about a year ago last May; and that he has since married on Judie Duncan, a Cherokee woman, but not an enrolled citizen of the nation. At the top of page 2 of the enclosed memorandum, the commission referring to his first wife's mother, asked him these questions:

"Q. Is she still living? A. No, sir; she is dead.

Q. What do you say you suppose she is enrolled as? A. Jessie.

Q. You think Jessie, as enrolled there, is she? A. Yes, sir."

What relevancy these question have to any thing in the testimony preceding is not discernible to the office.

The statement was plainly made by the applicant that he had married Rosetta Weaver, and his statement could be easily verified by an examination of the record required to be kept by the clerk with whom he says he left the certificate and whose duty it is to record it.

The Commission states that his present wife, Judie Randall, and her father, Marion Duncan, and people, were denied enrollment by the Dawes Commission in 1896.

Accepting this statement as a correct quotation from the records, then Herndon Lee Randall married out of the Cherokee Nation;

(Laws of the Cherokee Nation, section 666.)

"Should any man or woman, a citizen of the United States or of any foreign country, become a citizen of the Cherokee Nation by intermarriage, and be left a widow or widower by the decease of the Cherokee wife or husband, such surviving widow or widower shall continue to enjoy the rights of citizenship, unless he or she shall marry a white man or woman, or person, (as the case may be), having no rights of Cherokee citizenship by blood; in that case, all of his or her rights required under the provisions of this act shall cease," and instead of being placed on the doubtful list should be denied enrollment. Had the office the record of the application of the father of Judie Randall nee Duncan, a better understanding of the action of the commission would be obtainable. The Commission quotes from its own records and states that those records show that the names of Viola May and Rosetta Randall are both on the census rolls of 1896.

Accepting these statements as correct quotations from the records, it is difficult to see why the child Viola May Randall should not be enrolled.

If the records referred to contain anything that has a tendency to cast a doubt on the merits of either case, those records should be forwarded to the office to enable it, from an examination of the same, to obtain every important feature of the case.

The law governing the enrollment of Cherokee citizens is found in the Indian Appropriation Act approved May 31, 1900, and reads as follows:

"That said Commission shall continue to exercise all authority heretofore conferred on it by law. But it shall not receive, consider or make any record of any application of any person for enrollment as a member of any tribe in Indian Territory who has not been a recognized citizen thereof, and duly and lawfully enrolled or admitted as such, and its refusal of such applications shall be final when approved by the Secretary of the Interior."

Under the provisions of this law the commission is limited to the question of previous recognition and lawful enrollment as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation.

The judgment of the commission in this case denies enrollment to his present wife, Judie Randall nee Duncan, and the names of the applicants, Herndon Lee Randall and Viola May Randall upon a doubtful card, awaiting the decision of the Secretary of the Interior.

After a careful examination of the memorandum and the Cherokee law bearing on the subject, the conclusion of the office, from the record before it, is that the finding of the commission denying enrollment of Judie Randall, the present wife of the applicant, should be approved; that section 667, above quoted, considered in connection with the action of the Dawes Commission when it decided in 1896 that his present wife was not entitled to enrollment, and therefore, not a citizen, clearly places him beyond the probability of being a citizen entitled to enrollment. Therefore it is recommended that his name be removed from the doubtful list and placed among the number of those who are denied enrollment; further, that as the commission recites the fact that both Viola Randall and her mother, Rosetta Randall, are found upon the census roll of 1896, presumably placed there by the Dawes Commission or the tribal authorities, and that being the necessary requirement of the law of May 31, 1900, it is, therefore, recommended that the name of Viola May Randall, his child by his first wife, who was a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation, be taken from the doubtful list and placed upon the list of those entitled to enrollment as citizens of the Cherokee nation, and that proper notice of these facts be given all parties.

Very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,
V. A. Jones,
Commissioner.

Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskogee, I.T.

Gentlemen:

The Department has considered the application of Herndon Lee Randall for the enrollment of himself, wife and minor child as citizens of the Cherokee Nation. The case was submitted with the Commissioner's letter of July 10, 1901, a copy of which is inclosed.

It appears that Randall was married to Rosetta Weaver, a Cherokee citizen, in 1887, but he has not furnished satisfactory evidence of his marriage; that, as a result of this marriage, is the child Viola for whom he applies; that Rosetta Randall, at the time of the application, had been dead about a year and that Randall had married Judie Duncan for whom he applies.

You stated that the name of Viola is found upon the census roll of 1896, and the name of Rosetta on the census roll of 1894; that she cannot be fully identified upon the authentic roll of 1880; that the name of Judie Duncan is not found upon any roll in the possession of the Commission, and that an application for Judie's admission as a Cherokee citizen was rejected by your Commission in 1896, from which no appeal was taken. You, therefore, acting under the provisions of the act of May 31, 1900 (31 Stat., 221), rejected the application of Judie Randall, and suspended action as to Randall to await the action of the Department in the case of his wife Judie. You stated that if she is not admitted to citizenship, of course Randall "will have married out" under the laws of the Cherokee Nation.

You held as to Viola Randall that final judgment would be suspended awaiting further identification of her mother upon the roll of 1880 and satisfactory proof of Randall's marriage to her mother.

The Commissioner of Indian Affairs quotes the law of the Cherokee Nation, that-or "Should any man or woman, a citizen of the United States of any foreign country, become a citizen of the Cherokee Nation by intermarriage, and be left a widow or widower by the decease of the Cherokee wife or husband, such surviving widow or widower shall continue to enjoy the rights of citizenship, unless he or she shall marry a white man or woman, or person, (as the case may be), having no rights of Cherokee citizenship by blood; in that case, all of his or her rights acquired under the provisions of this act shall cease,"- and holds that Randall's name should be taken from the doubtful list, and that he should be denied enrollment; that Viola Randall's name should be taken from the doubtful list and that she should be enrolled, and that your decision as to Judie Randall should be affirmed.

The Department concurs in his recommendation as to Judie Randall, and the application as to her is rejected. It considers that the Commission was warranted in its action as to Randall and his daughter Viola. Accordingly Randall's application should be rejected by the Commission, and appropriate action should be taken in the case in regard to Viola Randall.

Respectfully,

Thos. Ryan,
Acting Secretary.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

Muskogee, Indian Territory, October 17, 1901.

The Honorable,
The Secretary of the Interior,
Washington, D.C.

sir:

The Commission is in receipt of Departmental letter of September 25, which states:

"The Department has considered the application of Herndon Lee Randall for the enrollment of himself, wife and minor child as citizens of the Cherokee Nation. The case was submitted with the Commissioner's letter of July 10, 1901, a copy of which is enclosed."

The Department treats all of the applications embraced in the foregoing as before it for review; and, after discussing the merits of the respective applicants, refers to the recommendations of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs as follows:

"The Commissioner of Indian Affairs holds that Randall's name should be taken from the doubtful list, and that he should be denied enrollment; that Viola Randall's name should be taken from the doubtful list, and that she should be enrolled, and that the decision as to Judie Randall should be affirmed."

In conclusion,

"The Department concurs in his (the Commissioner of Indian Affairs) recommendation as to Judie Randall, and the application as to her is rejected. It considers that the Commission was warranted in its action as to Randall and his daughter, Viola. Accordingly, Randall's application should be rejected by the Commission, and proper action should be taken in the case in regard to Viola Randall."

The persons referred to appear in the Commission's records as follows:

Cherokee Memorandum Case Number 325 includes only Judie Randall.

Cherokee Doubtful Case Number 1173 includes only Herndon L. Randall and Viola M. Randall.

A further examination of the record shows that on March 26, 1901 application was made for the enrollment of these persons, and that they were tentatively assigned by the examining official into two classes: First, the applicant's present wife, Judie Randall, was listed to be reported to the full Commission as a party who should be refused under the Act of May 31, 1900. Second, Herndon Lee Randall and his child by his deceased wife, the name of which child is Viola May Randall, were in the same tentative manner listed by the examining official in the "doubtful" class.

The field work is necessarily done under such pressure that, as well understood at the time, both of these classifications would have to be reviewed by the Cherokee Division before either of the cases could properly be submitted even to the Commission, and, as shown at the time, the doubtful case was still in a very incomplete condition.

The record further discloses that on May 9, 1901, the Memorandum Case, Number 325, of Judie Randall, the applicant's present wife, was reviewed by Commissioners Needles and Breckinridge; and this case, with a number of other cases of the same character, was at that time, upon such review, reported by the Cherokee

Secretary-----3.

Division to the Commission, with the recommendation that a decision be rendered and entered, refusing the applicants therein enumerated a right to enrollment, in accordance with the Act of Congress approved May 31, 1900.

The foregoing report is shown to have been considered by the full Commission on May 11, 1901, and as respects this case of Judie Randall, as well as many other cases of the same character, the application was "refused by said Commission, in accordance with the following provision of the Act of Congress approved May 31, 1900," at which point the well-known provision of said Act was quoted.

This decision of May 11, 1901 which was duly forwarded to the Department, was the decision the Commission rendered with respect to the Memorandum Case of Judie Randall. The papers which the Department received respecting this case, and which are of date March 26, 1901, are simply accompanying papers; and it is not in them that is to be found any decision rendered by the Commission. They are pertinent and of value at this time only as support to the decision rendered by the Commission May 11, 1901.

As respects the "doubtful" case, Number 1173, of Herndon L. Randall and his deceased wife's child, Viola May Randall, this is still held in the records of the Cherokee Enrollment Division as a doubtful case. It has not yet been reviewed by the Cherokee Division preparatory to its presentation to the Commission for a decision; and consequently, it has not been submitted to the Department for approval or disapproval, the Commission not having rendered any decision thereon, nor had an opportunity to do so.

It may be added that it is not contemplated to refer this doubtful case to the Department until it ceases to be a doubtful case, for in due time, when the case is ready for final consideration, the Commission will be called upon to resolve its doubts and to conclude the case definitely in order to have a "decision" for the Department to approve or disapprove.

This doubtful status is only a preliminary stage and designation of the work of the Commission, internal to itself; and the designation is used only so long as a case may still be in an incomplete state or not ready for definite classification, even as respects its being reported by the Division to the Commission. It might as well be designated "incomplete," or "awaiting classification," or any other similar designation. No doubtful case, therefore, will ever be presented to the Department. It will always be an accepted or a rejected case.

It follows from what has been stated that the names of Herndon L. Randall and of his deceased wife's child, Viola May, only appear in the Judie Randall case, and only appear before the Department, in an incidental manner. As they were all applied for at the same time, it is not possible to eliminate their names from the testimony and proceedings, though what relates to them may not be in any manner pertinent to the merits of the immediate case decided and reported.

Secretary-----5.

In view of the foregoing, it is respectfully requested that the Department cancel its letter of September 25, 1901, except insofar as it approves of the decision of the Commission refusing enrollment to Judie Randall, embraced in Cherokee Memorandum Case Number 325.

Respectfully,

Land

The Honorable

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

There is enclosed letter of the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, dated October 17, 1901, relative to the matter of the application of Herndon Lee Randall for the enrollment of himself, wife and minor child as citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

The Commission explains that it is evident this office and the department did not fully understand the matters in connection with the case which had been passed upon by the commission and by it submitted for Departmental action, explains at length its methods of doing business and calls attention to the fact that the interests of parties whose names have been placed upon doubtful cards, as was done in this case, have not been passed upon by it, and consequently are not in shape for submission to the Department. In other words, this office made recommendations and the department acted on matters which were not ready for submission and which the Commission did not intend to submit.

This office has noted the points made in the letter and recommends that the request therein set forth be complied with.

Very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

November 29, 1901.

Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskogee, I.T.

Gentlemen:

May 18, 1901, (as shown by endorsement on jacket) there was no letter of transmittal), the Commission transmitted the memorandum "in the matter of the application of Herndon Lee Randall for the enrollment of himself and child as citizens of the Cherokee Nation."

The jacket is marked "Memorandum in the matter of the application for enrollment of Judy Randall." It was stated by Commissioner Needles in the beginning of the decision attached to the memorandum, that "Herndon L. Randall applies for the enrollment of himself, his present wife, Judie, and a child Viola." An opinion was expressed therein as to the rights of each applicant mentioned.

On September 25, 1901 the Department stated that it had "considered the application of Herndon Lee Randall for the enrollment of himself, wife and minor child as citizens of the Cherokee Nation."

The Department did not concur in the views of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs holding that "Randall's name should be taken from the doubtful list, and that he should be denied enrollment; and that Viola Randall's name should be taken from the doubtful list; and that she should be enrolled, and that the decision as to Judie Randall should be affirmed, " except as to Judie Randall. It was stated that the department concurred in the recommendation of the Commissioner as to Judie Randall, and the application as to her was rejected; that it consider the Commission was warranted in its action suspending application as to Mr. Randall and his daughter, Viola; that Randall's application should be rejected by the Commission and proper action by the Commission should be taken in the case in regard to Viola Randall.

In your letter of October 17, 1901 you stated that the Commission only intended to submit the case of Judie Randall, and you are advised that the Department so understood, though what appeared to be the decision of the Commission involved to a considerable extent the rights of the other individuals mentioned in the application. The copy of the "decision" of May 11, 1901, was not before the Department.

You enter into a lengthy statement as to the complex manner in which the claims of these parties were considered by the Commission, and as to how it anticipated submitting the cases of Herndon Randall and Viola Randall, and request that departmental decision "be canceled except insofar as it approves of the decision of the Commission refusing enrollment to Judie Randall."

The Department rendered a decision as to Judie Randall only and while it stated that Herndon L. Randall's application should, apparently, be rejected by the Commission, it anticipated that the memorandum in that case would in due time be submitted to the Department, as also that in the matter of Viola Randall, in regard to which, as above stated, it was said that proper action should be taken by the Commission. The Department, therefore, sees no reason to "cancel" any portion of its letter.

A copy of the Commissioner's letter of November 26, 1901, transmitting your communication of October 17th, in which he recommends that your request be granted, is inclosed.

Respectfully,

Thos. Ryan,

Acting Secretary.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,

Office of Indian Affairs.

Washington, Dec. 22, 1902.

The Honorable

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

There is transmitted herewith, the record and proceedings had before the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes in the matter of the application of Herndon L. Randall for the enrollment of himself as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee nation, and for the enrollment of his wife, Judie Randall and his child Viola M. Randall, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

On September 26, 1902, the commission rendered a decision in said case finding that the application of the said Herndon L. Randall for enrollment as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation should be denied and further finding that his said daughter, Viola M. Randall, should be enrolled as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation.

The record facts are fully set out in said decision, as follows:

"The record in this case shows that on March 26, 1901, Herndon L. Randall appeared before the Commission at Muskogee, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment of himself as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, and for the enrollment of his wife Judie Randall, and his child, Viola M. Randall, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee nation. Judie Randall has been differently classified and is not embraced in this decision."

The evidence in this case shows that Herndon L. Randall testifies that he was married to one Rosetta Weaver in 1887. He presents no competent evidence of his marriage in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation, and it further appears that the said Rosetta Weaver died in May, 1900, and that subsequent to her death the applicant married one Judie Duncan, who possesses no rights of Cherokee citizenship by blood.

Section 21 of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), provides for the enrollment of Cherokee citizens, 'with such intermarried white persons as may be entitled to citizenship under Cherokee laws.'

Section 74 of the Compiled Laws of the Cherokee Nation (1875) provides:

'Should any man or woman, a citizen of the United States or of any foreign country, become a citizen of the Cherokee Nation by intermarriage, and be left a widow or widower by the decease of the Cherokee wife or husband, such surviving widow or widower shall continue to enjoy the rights of citizenship, unless he or she shall marry a white man or woman, or person (as the case may be), having no rights of Cherokee citizenship by blood; in that case, all of his or her rights acquired under the provisions of this act shall cease.'

It further appears that Viola M. Randall is the daughter of said Rosetta Weaver, who was the daughter of Joe Weaver, a citizen by blood of the Cherokee nation. The name of Rosetta Weaver is not found upon the authenticated tribal roll of 1880, but she lived in the Cherokee Nation all her life, and on an examination of the tribal rolls, in the possession of this Commission, it appears that she is identified on the Strip payment roll of 1894, and the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, as a native Cherokee, and that her daughter, Viola M. is also identified on said rolls as a native Cherokee, and has resided in the Cherokee Nation since her birth.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that whatever rights of Cherokee citizenship Herndon L. Randall may have acquired by his marriage to Rosetta Weaver were forfeited by his marriage to Judie Duncan, who possesses no rights of Cherokee citizenship by blood and that the application of Herndon L. Randall for his enrollment as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation should be denied under the provisions of law above quoted, and it is so ordered.

It is further the opinion of this Commission that Viola M. Randall should be enrolled as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered."

A review of the record evidence by the office shows that the facts as alleged therein clearly support the finding of the commission as aforesaid.

The office therefore recommends that said decision be approved and affirmed by the Department.

Very respectfully,

W. A. Jones,

Commissioner.

Gentlemen:

October 28, 1902, you transmitted the record in the matter of the application for enrollment of Herndon L. Randall as a citizen by intermarriage, of the Cherokee Nation, and for enrollment of his wife Judie Randall, and his child Viola M. Randall, as citizens by blood, of said nation. It is stated in your decision of September 20, 1902, that Judie Randall has been differently classified and is not embraced in this decision.

The evidence shows that Herndon L. Randall in 1887 married Rosetta Weaver whose name is on the strip payment roll of 1894 and the Cherokee census roll of 1896, as a native Cherokee; that Viola M. Randall is the daughter of Rosetta and Herndon L. Randall, and that she is also identified on said rolls as a native Cherokee, and has resided in said nation since her birth; that subsequent to the death of his said wife Herndon L. Randall married one Judie Duncan who "possesses no rights of Cherokee citizenship by blood." You held that Viola M. Randall should be enrolled, and that Herndon L. Randall forfeited his rights of Cherokee citizenship by his marriage to Judie Duncan. See section 74, Compiled Laws of the Cherokee Nation (1878).

 Q. What is the name of your third husband? A. Johnson Riley.
 Q. What is the name of your present husband? A. [unclear]

- Q. Is he a Cherokee? A. Muchie.
- Q. Was your first husband a Cherokee? A. Half breed Cherokee.
- Q. Was your second husband? A. Full blood.
- Q. Third husband? A. Johnson Riley.
- Q. Was he a Cherokee? A. Cherokee. Old settler, I told you.
- Q. Were you embraced in the application which was made by L. Jerry Fleetwood and others in 1896 for admission to citizenship? Did you make application at that time with Mr. Fleetwood for citizenship? A. My brother did.
- Q. He made it for you? A. He made it for me.
- Q. Is L. Jerry Fleetwood your brother? A. Full brother. He raised me.
- Q. Was this boy embraced in that application? A. Ed Riley.
- Q. You had him in the application too? A. Yes, sir.
- Q. How long have you been named Rowland? A. I have been married to him 20 years. I have got two sons grown.

The Cherokee rolls of 1880, 1883, 1886, 1890, 1894 and 1896 examined and neither the applicant or her child are identified thereon.

Examination by Mr. Hastings.

- Q. In the Creek nation? A. Yes, sir.
- Q. Where was this young man born? A. Born in the Cherokee nation.
- Q. Do you know when he was born? A. 1877.

The records of the Commission made in accordance with the act of Congress approved June 10th, 1896, fails to disclose that the applicant applied to the Commission under her present name for the admission of herself and child to citizenship in the Cherokee nation under the provisions of said act.

Examination by the Commission.

- Q. When your brother, L. Jerry Fleetwood, made application in 1896 for the admission of himself and others to citizenship was the name of your son embraced in that application as well as your own? A. He wrote me it was. He said he put all our names down.

It appears from the records of the Commission made in accordance with the act of Congress approved June 10th, 1896, that L. Jerry Fleetwood and others filed application for admission to citizenship of the Cherokee nation, under the provisions of said act, with the Commission on the 7th day of September, 1896. That the answer of the Cherokee nation was filed thereon and that on November 24th, 1896, L. Jerry Fleetwood and others, among whom appears Frank Johnson, were admitted to citizenship as citizens by blood of the Cherokee nation. It further appears that an appeal was taken to the United States court for the Northern District of Indian Territory and on the 10th of November, 1899 the court rendered its decision and declared that certain persons, including L. Jerry Fleetwood and others, were entitled to enrollment as citizens by blood of the Cherokee nation. An examination of the list of the persons so admitted fails to disclose that the applicant in this case, Prusa Johnson, was admitted to citizenship by the court on appeal. Neither does it appear that she was denied citizenship by the court. Upon examination of the original papers filed with the Commission when that application was made, it is found that certain persons were admitted by the Commission but that their names do not appear in the original application now on file in the office of the Commission. Among the persons so admitted and who are not embraced in the original application, appears the name of Prusa Johnson. No where among the papers filed in the L. Jerry Fleetwood case does the name of Ed Riley appear. Nor does his name appear in the petition for appeal to the United States Court for the Northern District of Indian Territory.

- Q. Have you some grandchildren that you want to apply for?
A. I had four of them. I only got two now.
Q. You want to make application for them? A. Yes, sir.
Q. What is the name of the oldest grandchild? A. Thomas Riley.
Q. Is he living? A. Yes, sir.
Q. How old is he? A. He is 15 years old.
Q. What is the name of the next child? A. Susan Arline Riley.
Q. Is her name Riley? A. That is what they gave her, the name Riley.
Q. How old is she? A. 14.
Q. What is the name of the next child? A. There is two more. Their step mother took them. I haven't got them.
Q. They are living with their step mother? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Where are they living? A. I can't think of the place.
Q. You don't know where they are? A. No, sir.
Q. When did you see them last? A. It has been about 7 years ago.
Q. If you don't know anything about the whereabouts of these children we can't permit you to make application for them.
Q. These two children Thomas and Susan Arline, are they living?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Where are they living? A. Living with me.
Q. How long have they lived with you? A. Ever since their father and mother died.
Q. What was the name of the father of Thomas Riley? A. His name I told you was Joe Cox.
Q. Joe Cox is the father of Thomas Riley? A. No.
Q. That is what you said? A. Yes, sir; Joe Cox is the father.
Q. Who is the father of Susan? A. Same father.
Q. Who is the mother of these children? A. Susie Gardiner.
Q. Is she living or dead? A. She has been dead ever since Arline was a baby. I raised them.
Q. Was Susie Gardiner a white woman? A. She tried to prove up she was a Greek. She never took it through.
Q. Was she a Cherokee? A. No, sir.
Q. I can't see how these children are your grand children if the father was Joe Cox. A. He was my son.
Q. He is dead? A. Yes, sir; been dead about 8 years.
Q. He was your son? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Have you ever drawn any money for these two children Thomas and Susan? A. No, sir.

The tribal rolls of the Cherokee nation examined and the children Thomas Riley and Susan A. Riley do not appear of record thereon.

It appears in the matter of the application of Prues L. Johnson that no application was ever made for the admission of her grandchildren, Thomas Rilet and Susan A. Riley, to citizenship in the Cherokee nation.

Prues L. Rowland applies for the enrollment of herself, her son, Ed Riley, and two grand children, Thomas Riley and Susan A. Riley, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee nation.

None of the applicants are identified upon any of the tribal rolls of the Cherokee nation now in the possession of the Commission. It appears, however, that the applicant in chief was admitted to citizenship by the Commission in 1896, together with L. Jerry Fleetwood, et. al., and that neither her name nor the names of her child or grandchildren were embraced in the original application now on file with this Commission.

None of the applicants are identified upon any of the tribal rolls now in the possession of this Commission.

The applicant avers that she and her child and grand children have always lived in the Indian Territory. By reason of the fact that none of the applicants are identified upon the tribal rolls of the Cherokee nation now in the possession of the Commission, and for the further reason that the principal applicant appears to have been admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee nation by the Commission in 1896, final judgment as to their application will be suspended and their names will be placed upon a doubtful card.

Jesse O. Carr, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case and that the foregoing is a true and correct transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this ... day of July, 1902.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Pruea L. Rowland, Ed Riley, Thomas Riley, and Susan A. Riley, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

D E C I S I O N.

—oOo—

The record in this case shows that on June 27, 1902, Pruea L. Rowland appeared before the Commission at Muskegee, Indian Territory, and made personal application for the enrollment of herself, her son, Ed Riley, and her minor grand-children, Thomas and Susan A. Riley, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

The evidence shows that the said Pruea L. Rowland is a Cherokee by blood; that the said Ed Riley was twenty-three years of age at the date of the application herein; that he is the son of the said Pruea L. Rowland, and that Thomas and Susan A. Riley are the minor children of Joe Cox, deceased, who was the son of the said Pruea L. Rowland. None of the applicants herein are identified on any tribal roll of the Cherokee Nation now in possession of the Commission. From the records of the Commission it appears that the applicant, Pruea L. Rowland, under the name of Pruea Johnson, was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, as a Cherokee by blood, by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes under the Act of Congress, June 10, 1896 (29 Stats. 321), and no appeal taken therefrom.

The evidence shows that the said Pruea L. Rowland has resided in the Creek Nation since her admission to citizenship.

It does not appear from the evidence in this case that the said Ed Riley, Thomas Riley and Susan A. Riley have ever been enrolled by the tribal authorities of the Cherokee Nation; neither does it appear that they, or either of them, have ever been admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the legally constituted authorities of said Nation; nor does it appear that they, or either of them, have ever been admitted to citizenship in the said Nation by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court in Indian Territory, in accordance with the provisions of the Act of Congress, June 10, 1896 (29 Stats. 321).

The Act of Congress of May 23, 1900 (31 Stats., 221), provides

"That said Commission shall continue to exercise all authority heretofore conferred on it by law. But it shall not receive, consider, or make any record of any application of any person for enrollment as a member of any tribe in Indian Territory who has not been a recognized citizen thereof, and duly and lawfully enrolled or admitted as such, and its refusal of such applications shall be final when approved by the Secretary of the Interior."

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Fruen L. Rowland should be enrolled as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 20, 1898 (30 Stats., 496), and it is so ordered.

It is further the opinion of the Commission that Ed Riley, Thomas Riley and Susan A. Riley are not citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and duly and lawfully enrolled or admitted as such; and that, pursuant to the provisions of the Act of Congress, May 31, 1900 (31 Stats., 281), said Commission is without authority to receive, consider, or make any record of their application for enrollment as citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

Acting Chairman.

Commissioner.

Commissioner.

Dated at Muskogee, Indian Territory,
this October 10th 1908

Cherokee D 1353.

citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

Gentlemen:

I concur in the decision of the other members of the Commission, of this date, in so far as the decision admits to enrollment Prusa L. Rowland, and denies enrollment to Thomas Riley and Susan A. Riley, and dissent from their decision denying enrollment to Ed Riley for the reason that, at the time his mother was admitted to citizenship in 1896, he was a minor, and hence acquired the same rights that she did. He has done nothing since then to forfeit those rights.

Commissioner

The Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes.

Dated at Muskogee, Indian Territory,

this October 10th 1908.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,

Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,

Muskogee I. T. October 21, 1902.

In the matter of the application of Prusa L. Rowland for the enrollment of herself only as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation.

Protest of the Cherokee Nation.

Cherokee D. 1353.

The Cherokee Nation dissents from the opinion of the Honorable Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes rendered in the matter of the application of Prusa L. Rowland for the enrollment of herself only as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation rendered on October 10, 1902 and respectfully asks that the record in said case be forwarded to the Honorable Secretary of the Interior for Review.

The attention of the Honorable Secretary of the Interior is invited to the record made in this case under the act of June 10, 1896.

The record in this case shows that on June 27th 1902 the application herein was made and that the applicant Prusa L. Rowland had ~~fixed~~ resided without the limits of the Cherokee Nation for twenty years previous to the date of making said application, and one question involved in this case is whether a person can be a resident of the Creek Nation and not connected with the Cherokee Nation or Tribe of Indians and retain her citizenship in the Cherokee nation.

Attention is called to the act of Congress entitled "An Act to provide for the allotment of the lands of the Cherokee Nation and for the disposition of Townsites therein, and for other purposes," Approved July 1st 1902, and ratified by the legal voters of the Cherokee nation on August 7th 1902 which contains the following provision:

"Sec 1. The words "Nation" and "TRIBE" shall each be held to refer to the Cherokee Nation or Tribe of Indians in Indian territory."

"Sec 26. The roll of citizens of the Cherokee Nation shall be made as follows: ... and the names of those then living and entitled to enrollment on that date shall be placed on said roll by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes."

"Sec 27. Such rolls shall in all other respects be made in strict compliance with the provisions of section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28th 1898 (Thirtieth Statutes page four hundred and ninety five), and the act of Congress approved May thirty-first, nineteen hundred (Thirty-first statutes, page two hundred and twenty-one.)"

Section twenty-one of the act of Congress approved June 28th 1898 contains the following provision:

"No person shall be enrolled who has not heretofore removed to and in good faith settled in the Nation in which he claims citizenship."

It will therefore be observed that the word "Nation" as used in said paragraph nine of section twenty-one of the act of Congress of date June 28, 1898 is especially defined in section one of the act of July 1st 1902 as herein before quoted to mean the "Cherokee Nation" and it will be noted that section twenty-~~one~~ seven provides that the rolls shall in all other respects be made in strict compliance with the provisions of section twenty one of the act of June 28th 1898 and taking these different sections together we do not see how under the law the Commission is justified in the enrollment of any person who has not heretofore removed to and in good faith settled in the Cherokee Nation, this being the Nation in which this applicant Prues L. Rowland claims citizenship, and as the testimony and the decision in this case shows that the applicant has resided without the limits of the Cherokee nation for the past twenty-~~three~~ years, we submit that Prues L. Rowland is not entitled to be enrolled as a citizen of the Cherokee nation under existing law.

The record in this case shows that Eljerry Fleetwood and others made application to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes in 1896 for admission under the act of June 10, 1896 and on November 24th 1896 an entry appears to have been made on the docket showing that ~~Eljerry Fleetwood and others~~ Eljerry Fleetwood and others among whom appears the name of the applicant who was then Prues Johnson, ~~xxxx~~ showing that they were admitted as citizens of the Cherokee nation by blood. The record shows that an appeal was taken to the United States Court for the Northern District of the Indian Territory and a decision was thereafter rendered by said court declaring that certain persons including Eljerry Fleetwood and others were ~~admitted to citizenship~~ admitted as citizens of the Cherokee Nation by blood and the record shows that the name of this applicant was not included in the list of persons admitted by the Court on appeal.

The record in this case also shows that this applicant was not an applicant before the Commission in 1896, that her name is not included in the list of persons who applied to the Commission in the original applications in the year 1896 but that the only time the name of the applicant herein appears is upon the docket of the Commission.

The Cherokee nation therefore contends that the applicant Prues L. Rowland was not an applicant before the Commission in 1896 and that she should not now be enrolled as a citizen of the Cherokee nation.

We submit that for the reasons above stated and because the applicant Prues L. Rowland has not removed to and in good faith settled in the Cherokee Nation, "THE NATION IN WHICH SHE CLAIMS CITIZENSHIP", she is not entitled to be enrolled as a citizen of the Cherokee nation.

Respectfully Submitted,

W. W. Hoostings
Attorney for the Cherokee Nation.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
OFFICE OF INDIAN AFFAIRS,
WASHINGTON, Dec. 20, 1902.

The Honorable

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

There is transmitted herewith the record and proceedings had before the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes in the matter of the application of Pruea L. Rowland, for the enrollment of herself, her son Ed Riley and wards, Thomas Riley and Susan A. Riley, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

On October 10, 1902, the Commission rendered its decision therein as follows:

"The record in this case shows that on June 27, 1902, Pruea L. Rowland appeared before the Commission at Muskogee, Indian Territory, and made personal application for the enrollment of herself, her son, Ed Riley, and her minor grandchildren, Thomas and Susan A. Riley, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

The evidence shows that the said Pruea L. Rowland is a Cherokee by blood; that the said Ed Riley was twenty-three years of age at the date of the application herein; that he is the son of the said Pruea L. Rowland, and that Thomas and Susan A. Riley are the minor children of Joe Cox, deceased, who was the son of the said Pruea L. Rowland. None of the applicants herein are identified on any tribal roll of the Cherokee Nation now in possession of the Commission. From the records of the Commission it appears that the applicant, Pruea L. Rowland, under the name of Pruea Johnson, was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, as a Cherokee by blood, by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes under the Act of Congress, June 10, 1896 (29 Stat., 321), and no appeal taken therefrom.

The evidence shows that the said Pruea L. Rowland has resided in the Creek Nation since her admission to citizenship.

It does not appear from the evidence in this case that the said Ed Riley, Thomas Riley and Susan A. Riley have ever been enrolled by the tribal authorities of the Cherokee Nation; neither does it appear that they, or either of them, have ever been admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the legally constituted authorities of said Nation; nor does it appear that they or either of them, have ever been admitted to citizenship in the said nation by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court in Indian Territory, in accordance with the provisions of the Act of Congress, June 10, 1896 (29 Stat., 321).

The Act of Congress of May 31, 1900, (31 Stat., 221), provides:

'That said Commission shall continue to exercise all authority heretofore conferred on it by law. But it shall not receive, consider, or make any record of any application of any person for enrollment as a member of any tribe in Indian Territory who has not been a recognized citizen thereof, and duly and lawfully enrolled or admitted as such, and its refusal of such applications shall be final when approved by the Secretary of the Interior.'

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Pruea L. Rowland should be enrolled as a citizen byblood of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stat., 495), and it is so ordered.

It is further the opinion of the Commission that Ed Riley, Thomas Riley and Susan A. Riley are not citizens of the Cherokee Nation and duly and lawfully enrolled or admitted as such; and that pursuant to the provisions of the Act of Congress, May 31, 1900, (31 Stat., 221), said Commission is without authority to receive, consider, or make any record of their applications for enrollment as citizens of the Cherokee Nation."

Commissioner Breckinridge dissents from said decision as follows:

"I concur in the decision of the other members of the Commission, of this date, in so far as the decision admits to enrollment Pruea L. Rowland, and denies enrollment to Thomas Riley and Susan A. Riley, and dissent from their decision denying enrollment to Ed Riley for the reason that, at the time his mother was admitted to citizenship in 1896, he was a minor, and hence acquired the same rights that she did. He has done nothing since then to forfeit those rights."

Section 21 of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stat., 495), provides in part that

"The Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes is authorized and directed to take the roll of Cherokee citizens of eighteen hundred and eighty (not including freedmen) as the only roll intended to be confirmed by this and preceding Acts of Congress, and to enroll all persons now living whose names are found on said roll, and all descendants born since the date of said roll to persons whose names are found thereon; and all persons who have been enrolled by the tribal authorities who have heretofore made permanent settlement in the Cherokee Nation whose parents by reason of their Cherokee blood have been lawfully admitted to citizenship by the tribal authorities, and who were minors when their parents were so admitted."

It appears that it is the latter part of this provision that Commissioner Breckinridge thinks applicable to the application of Ed Riley for enrollment as a Cherokee citizen. Said provision is somewhat obscure and the plain intent thereof is not readily deciphered from the language used.

The recital that

"And all persons who have been enrolled by the tribal authorities who have heretofore made permanent settlement in the Cherokee Nation" would seem to make one class of persons entitled to enrollment for all the elements necessary to citizenship are enumerated therein i.e. tribal enrollment and residence.

The office does not consider that it was the intention to further stipulate that such ^{person} parents must also have been admitted to citizenship by tribal authority as Cherokees by blood and if this is a correct view, then it is evident that another class was to be provided for, and the office considers such to be the proper construction of the laws. To make the law plain and to meet the views of the office it should read as follows:

"And all persons who have been enrolled by the tribal authorities who have heretofore made permanent settlement in the Cherokee Nation, and all persons, whose parents, by reason of their Cherokee blood have been lawfully admitted to citizenship by the tribal authorities, and who were minors when their parents were so admitted."

Under this interpretation of said provision the said Ed Riley is entitled to be enrolled as a Cherokee citizen and the office so holds.

The record further shows that the Cherokee Nation protests against the enrollment of Pruea L. Rowland, first, on the ground that the said Pruea L. Rowland had resided without the limits of the Cherokee Nation for twenty years previous to her application on June 27, 1902, and supports the same by citing Section 1 of the Act of Congress approved July 1st, 1902, and ratified by the legal voters of the Cherokee Nation on August 7th, 1902, which provides

"The words 'nation' and 'tribe' shall each be held to refer to the Cherokee Nation or tribe of Indians in Indian Territory," and claiming that under this section the provisions of section 21 of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (31 Stat., 495) providing "No person shall be enrolled who has not heretofore removed to and in good faith settled in the nation in which he claims citizenship" must necessarily mean just what it says and that the applicant in order to be enrolled must have removed to and in good faith settled in the Cherokee Nation.

In its letter of December 13, 1902, (I.T.D. 7538-1902) relative to the application of Ezekiel C. McLaughlin for enrollment as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, the Department rendering its decision therein, passed upon this question as follows:

"The nation protests, claiming that as the act of June 28, 1898 (30 Stat., 495), provides that

'No person shall be enrolled who has not heretofore removed to and in good faith settled in the nation in which he claims citizenship' and in view of certain provisions in the act of July 1, 1902, (32 Stat., 716), your Commission is not authorized to enroll the applicant. December 3, 1902, the Commissioner of Indian Affairs reporting in the matter, recommended that your decision be concurred in.

On April 2, 1901, in regard to the rights of Sam Mahardy in the Seminole Nation, the Department agreed with you that the word "person" in said section of the act of June 28, 1898, should not be understood to include a citizen of our tribe residing within the limits of another tribe in the Indian Territory in which he does not hold citizenship.

The Department finds nothing in the act of July 1, 1902, warranting a different construction of said section of the act of June 28, 1898, and it therefore hereby affirms your decision."

This decision of the Department is applicable to the protest herein - hence the office holds that said protest is not well taken. The Nation makes the further protest that the applicant's name is not included in the list of persons admitted by the Court on appeal. There would seem to be no force in this protest for the reason that the absence of her name from the court records would indicate that the Nation was satisfied with the action of the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes on November 24, 1896, admitting said applicant as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and did not appeal from the decision of the Commission in her case.

It is therefore considered by the office that the decision of the Commission herein admitting to enrollment Bruce L. Powland and denying enrollment to Thomas Riley and Susan ^{A.} Riley is correct but the office considers that the said Ed Riley is entitled to be enrolled as a citizen of the Cherokee nation and that the decision of the Commission denying same should be set aside and recommends that such be the decision of the Department.

W. A. Jones,

Commissioner.

The Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, Muskogee, Indian Ter.,

Sirs:

The Department has considered the case involving the application of Pruea L. Rowland for the enrollment of herself, her son Ed Riley, and wards Thomas R. and Susan A. Riley, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, transmitted by your letter of October 30, 1902.

In a decision signed by Mr. Bixby and Mr. Needle, of your Commission, it was held that Pruea L. Rowland should be enrolled as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation but that Ed Riley, her son, and Thomas and Susan Riley, her grandchildren, were not entitled to enrollment. Mr. Breckinridge, of the Commission, concurs in the decision of the other members as to the enrollment of Pruea L. Rowland and the denial of enrollment to Thomas and Susan Riley, but dissents from said decision in so far as it denies enrollment to Ed Riley, "for the reason that at the time his mother was admitted to citizenship in 1896, he was a minor and hence acquired the same right that she did." The Commissioner of Indian Affairs discussed the case in full in his report of December 20, 1902, transmitting the record to this Department, and in conclusion said: "It is therefore considered by the office that the decision of the Commission herein, admitting to enrollment Pruea L. Rowland, and denying enrollment to Thomas Riley and Susan A. Riley is correct, but the office considers that the said Ed Riley is entitled to be enrolled as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation and that the decision of the Commission denying the same should be set aside, and recommends that such be the decision of the Department."

The Department, after examining the records and testimony, concurs in the views expressed by the Indian Office and affirms your decision in so far as it approves the application of Pruea L. Rowland and denies the applications of Thomas and Susan A. Riley. Said decision, in so far as it denies the application of Ed Riley, is hereby set aside and it is directed that said application be allowed and said Riley be enrolled as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation.

Very respectfully,

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

Office of the Assistant Attorney-General,

October 10, 1905.

The secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

I received by reference of September 12, 1905, with request for my opinion thereon, the motion for review of departmental decision of January 24, 1903, in cases of Thomas Riley and Susan A. Riley, minors, applicants for enrollment as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

The application was made by Pruea Rowland for enrollment of herself, her minor son, Ed Riley, and her orphan grandchildren, Thomas and Susan A. Riley, living with her, who were children of her son Joe Cox, who died in 1894. The mother of the children, a Creek, or non-citizen of the Cherokee Nation, died at birth of the younger one of them, in 1868. Their children were born in the Cherokee Nation and had never been outside the Territory. Joe Cox was son of Joseph Cox, Pruea's former husband, who was a half-blood Cherokee, and was killed during the war of the rebellion. Pruea Rowland herself was half-blood Cherokee, daughter of a full-blood Cherokee mother and English father.

The Commission to the wife Civilized Tribes enrolled the principal applicant, Pruea Rowland. It found that her living son Ed Riley and child en of her deceased son Joe Cox, the minors in question, did not appear to be enrolled by the tribal authorities, nor to have been admitted to citizenship by the tribal authorities, or by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court under the act of June 10, 1896 (29 Stat., 321)

Ed Riley, Thomas Riley, and Susan Riley are not citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and duly and lawfully enrolled or admitted as such; and that, pursuant to the provisions of the act of Congress, May 31, 1900 (31 Stat., 221), said Commission is without authority to receive, consider, or make any record of their application.

The Department held that Ed. Riley, being a minor at his mother's admission in 1896, acquired the same rights that she did, and was entitled to be enrolled; but affirmed the decision of the Commission as to the minor grandchildren Thomas and Susan A.

I am of opinion that the decision was erroneous in so far as it excluded the grandchildren. They were of Cherokee blood, born to a Cherokee citizen in the nation and to its allegiance. They had never forfeited their citizenship. Their parents being dead, the grandmother with whom they lived stood in loco parentis, and was their nearest living ancestor. They were therefore within the rule applied in case of Ella E. Tynes, subject of my opinion of April 16, 1904, wherein I expressed the opinion that:

The admission of the grandparent, who, by death of his child, the parent, stands as parent to the orphan grandchild, must have the same effect, it not appearing that the parent had lost right to citizenship and enrollment.

I am therefore of opinion that the review should be allowed.

October 16, 1905.

Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskogee, Indian Territory.

Sir:

March 30, 1905, there was filed with the Department a motion for a review of departmental decision dated January 24, 1903, (I.T.D. 7989-1902), prepared in the office of the Assistant Attorney-General for this Department in the matter of the application of Pruea L. Rowland for the enrollment of herself, her son, Ed Riley, and her minor grandchildren, Thomas and Susan A. Riley, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, wherein the Department held that Pruea L. Rowland and her son, Ed Riley, were entitled to enrollment, and denied the enrollment of the two minor grandchildren, Thomas Riley and Susan A. Riley.

Said motion for review was by the Department on September 12, 1905, referred to the Assistant Attorney-General for this Department, with request for his opinion thereon, and in an approved opinion dated October 10, 1905, (I.T.D. 7989-1902), he held that departmental decision of January 24, 1903, denying enrollment of the two minor grandchildren, Thomas and Susan A. Riley, was erroneous, and that in accordance with his opinion in the case of Ella E. Tyner , a minor, rendered April 16, 1904, said grandchildren, Thomas and Susan A. Riley, were entitled to enrollment, and that the motion for review should be allowed.

In accordance with the said opinion of the Assistant Attorney-General dated October 10, 1906, the Department hereby grants the motion for review of departmental decision dated January 24, 1903 (I.T.D. 7989-1902), and directs the enrollment of Thomas Riley and Susan A. Riley as citizens by blood of the Cherokee nation.

A copy of said opinion is forwarded through the Indian Office.

By the Commission:

The applicant, Mrs Annie Nelson claims as a Cherokee by descent through her former husband, William McLain; her former husband, William McLain is duly identified on the rolls of 1827 and 1835; he is said to have died May 2nd, 1861; the said Mrs. Annie Nelson, who is now living in the Cherokee Nation, is the daughter of the said William McLain, and she is identified as such by the said Herman Vann, who is living in the Cherokee Nation, and who is the present husband of the said Mrs. Annie Nelson. It is further stated that the said Mrs. Annie Nelson is the daughter of the said William McLain, and she is identified as such by the said Herman Vann, who is living in the Cherokee Nation, and who is the present husband of the said Mrs. Annie Nelson.

tified widow or widower shall continue to enjoy rights of citizenship, unless he or she shall marry a white man or woman, having no rights to Cherokee citizenship by blood; in this case, all of his or her rights, held under the provisions of this act shall cease". Adding on the first paragraph of Section 21, of the Curtis Bill, this Commission is ordered to include upon the rolls only such ~~persons~~ intermarried white persons as may be entitled to citizenship under the Cherokee Laws. It is clear from the testimony that this ~~applicant~~ has forfeited her rights as a Cherokee citizen, by her last marriage, and her application for herself is rejected.

Now she also makes application for two children by her former marriage, Beulah May McLain and Charley Martin McLain. As aforesaid, the father is duly identified on the rolls of 1880, 1894 and 1896; Beulah May McLain is identified on the roll of 1896; and this woman is identified on the roll of 1896 as being at that time the wife of her alleged deceased husband: She is desired to procure a certificate from the Minister or official who married her and her former husband, and to supply this Commission with a copy of that Certificate, or in the event of her inability to get that certificate, she is desired to supply this Commission with other written testimony from well known Cherokee sources, of the fact of her marriage to her alleged husband, and of her having lived with him until he died. She is desired also to supply this Commission with a duly authenticated certificate of birth of her youngest child, Charley Martin McLain, who is too young to be on any of the rolls. For the present, awaiting this testimony, in part, the application she makes for these two children will be placed upon a White Card, and the decision of the Commission held in abeyance. Her present husband testifies to the essential facts of her former marriage, but it is desired to have the additional evidence indicated, if practicable.

R. R. Cravens, being sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he reported the foregoing case, and that the above and foregoing is a true, full and correct transcript of his stenographic notes in said case.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of Beulah M. McLain and Charley M. McLain, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

RECITALS.

The record in this case shows that on August 10, 1900, Annie Nelson appeared before the Commission at Sallisaw, Indian Territory, and made application for the enrollment of her two minor children, Beulah M. McLain and Charley M. McLain, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation. The application also included Annie Nelson, but she is differently classified and is not embraced in this decision. Further proceedings were had in the matter of said application at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on August 8, 1902.

The evidence in this case shows that the applicants are the children of said Annie Nelson and one William McLain, a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation, to whom the said Annie Nelson was married on January 9, 1894. Beulah M. McLain is identified on the Cherokee census roll of 1898. Charley McLain is identified by a birth affidavit made a part of the record herein.

The evidence further shows that William Nelson, the father of said children, resided in the Cherokee Nation up to the time of his death, May 1, 1898, and that his wife, Annie, the mother of the children, lived with him from the date of their marriage up to the date of her husband's death, and from that time up to 1900, when it appears she removed to the Chickasaw Nation with her said children where she has since resided. It is considered therefore that said Beulah M. and Charley M. McLain, have resided in Indian Territory since their birth.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that Beulah M. McLain and Charley M. McLain, should be enrolled as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 491), and it is so ordered.

okee Nation, and have never lived out.

Com'r Breckinridge: The applicant applies for the enrollment of herself, husband and three children; she is identified on the rolls of 1880 and 1896 as a native Cherokee; she has lived in the Cherokee Nation all her life and she will be listed now for enrollment as a Cherokee by blood.

One of the children is a step-child, being a child of her husband's by a former wife, and the name of this child is Edna Deems; the mother of the child, now deceased, is identified upon the roll of 1880 as a native Cherokee, and the child is identified on the roll of 1896; it is a minor and is now living, and this child Edna Deems will now be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee by blood.

The child Willee Whitewater, is a child of the applicant's by a man with whom she lived for some years as his wife, though she denies that she was married to him; she had never been previously married, and he appears to have been married several times, and all of his former wives were not dead, nor was he divorced from them.
This child is identified on the roll of 1894, but not upon the roll of 1896; it is living now and derives its right through its mother and will be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee by blood; when a certificate of birth is supplied of the birth of the child Russell
S. Stout, a child of the applicant's by her present husband, this child also will be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee by blood.

Her husband is shown to have married a Cherokee wife by the license and certificate filed herewith, Eliza Deems, in accordance with Cherokee law in 1889; after her death he married his present wife, who is a Cherokee woman, but in addition to her having married Whitewater, from whom she separated and from whom she has never secured a divorce, she also lived as a wife with a man named Henson and she is enrolled with him and under his name in 1896; she has never secured a divorce from Henson; the applicant's husband is not identified on the roll of 1896; the application for his enrollment will be placed upon a doubtful card, for further consideration, it appearing probable that by his present marriage he has lost the right that he acquired under his first marriage; the final decision of the Commission will be made known to him at his post-office address.

M. D. GREEN, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case and that the foregoing is a true

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of James R. Stout as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION.
-----o:-----

The record in this case shows that on October 30, 1900, Martha Stout appeared before the Commission at Claremore, Indian Territory, and made personal application for the enrollment, among others, of her husband, James R. Stout, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of this application were had at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on March 8, 1902, June 5, 1902, and October 2, 1902. The other parties to the application are differently classified, and are not embraced in this decision.

The evidence shows that James R. Stout, a white man, was lawfully married, under authority of a Cherokee marriage license, on January 2, 1889, to Eliza Deems, a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation. Eliza Deems died in 1892. The name of James R. Stout cannot be found on the Cherokee Census Roll of 1896.

Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), provides for the enrollment of Cherokee citizens, "with such intermarried white persons as may be entitled to citizenship under Cherokee laws".

Section 666 of the Compiled Laws of the Cherokee Nation (1892) is as follows:

"Should any man or woman, a citizen of the United States, or of any foreign country, become a citizen of the Cherokee Nation by intermarriage, and be left a widow or widower by the decease of the Cherokee wife or husband, such surviving widow or widower shall continue to enjoy the rights of citizenship, unless he or she shall marry a white man or woman, or person, (as the case may be), having no rights of Cherokee citizenship by blood; in that case, all of his or her rights acquired under the provisions of this act shall cease".

The evidence in this case shows that James R. Stout secured rights of Cherokee citizenship through intermarriage with his first wife, Eliza Deems, and that subsequent to her death he married his present wife, Martha, a Cherokee citizen by blood.

The evidence further shows that said James R. Stout lived continuously in the Cherokee Nation with his first wife until her death, and continued to live therein until his marriage to his present wife, and was a resident from said marriage up to and including September 1, 1902.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that James R. Stout should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

In the matter of the application of Mary Parker for the enrollment of herself and children as Delawares, and her husband as a Cherokee by intermarriage; being sworn and examined by Commissioner Breckinridge through John Secondine, a duly sworn interpreter, she testified as follows:

- Q Give me your full name, please? A Mary Parker.
Q How old are you? A 35.
Q What is your post office? A Chelsea, I. T.
Q In what district do you live, Cooweescoowee? A Yes, Cooweescoowee.

Q Have you got a husband? A Yes, sir.

Q That is about 32 years, isn't it? A Yes.
Q Have you been married more than one time? A I have been married twice.

Minnie Parker on 1896 roll, page 380, No. 510, Cooweescoowee district.)

Q Why wasn't your husband enrolled in 1896? A I don't know.

The applicant applies for the enrollment of herself, her husband and six children. She is identified on the rolls of 1880 and 1896 as an adopted Delaware. She has lived in the Cherokee Nation some thirty-two years, and she will be listed now for enrollment as an adopted Delaware. Of her six children, the first four named in the testimony are identified with her on the roll of 1896, they are living now, and will be listed for enrollment as Cherokee-Delawares. When the Commission is supplied with certificates of birth of the two younger children, Elmer and Bertha Parker, they also will be listed for enrollment as Cherokee-Delawares.

Her husband, George Parker, is shown to have married her in accordance with Cherokee law in 1888. She states that they have lived together ever since. She testified that he is a Sioux Indian. He is not identified on the roll of 1896, and the applicant is unable to establish at this time the fact of her having been lawfully divorced from her first husband, Joe Hill, to whom she was married nearly 20 years ago, and who died some four years ago. For the further consideration of the application for the enrollment of George Parker, and to await official evidence of a lawful divorce having been obtained between the applicant and her first husband, Joe Hill, George Parker will now be classed as a Cherokee by intermarriage upon a doubtful card, and the final decision of the Commission will be made known to him at his post office address.

Bruce G. Jones, being duly sworn, says that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the proceedings and testimony in the above case, and the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

In the matter of the application of GEORGE PARKER for enrollment as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION.

The record in this case shows that on November 19, 1900, Mary Parker appeared before the Commission at Chelsea, Indian Territory, and made personal application for the enrollment, among others, of her husband, George Parker, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on March 11, 1902, and March 28, 1902, and again on September 27, 1902. The other parties to this application are differently classified, and are not embraced in this decision.

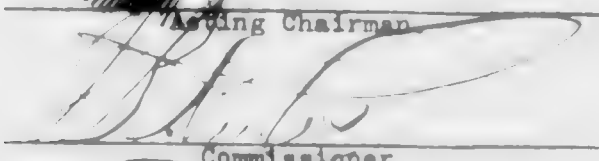

The evidence shows that on July 14, 1888, the applicant, a non-citizen, was lawfully married, under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation, to Mary Hill, nee Bigfield, a Cherokee citizen of Delaware blood. The maiden name of said Mary Parker was Mary Bigfield, and her name is given in the marriage license as Mary Bigknife. She was once previously married to one Joseph Hill, from whom she was legally divorced prior to her marriage to said applicant.

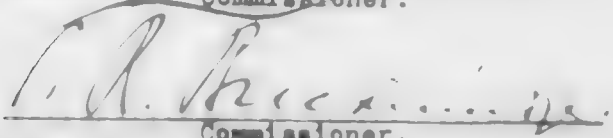

The said Mary Parker is identified as an adopted Delaware on the 1880 authenticated roll of the Cherokee Nation by her maiden name; and also as an adopted Delaware on the 1896 Census roll of said Nation. It further appears that the applicant has resided in the Cherokee Nation continuously, with his said wife, from the time of his said marriage in 1888 up to and including September 1, 1902.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that George Parker should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898, (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

D. 1017.

Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskogee, I.T., April 5, 1902.

In the matter of the application of Joel J. Morton for the enrollment of himself, wife and children as citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

Applicant represented by I. P. Bledsoe, Chouteau, I.T.
Cherokee Nation represented by W. F. Hastings.

The applicant was notified by registered letter February 26, 1902, that his application for the enrollment of himself, wife and children as citizens of the Cherokee Nation would be taken up for final consideration by the Commission at its offices in Muskogee, Indian Territory, on the 14th day of March, 1902. On said date the case was continued by agreement, the applicant having appeared by his agent, I. P. Bledsoe, to March 21, 1902, and on the 21st day of March the case was again continued by agreement until the 5th day of April, 1902.

SIMON R. WALKINGSTICK, being first duly sworn, testified as follows:

MR. BLEDSOE: State your name? A Simon R. Walkingstick.

Q Age? A 35.

Q Where do you live? A Muskogee.

Q Are you a Cherokee Indian by blood? A Yes, sir.

Q Upon the rolls of the Cherokee Nation I suppose? A Yes, sir, on all the rolls.

Q Were you ever elected to any office in the Cherokee Nation, Mr. Walkingstick? A Yes, sir, I have held the position of auditor of accounts and senator from Goingsnake District for two terms.

Q You are now acting with the Commission in the capacity of clerk here? A Yes, sir.

Q When were you a member of the senate of the Cherokee Council?

A I think from the fall of 1895 till 1897.

Q You were there then during the making of the census roll of 1896?

A Yes, sir.

Q Were you a member also of the senate committee from Goingsnake District? A Yes, sir.

Q I would like for you to make a statement to this Commission?

A Yes, sir. You have reference to revising the Goingsnake roll? Yes, sir. I would like for you to make a statement to this Commission in regard to revising those rolls? A Why as I remember --

Q Was there any report made by you as a member of that senate committee to the National Council? A Yes, sir, that is my recollection, that after the rolls were revised by this committee consisting of the members and senators from the district that a report was made to the National Council of all the names of the citizens in that district who were entitled to be enrolled as citizens of Goingsnake district.

Q And those that were not entitled were stricken from that roll?

A Yes, sir, that is my recollection.

Q Were you a member of the council in 1894? A No, sir, I wasn't elected till in August, 1895.

Q Well, was there any separate list of names made and entered upon record of those that were admitted outside of the roll itself by that council? A I can't remember anything much about it. Just as I see, those rolls as made by the census-takers were referred to our committee, and we passed on all the names, and the roll as reported for that district is just what you will find on the rolls that the Commission has here now.

Q Do you recollect the name of Joel J. Morton coming before you as a committeeman?

MR. HASTINGS: Now I object to that because the record will show that.

COMMISSION: Answer the question.

A Why I don't know that I do, but I am satisfied we had his name before the Committee and my recollection is that one Ned Foreman, a member of the council was the one that seemed to know about him.

MR. HASTINGS: Well, is he living, Ned Foreman? A I think so; we just had oral testimony, I don't know that we even reduced it to writing so far as that goes.

MR. BLEDSOE: Well, upon the testimony before you you put his name upon the roll? A Yes, sir, that is my recollection.

MR. HASTINGS: The council refused to confirm that roll of 1886? A Yes, sir, I think they did.

~~XXXXXXXXXX~~ Q There was considerable discussion after these different committees reported back? A Well, as I remember it it was something like this: I for one, I remember distinctly, was in favor of passing an act authenticating the rolls, but other members, in fact the majority of them, didn't seem so disposed, there was no action taken, and the council adjourned.

Q There was considerable discussion as to whether it should be authenticated or not wasn't there? A Yes, sir, and from the fact that the majority of the senate was not satisfied with those rolls is the reason that no action was taken? A Yes, sir, that is a fact.

T. J. WELCH, being first duly sworn, testified as follows:

MR. BLEDSOE: State your name? A T. J. Welch.

Q How old are you? A I will soon be 52.

Q Postoffice? A Whitmire is my colstest.

Q Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q You live in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know one Joel J. Morton? A Yes, sir.

Q How long have you known him, Mr. Welch? A Ever since 1885 I think.

Q Has he been living in the Cherokee Nation ever since you have known him? A Ever since I knew him.

Q Do you know whether he is an Indian by blood or not?

MR. HASTINGS: How do you know it yourself? A I know he claims to be; I couldn't swear whether he was or not.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSIONER TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

The letter of the application of Joel J. Morton for the above listed himself and his minor children, Robert L., Grover C., William H., Mary B. and Flossie Morton, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and for the enrollment of his wife, Laura Morton, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

The record in this case shows that on December 18, 1900, Joel J. Morton appeared before the Commissioner at Tahlequah, Indian Territory, and made personal application for the enrollment of himself and his minor children, Robert L., Grover C., William H. and Mary B. Morton, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and for the enrollment of his wife, Laura Morton, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings in the matter of said application were had at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on April 5, and October 25, 1902, and on October 31, 1902, a birth affidavit was filed for Flossie Morton, a fifth child of the applicant.

The evidence shows that the said Joel J. Morton, also known as Jack Morton, is a Cherokee by blood; that he is identified on the 1890 pay roll of the Cherokee Nation as J. J. Morton, on the 1894 strip payment roll by the name of Jack Morton, and he is identified on the Cherokee census roll of 1896 as a native Cherokee. His wife, Laura, a white woman, was married to him on April 13, 1890, and the above named children are the issue of that marriage. Laura Morton and her four older children are identified on the Cherokee census roll of 1896. Flossie Morton is identified by a birth affidavit made a part of the record herein.

The evidence further shows that the said Joel J. Morton has resided continuously in the Cherokee Nation since 1886, and that he and his wife, Laura, have been living together ever since they were married. Their minor children are considered to have resided in said nation all their lives.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that the said Joel J. Morton, Robert L. Morton, Grover C. Morton, William H. Morton, Mary B. Morton and Flossie Morton, should be enrolled as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and that Laura Morton should be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), and it is so ordered.

A My father, I would have to say he did.

Q You knew he was doing this for you all the time? A Oh yes sir.

Q You were known as John D. Kelly Jr. were you not? A Yes sir.

Attorney Hutchings: We desire to introduce in evidence the report of the Special Master regarding that marriage that entitles to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, and the decision of the United States Court for the Northern District ~~of~~ confirming that report, and likewise affirming the decision of the United States Commission rejecting Mr. Kelly, and reading as follows:

"Judgement of the United States Commission rejecting Mr. Kelly affirmed, and application of the claimants in this case to be enrolled as citizens of the Cherokee Nation is denied."

Com'r Needles: It appears from the record of this Commission that J. D. Kelly applied to the Dawes Commission in 1896, to be admitted as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, and the records of this Commission further show that the application of the said John D. Kelly was denied, and the records further show that said John D. Kelly appealed from the decision of the Dawes Commission to the United States Court within the Northern District of the Indian Territory, and that the decision of the Dawes Commission was affirmed by said United States court. According to the opinion of the Attorney General of the United States as now practiced, and according to the decisions of this Commission, the judgment rendered against John D. Kelly is final, and the Commission now has no powers to admit him to citizenship.

The name of the wife of John D. Kelly, to-wit: Susan E., is found upon the authenticated rolls of the Cherokee Nation of 1860, which is conclusive as to her rights to citizenship, and she is therefore ordered enrolled as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation and her name placed upon the rolls now being made by this Commission; she is also identified as being upon the roll of 1896, as per page and number of enrollment stated in the testimony.

The children of Susan E. Kelly, to-wit: Gertie, Effie, Minnie ~~M~~ are identified as her children, and being upon the rolls of the Cherokee Nation of 1896, identified by page and number as stated in the evidence herein taken, they are ordered to be enrolled as citizens of the Cherokee Nation and their names to be placed upon the rolls now being made by this Commission.

Mannah Kelly and Joseph E. Kelly, children of said Susan E. Kelly, having been born since the rendition of the rolls, will be placed upon the rolls of citizenship when the necessary proof of their birth is made and submitted to the Commission, blanks for which purpose will be furnished the applicant.

Satisfactory proof being made that said Susan E. Kelly and said children have resided and are actual residents of the Cherokee Nation.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the application for the enrollment of John D. Kelly as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation.

DECISION.

The record in this case shows that on July 19, 1900, John D. Kelly appeared before the Commission at Fairland, Indian Territory, and made personal application for the enrollment, among others, of himself as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation. Further proceedings were had in the matter of said application at Muskogee, Indian Territory, on October 8, 1902. The other parties to the application are differently classified and are not embraced in this decision.

The evidence shows that the said John D. Kelly was lawfully married, under authority of a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation, on June 29, 1880, to Susan E. Cary, a native Cherokee, who is identified on the 1880 authenticated tribal roll of the Cherokee Nation. The said John D. Kelly is identified on the 1896 census roll of the Cherokee Nation.

The evidence further shows that John D. Kelly has lived with his said wife continuously in the Cherokee Nation since 1880, up to and including September 1, 1902.

From the records of the Commission it appears that the applicant, John D. Kelly, in connection with his father and others, filed his original petition, under the Act of Congress June 10, 1896, (29 Stats., 321), with the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes for admission as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation, which was denied by the Commission; that an appeal was taken from the decision of the Commission to the United States Court in Indian Territory, Northern District, and that the decision of the Commission was sustained by said Court.

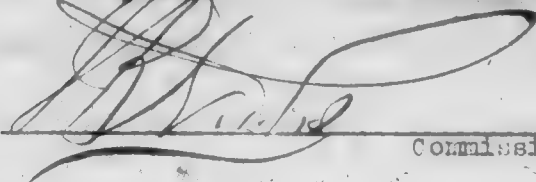

It is the opinion of this Commission that the applicant's right to enrollment as an intermarried Cherokee is not prejudiced by the denial of his application for admission as a citizen by blood, under the provisions of the said Act of June 10, 1896, (29 Stats., 321), and that the said John D. Kelly should, therefore, be enrolled as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation, in accordance with the provisions of section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved
